ASK 58 MILLION FOR NEW DEAL IN DEFICIENCY BILL

Most of It Goes to Security Board.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Jan. 21.—[Special.]—Appropriations totaling $58,200,000 were recommended to the house today by the committee on appropriations to carry into effect new laws enacted at the last session, notably the social security act, which alone will consume more than 42 millions of the total amount.

The bill containing the appropriations is a substitute for the appropriation bill killed by the late Huey Long's filibuster in the closing hours of the 1935 session. But the appropriations have been slashed since that August day. The reductions total 43 millions, a saving to the taxpayer which he may credit to the Louisiana senator, although the filibuster was conducted for an entirely different purpose.

Urge Speedy Passage.

The committee urged speedy passage of the bill so that such New Deal agencies as the social security board, national labor relations board, railroad retirement board, and bituminous coal commission may swing into action.

The appropriation of $1,250,000 to put the "hot potato" act into effect was also urged with the notation that that amount should be sufficient to care for potato crop situations in February and March and that more money can be asked for after the potato act has been amended to meet the storm of criticism which has fallen upon it.

The largest single purpose of the bill is the appropriation of funds to carry into effect the social security act. The amount recommended for the various agencies involved is $42,664,500, about two-thirds of the total.

Approximately 56 millions in all must be appropriated to carry out new laws passed at last year's session, the committee reported. Some of these laws set up new agencies and others clothed old agencies with new powers.

Urge 92 Million for Cotton.

The committee also included a recommendation that a section of the bill making available some 90 million dollars to cotton growers be approved by congress. When the Supreme court invalidated the agricultural adjustment act in the Hoosac mills case the fund set up for 1935 cotton payments was no longer legally available, it was explained, although the growers had carried out their part of the contract.

UNSIGNED BONUS ACT?

Washington, D. C., Jan. 21.—(AP)—An influential group in congress today contemplated a joint appeal to President Roosevelt to let the new bonus bill become a law without either signing or vetoing the measure—as permitted by the constitution.

They studied in the interim the question of appropriating funds for the huge outlay. An apparently growing disposition to attach an appropriation to a pending deficiency bill was tempered by doubts that an accurate estimate of the amount needed could be obtained in time.

Proponents of a proposal to pay the bonus with "new money" indicated they would make the inflation fight when the appropriation effort was started.

The bill itself awaited house action to approve changes made by the senate yesterday in passing the bill by a stampede vote of 74 to 16. The house was scheduled to take final action tomorrow.

What President Roosevelt will do remained unknown.

Gov. Merriam, California, Aged 70, to Take Bride, 66

Riverside, Cal., Jan. 21.—(AP)—Gov. Frank F. Merriam filed notice of intention to wed today, appearing at the county clerk's office with Mrs. Jessie Stewart Lipsey of Long Beach. He gave his age as 70, and she wrote 66.

LONG'S FACTION LEADS IN VOTE IN LOUISIANA

Allen Is Ahead for Seat in Senate.

New Orleans, La., Jan. 21.—(AP)—Gov. O. K. Allen late tonight claimed a "stupendous victory" for the late Huey P. Long's candidates in Louisiana's Democratic primary and called it a "positive disapproval of the Roosevelt New Deal and its alphabetical slush fund."

His statement came after these returns were compiled:

Governor—365 precincts of 1,575 [250 from New Orleans]: Judge Richard Leche [supporter of Long], 116,331; Congressman Cleveland Dear [anti-Long], 42,349.

Vote on Senate Fight.

Unexpired senate term of Long—75 country precincts: Gov. Allen [Long], 4,722; Frank Looney [anti-Long], 2,603; Irving Ward-Steinman [independent], 79.

Full senate term—75 country precincts: Allen Ellender [Long], 4,429; John Sandlin [anti-Long], 2,701; Irving Ward-Steinman [independent], 53.

A little earlier Judge Leche had declared the vote so far indicated the "greatest landslide in the political history of Louisiana," adding that he was grateful for the "complete vindication" of the late Senator Long.

Calls It "Share Wealth" Victory.

Allen said the share our wealth movement started by Long had "proved its power in its first elective test" and that "this mighty mass movement promises to sweep America in future elections as it has Louisiana in this one."

The governor charged that "millions upon millions" of New Deal money and "thousands upon thousands" of federal jobs had been used against the administration candidates in the "most highly organized and hostile patronage program in our history."

The election today was marked by bloodshed, charges of "fraud," and a record vote as Louisianans wrote with ballots their verdict on the state's late "dictator."

Other Long Candidates Lead.

The Long candidates were leading elsewhere in the state, with only scattered returns from country precincts. Many parishes [counties] announced the votes would not be announced until tomorrow.

Earl Long, brother of Senator Long, led Clement Moss [anti-Long] 1,343 votes to 748 in the race for lieutenant governor with 22 country precincts reporting.

Supreme Court Race.

In the important Supreme court race, which may swing the balance of power in the state's highest tribunal from the Long to the anti-Long side, Amos Ponder [Long] was leading W. Carruth Jones [anti-Long] 158 to 118 votes in reports from four of the 234 precincts in the Fifth district.

The anti-Long faction indicated it would have no comment on the situation until tomorrow brings more conclusive figures on the country vote.

Returns came in slowly from the country parishes, where balloting was still going on two hours after the regular closing time at 7 p. m. Attorney General Gaston L. Porterie ruled that all persons inside the voting barriers at that time should be permitted to vote.

Worker Is Shot.

A shooting in a French quarter precinct here and the ejection of federal "observers" from voting places at Lake Charles enlivened an otherwise comparatively quiet election day.

Efforts to arbitrate disputes between Long and anti-Long forces in New Orleans collapsed.

The Democratic primary in which ballots were cast is tantamount to election in Louisiana. The state and local party nominees numbering about 3,000 are to be ratified at a general election on April 21.

A senator to succeed Long for the unfinished term will be ratified then, but the nominee for the regular senate term and the eight Louisiana house members will enter the general election in November.

The French quarter shooting occurred after a general fight at the first precinct of the fifth ward here. A man listed as Gene Gill, 35 years old, who police said was a poll worker for the Allen-Long administration machine, was shot twice as he emerged from the voting booth after the fight. A man booked as "Whitey" Schultz, 34 years old, surrendered.

100 AT ALCATRAZ LOCKED UP FOR CALLING STRIKE

San Francisco, Cal., Jan. 21.—(AP)—Prisoners at Alcatraz Island, the government prison in San Francisco bay, refused to work today and Warden James A. Johnston promptly had about 100 men locked in their cells and in solitary confinement.

"Agitators" were blamed by Warden Johnson, who said there "was nothing serious and nobody was hurt."

The warden declined to disclose names of the prisoners involved.

Woman Is Hurt a Bit, but Saves Home from Flames

When Mrs. Julia Markle, 58 years old, 1217 Lee street, Evanston, discovered a fire in her basement yesterday, she shouted to neighbors to call the fire department. Then attaching a garden hose, Mrs. Markle fought the blaze until firemen arrived. She incurred a few minor burns. Fire Chief A. N. Hofstetter praised her courage and enterprise, which saved the house from serious damage.

New Formula Stops Pain of Dentist's Drill

New York, Jan. 21.—[Special.]—A formula whereby a patient may sit in a dentist's chair without squirming in pain while the dentist drills at his teeth tonight was given free to the world by its discoverer, Dr. Le Roy L. Hartman, professor of dentistry in the Columbia university school of dental and oral surgery.

Dr. Hartman disclosed the formula to 3,000 dentists and announced it would be available for use within 24 hours. He said a large drug manufacturing company began work tonight on the preparation of large quantities of the Hartman solution for distribution to dentists through the dental depot at a cost of 75 cents to $1 for a one-half ounce bottle. He added this was half the cost of what it would have been if the patent on the formula had been taken up.

His "Contribution to Humanity."

Dr. Hartman revealed his formula at a special joint meeting of the First and Second Districts Dental Societies of the State of New York. At the close of his address the dentists resembled a rush hour crowd at the bargain counter of a large department store when Dr. Hartman announced that mimeographed copies of the formula and directions for its use would be distributed free of charge.

"This is my humble contribution to humanity," Dr. Hartman said. "I hope it will be the means of relieving much unnecessary suffering."

Dr. Hartman's announcement was hailed by the dentists as an epochmaking event in man's age-old battle against pain and suffering, a milestone to take rank with the discovery of the anæsthetic property of nitrous oxide in 1844 by Dr. Horace Wells and with the demonstration of anæsthesia in surgery with sulphuric ether in 1846 by Dr. W. T. G. Morton. Both Dr. Wells and Dr. Morton were dentists.

Dr. Hartman's Formula.

Hartman's solution; formula by weight:

Thymol, 1¼ parts.
Ethyl alcohol, 1 part.
Sulphuric ether, 2 parts.

Keep tightly corked in brown glass bottle. One-half ounce sufficient for 200 applications.

Use cork or tin lined stoppers only.

This is a topical application, made on a moistened pellet of cotton, not saturated, directly to the dentin or caries.

If applied over the caries, a second application may be necessary after the caries has been removed. Allow pellet to remain in contact 1 minute for children, 1½ minutes for adults. Remove pellet and apply blast of warm air to area of application.

Use rubber dam.

CONTROL OF BIG LOOP BANKS SHOWN TODAY IN FINANCIAL SECTION

A list of major stockholders who own Chicago's six large loop banks, disclosed by records of the county assessor as of April 1, 1935, which were completed yesterday, is published today in the financial section of THE TRIBUNE.

The tabulation shows that old Chicago families which have long been identified with the growth and development of the city still retain their control. Shifts in holdings during the year preceding compilation of the report were negligible.

While most of the principal shareholders live in Chicago, other residences are listed throughout the United States and from London to China. Turn to financial section.

SLEEPS ON JOB; JUST A BEGINNING OF HIS TROUBLES

Chief of Police Frank Druba of Libertyville was roused from his bed at 3 a. m. last Friday by Frank Baldwin, 24 years old, 329 West Park avenue, Libertyville, a night attendant at the Main garage there. Baldwin told him the garage had been robbed of $9 by a motorist. Chief Druba reported the robbery to Sheriff Lawrence Doolittle of Lake county.

Samuel Miller, the owner of the garage, told Druba the next day that nothing was missing from the garage's till. Last night Baldwin confessed the robbery story was a hoax, explaining that he fell asleep Friday night and was dazed when a customer drove in. He feared he had shortchanged himself of $9 so he manufactured the holdup story to cover the shortage.

Druba arrested Baldwin on a charge of disorderly conduct because of the hoax and freed him on bail of $100 pending hearing Saturday.

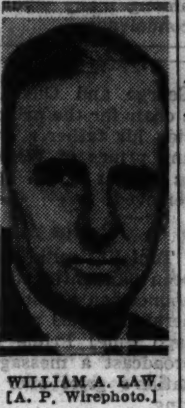
Penn Mutual President Dies of Gun Wound

Greensboro, N. C., Jan. 21.—(AP)—William A. Law of Philadelphia, president of the Penn Mutual Life Insurance company and former president of the American Bankers' association, was fatally shot on a hunting trip today when a gun in the hands of S. Clay Williams of Winston-Salem discharged as he tripped on a vine.



WILLIAM A. LAW.
[A. P. Wirephoto.]

Law, 71, died of loss of blood in a hospital here early tonight a short time after an embulance had rushed him forty miles from Siler City, near which town the tragedy occurred.

An account of the shooting was given by A. L. Brooks, Greensboro attorney, who was a member of the hunting party, and who said he was making the statement for himself and Williams. The latter, chairman of the board of the R. J. Reynolds Tobacco company and former head of NRA, was described as "almost prostrate."

No Inquest Is Likely.

Officials of Chatham county, in which the tragedy occurred, had not heard of Law's death until informed by newspaper men tonight. They indicated, however, that there was little likelihood of an inquest being held as they were convinced it was an accident.

Brooks said Law and Williams were accompanied by a guide, Willie Brower, in a remote part of the preserve owned by the Brushy Creek Hunting preserve.

"Mr. Williams' feet became entangled in a honeysuckle vine, and he tripped, accidentally discharging his gun," the attorney said. "The charge of birdshot struck Mr. Law in the left leg, near the knee."

Carries Victim Two Miles.

Williams made a tourniquet in an effort to staunch the flow, Brooks related, and with Brower, carried the wounded man two miles over rugged country to an automobile.

"It was about 3 o'clock when the accident occurred," the attorney said, "and it took practically two hours to get Mr. Law to Siler City, where he was given first aid. Loss of blood had weakened him noticeably, so he was hurried to Greensboro in an ambulance."

On the way, Brooks related, the wounded man urged Williams to refrain from self-reproach, and quoted him as saying:

"It was just one of those things that happen."

GLASS-NYE ROW PERILS NEW DEAL NEUTRALITY PLAN

Washington, D. C., Jan. 21.—(AP)—The angry dispute over whether President Wilson was a "falsifier," coupled with a division of opinion as to the best method of keeping America out of war, today threatened to upset administration plans for immediate enactment of broad scale neutrality legislation.

Fresh from a White House conference, at which he assured President Roosevelt of enactment of the administration bill, Chairman Pittman [Dem., Nev.] of the senate foreign relations committee nevertheless conceded the possible necessity of extending the present neutrality act 60 to 90 days beyond its Feb. 29 date.

On another front a demand by Senator Glass [Dem., Va.] for an accounting of the senate munitions committee's expenditures presaged a reëntry into his battle with its chairman, Senator Nye [Rep., N. D.].

NEW KING TAKES OATH; SUBJECTS PLEDGE FEALTY

Edward VIII. Speeds Up His Duties.

BY DAVID DARRAH.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, Jan. 21.—King Edward VIII. of Great Britain began his work as a monarch today while the scattered empire over which he reigns, comprising nearly 500,000,000 people and 14,000,000 square miles of territory, mourned the passing of his father at Sandringham last night.

The 41 year old Edward was formally proclaimed king at a special assembly of the privy council today. Forty-one guns, one for each of his years, will boom the tidings of his accession in all parts of his realm tomorrow. At the same time the ancient and picturesque ceremonial of heraldry will be enacted in the streets of London and in every other bailiwic of the realm, proclaiming him the king of Great Britain and its empire and the defender of the faith.

George V. Lies in State.

The heralds at 10 a. m. will read a public proclamation from the balcony of St. James's palace while the king looks on. Then a procession will proceed to Charing Cross, Temple Bar, and the Royal Exchange and repeat the reading. Five battalions of artillery and infantry will line the streets.

With tributes to his simplicity and kindliness as a monarch pouring in from the far flung corners of the empire, the deceased King George V. lay tonight in state at Sandringham in the little church of St. Mary Magdalene, in which he worshiped.

The new King Edward VIII., after consultation with his brother, the duke of York, and court officials, made two decisions which modify precedent:

FIRST—He established that the mourning period will be but nine months long.

SECOND—Next Tuesday was set as the date for the funeral. Previously it had been the royal custom to hold the funeral after an interval of two weeks.

Funeral Plans Announced.

Plans for the funeral provide that: King George will be buried in his crimson velvet coronation robes in the mausoleum of the royal chapel at Windsor castle, where are buried the remains of Edward IV., Henry VI., Henry VIII., Charles I., George III., George IV., William IV., and Edward VII.

George V. will lie in state at the St. Mary Magdalene church until Thursday noon, when the body will be taken to Wolferton station and placed on a royal funeral train for London. It will be carried to the train on a gun caisson drawn by sailors.

The king's sons will walk behind the coffin and Queen Mother Mary and the ladies of the royal household will ride. Police will line the route and grenadier guards will form an escort.

Parliament to Receive Body.

The king's body will lie in state in Westminster hall, London, until Tuesday. It will be received by the archbishop of Canterbury and members of parliament upon its arrival in London.

On Tuesday morning, in state procession, the coffin will be taken from Westminster hall to Paddington station in a long march through London and thence to Windsor, where the funeral services will be conducted by the archbishop of Canterbury in St. George's chapel.

Crowned heads, princes, and potentates will be in London for the funeral. Norman H. Davis, United States ambassador-at-large, will probably represent President Roosevelt.

Others present will include the dead king's sister, Queen Maud of Norway, and King Haakon VII. of Norway; King Christian X. of Denmark, King Boris III. of Bulgaria, President Albert Lebrun of France, Reichsminister of Air Gen. Hermann Wilhelm Goering of Germany, King Leopold III. of the Belgians; Prince Paul, regent of Jugo-Slavia, and Crown Prince Umberto of Italy.

Edward Has Arduous Day.

King Edward VIII., to whom the eyes of the country are turning with deep interest, spent an arduous day, attesting to his already manifested determination to play a regal part in the affairs of his country. Speculation was rife about what new influence he will exert on the life of his court and the politics of his government.

From the time of his father's death last night until 3 o'clock this morning, Edward remained up, discussing details of the funeral. After a few hours sleep he began a strenuous day.

First he flew to London with his brother, the duke of York. He did this against the wishes of those who object to his flying now that he is a monarch. He thus set a precedent, being the first British king ever to fly.

Second, he presided over the meeting of the privy council where he took the accession oath and was proclaimed king.

Greets Nation's Armed Forces.

Third, he established his residence at Buckingham palace and issued special messages to the army, navy and air force. He laid special stress on his hopes in the air force as the empire's means of defense.

Fourth, he visited his sick brother, the duke of Gloucester.

Fifth, he ordered the clocks of Sandringham, which have been a half hour fast since the days of Edward VII., his grandfather, set back to Greenwich time. Edward VII. kept the clocks fast to be sure he met engagements on time.

Seventh, he conferred with court officials and government ministers.

The new king impressed his councilors by the strength and dignity of his bearing in a trying time. Tomorrow, after he watches the heraldic pageantry of his being proclaimed king and after which the flags for six hours will be hoisted to the staf heads, Edward VIII. will fly back to Sandringham in his plane, the Red Dragon, and remain until Thursday, when he will accompany his father's remains to London.

Crowds Storm Palace.

Great crowds gathered outside St. James's palace today to watch the assembly there of the accession meeting of the privy council. The desire of all was to get a glimpse of the new king. Police grappled with the crowds before the gates to allow the councilors, spiritual and temporal, together with the lord mayor of London and other representatives, gorgeous in levee dress or state robes, to drive inside the grounds.

The purposes of this meeting were:

FIRST—To draw up and sign the document proclaiming Edward king.

SECOND—To swear allegiance to the new king and to kiss his hand.

THIRD—To listen to his address and his taking of the oath for the security of the Church of Scotland.

When the councilors, numbering about 100, were assembled, Ramsay MacDonald, lord president of the council, announced King George V.'s death and the accession of Edward VIII.

MacDonald, the archbishop of Canterbury, and Lord Chancellor Viscount Hailsham then went out and ushered the new king into the hall.

Wears Admiral's Uniform.

Edward wore the uniform of an admiral of the fleet. He read an address which had been prepared for him by the privy councilors, declaring he would uphold constitutional government. It was recalled that King Edward's grandfather, Edward VII., refused to read a prepared address and spoke extemporaneously.

Then the councilors signed the proclamation, genuflected before the king, kissed his hand and were resworn as privy councilors for the new régime.

The proceedings were concluded briefly.

The oath which Edward took was as follows:

"I, Edward Albert Christian George Andrew Patrick David, solemnly and sincerely, in the presence of God, profess, testify, and declare that I am a faithful member of the Protestant Reformed church by law established in England, and that I shall, according to the true intent of enactments which secure the Protestant succession to the throne of the realm, uphold and maintain said enactments to the best of my powers, according to law."

Parliament Swears Fealty.

Later, in accordance with the succession to the crown act, which dates from Queen Anne and the union of the thrones of Scotland and England, both houses of parliament assembled at Westminster and without ceremony took the oath of allegiance to the new monarch.

The speaker of the house, Capt. E. A. FitzRoy, was sworn first on the Bible: "I swear by Almighty God that I will be faithful and bear true allegiance to King Edward VIII. and his heirs and successors according to law, so help me God." Then Prime Minister Stanley Baldwin and other members of the government and party leaders and others were sworn.

A similar scene was enacted also in the house of lords. There the bachelor status of Edward was sharply emphasized. The solitary throne, with its royal red covering, stood on a dais. For nearly a quarter of a century there were thrones for King George and Queen Mary and also a chair for the prince of Wales alongside his father. There is no longer any prince of Wales and this chair, as well as Queen Mary's throne, was removed.

Radios Are Silenced.

Tonight radio broadcasting had been discontinued except for announcements about the king's funeral. At 9:30 p. m. [3:30 p. m. Chicago time] Prime Minister Baldwin broadcast a message expressing the nation's grief over the loss of the king.

The mourning of the public was shown in many ways through religious services of remembrance, the wearing of black, and pilgrimages to Buckingham palace.

Before noon today thousands of people attended memorial services in St. Paul's cathedral, where they prayed for the dead king as well as for the new king and the queen mother. After the service many remained on their knees.

Early this morning, from Hyde Park and the Tower of London, batteries of guns fired salutes at minute intervals. So did all British warships in waters throughout the world. They fired seventy shots, one for each year of the late king's life.

Theaters, movies, the stock exchange, music halls, and cabarets were closed, and all football games and horse races were called off. Blinds were drawn in busy Oxford street shop windows. In others, shows of colored materials were replaced with black. Hundreds watched the changing of the guards at Whitehall, staring mutely at the draped colors.

Naval Parley Suspended.

The four power naval conference suspended its sessions for two weeks.

St. Paul's bell tolled from 8 to 10 a. m. The admiralty flag at Whitehall, yellow and red with a fouled anchor, which is lowered only on the death of the sovereign, flew at half staf.

Across the whole city of London seemed to be a band of black. There was restraint among the people who met in the street. Men seemed to speak in subdued voices.

Ambassadors and ministers of other countries visited Downing street to offer their condolences.

The mourning has brought a profit to some. Cotton mills of Lancashire were busy turning out black and purple fabrics to meet orders coming in from all over the country. Street hawkers sold souvenirs of the late and the new kings.

DE VALERA EXPRESSES FREE STATE'S SORROW TO WIDOWED QUEEN

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

DUBLIN, Irish Free State, Jan. 21.—Strained relations with Great Britain were temporarily forgotten as the Free State today evidenced genuine regret over the passing of King George.

"On behalf of the government of the Irish Free State, I desire to express to your majesty our sincere sympathy with you and the royal family in your great sorrow," President Eamon de Valera telegraphed to the widowed Queen Mary and she replied that she was "deeply touched."

De Valera's newspaper, The Irish Press, for the first time printed a picture of the king with an editorial which said in part:

"King George always was noted for the simplicity of his home life. The Irish people realized that the king, as well as being a renowned sovereign who for a quarter of a century wielded a potent influence over Europe, was an ideal husband and father, qualities which make an irresistible appeal to the Irish."

Flags were draped at half staf on government and municipal buildings. The stock exchange closed. Lord Mayor Alfred Byrne of Dublin was among many who sent messages of condolence.

EX-KAISER SENDS CONDOLENCES TO GEORGE'S WIDOW

DOORN, The Netherlands, Jan. 21.—(AP)—The former kaiser of Germany, a cousin of the late King George of Great Britain, telegraphed today to the bereaved Queen Mary at Sandringham:

"I am deeply affected by the tragic loss you and the royal family have to deplore. I beg you to accept the warmest sympathy of Hermine, myself and all members of my house. "[Signed] William."

The former kaiser was awakened shortly after midnight to be told of the death of the British monarch, like himself a grandson of Queen Victoria of Britain. Queen Victoria's son, King Edward VII., was George's father; the Princess Victoria, one of her daughters, was the former kaiser's mother].

ROYAL ESTATE WORKMEN GUARD GEORGE V.'S BODY

Taken to Sandringham Parish Church.

SANDRINGHAM, England, Jan. 21.—(AP)—Woodchoppers, innkeepers, stablemen, gardeners, and other employés of the royal estate kept solemn vigil tonight over the body of King George V. in his parish church here.

Flickering tapers cast light and shadow inside, where the sovereign so often worshiped with the people of this Norfolk district. Outside, a bleak wind howled.

Darkness already had fallen when the body was borne to the little church from the house of the British monarch liked to call his home. Angry clouds drove across the sky; the wind moaned through the fir trees; snow, then sleet and rain, pelted down as the little procession moved along the path which King George and Queen Mary often followed.

6 Workers Bear Coffin.

Six estate workers, sturdy fellows in corduroy breeches and lether jackets, carried the body from the death chamber to the great glass front door of Sandringham house; then placed it on the simple bier.

The procession moved silently on, with six stalwart grenadier guardsmen at each side of the body. A wailing dirge, played by the king's piper, Pipe-Major Forsyth, sounded as they walked.

Guided by lanterns, the procession arrived at the church to be met by the rector, the Rev. A. R. Fuller, and the body was taken inside.

Widowed Queen Present.

Queen Mary and her children, save for the new King Edward and the Dukes of York and Gloucester—all in London—stayed for a half-hour service; then returned to Sandringham house.

The widowed Queen Mary walked through the rain and sleet from Sandringham house to the parish church twice to be with her dead husband.

Dressed in deep mourning and carrying an umbrella to protect her against the elements, the queen mother followed behind the king's coffin on its half-mile journey to the church. She then returned home by automobile only to go back later in the evening to the little church and kneel in prayer before the bier. Two women accompanied the widowed queen on her second journey.

When they arrived at the little church, the guards withdrew and Queen Mary advanced alone to the bier where she knelt for seven minutes in prayer.

Tenants to See King.

Tomorrow George's tenants and the members of his household will be permitted to file past the plain oaken coffin. But they will not see his face, for the bier is covered.

At noon on Thursday the body will be moved on a gun carriage of the Royal Horse artillery to Wolferton station, two and a half miles away, for the trip to London.

There it will lie in state at Westminster hall until Tuesday, when it will be taken with a full state procession to Paddington station for the journey to St. George's chapel at Windsor for the last funeral rites and burial.

King Edward VIII. and other members of the royal family will follow the bier on foot from Sandringham to the little station Thursday, weather permitting.

Subordinate King's Death to Anniversary of Lenin

PRESIDENT EXPRESSES NATION'S CONDOLENCE ON DEATH OF MONARCH

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Jan. 21.—[Special.]—President Roosevelt today led the nation in expressing condolence to the British people on the death of King George. The President sent messages to King Edward VIII., the new sovereign, Queen Mary, and the governor generals of Australia, Canada, the Irish Free State, New Zealand, and the Union of South Africa.

White House social functions were canceled.

On Capitol hill the house adjourned a few minutes after convening as a mark of respect to the memory of the dead king. The senate was not in session.

The text of the President's message to King Edward VIII. was:

"It is with deep sorrow that I learn of the death of his majesty, your father. I send you my profound sympathy and that of the people of the United States, in whose respect and affection he occupied a high and unique place. I had the privilege of knowing his majesty during the war days and his passing brings me personally a special sorrow."

That to Queen Mary read:

"Mrs. Roosevelt and I extend to your majesty and to the members of your family our heartfelt sympathy and join you in mourning the loss of one whose high qualities of kindness and wisdom have been so powerful an influence for universal peace and justice."

2 NAZI GENERALS, BARON TO ATTEND FUNERAL OF KING

Hohenzollern Princes Await Orders.

BY SIGRID SCHULTZ.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

BERLIN, Jan. 21.—Baron Konstantin von Neurath, foreign minister, will be the chief German representative at the funeral of King George V. of Great Britain. The German delegation will also include two generals, one probably Gen. Hermann Wilhelm Goering, premier of Prussia and reichsminister of air, and one admiral.

Hohenzollern princes here are awaiting instructions from Doorn before one of them leaves for London to represent former Kaiser Wilhelm II. at his cousin's funeral. Gen. von Dommes, on behalf of the former kaiser, was among the hundreds of Germans of all classes who called today at the British embassy to express sympathy and to sign the visitors' book. Many Germans also were at the unofficial memorial service held tonight at a British church here.

See New King Friendly to Nazis.

Newspapers throughout the nation paid warm tributes to King George and hailed King Edward VIII. as a monarch who, as the prince of Wales, showed friendship for Germany.

A semi-official tribute issued here tonight described the king's death as a loss to the world and recalled how he did his utmost to heal the divisions caused by the great war, and how he afterward displayed an understanding for Germany.

The newspaper Voelkische Beobachter, official Nazi party organ, said: "Not only the British people, but the whole world mourns this great man."

Called "Wise Statesman."

The newspaper added that the king was a noble character and a "wise statesman who, although standing in the background, made his influence felt at difficult hours through which the British nation had to go."

Der Angriff described King George as one of the most constitutional monarchs who ever sat on the British throne. "A real ruler," was the Berliner Tageblatt's description.

In assuring King Edward VIII. of Germany's good will, the newspapers recalled he advised the soldiers of the formerly warring countries to get together and they ascribe the visit of British legionnaires to Germany to influence exercised by him as prince of Wales.

FIVE PRINCESSES ELIGIBLE TO WED BACHELOR KING

Commoner Hopes Dashed by British Law.

LONDON, Jan. 21.—(AP)—With the ascendancy of the 41 year old prince of Wales to the throne, the last "hope" that he might marry a commoner disappeared today for thousands of women throughout the world.

For years, particularly since his visit to the United States and Canada in 1919, a torrent of letters has poured in on the blue eyed bachelor "prince charming"—blushingly timid billets doux, or bold, Circe-styled "proposals."

Now, as bachelor king, the new monarch is far removed from such romantic offerings. By the law governing royal marriages in England, the king may marry only a royal princess.

5 Eligible Princesses.

Five princesses, headed by Irene of Greece and Juliana of the Netherlands, appear to be the only ones eligible to sit with Edward on the British throne.

The others are Catherine of Greece, sister of Irene, both sisters of George II., king of the Hellenes; Eugenie of Greece, cousin of the Greek monarch, and Kyre of Russia, daughter of the grand duke Cyril.

Most of the new monarch's friendships, however, have been with women whose social ratings were high but who were not of royalty.

Edward's Favorites.

Among Edward's notable favorites as dancing partners have been Viscountess Ednam, who died with five others in the crash of a chartered plane flying from Le Touquet to Croyden; Mrs. Dudley Ward, and more recently the dark eyed Mrs. Ernest Simpson, the former Miss Wallis Warfield of Baltimore, Md.

Mrs. Simpson is one of the most fashionable Americans in London society and is regarded in society circles as a close friend of the bachelor king.

The mass of letters coming to the prince from other commoners have been addressed to plain "David Windsor, Esquire, York house, London," or to "His Royal Highness Edward, Prince of Wales, St. James's palace, London."

But these epistles never reached the eyes of David Windsor, Esquire, or His Royal Highness Edward, prince of Wales. Instead a bored secretary consigned them to an extra large waste basket designated for that specific purpose.

CANADA'S HEADS TAKE OATH TO NEW RULER; SET DAY OF MOURNING

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

OTTAWA, Ont., Jan. 21.—Canada's governor general, Lord Tweedsmuir, Prime Minister Mackenzie King and all members of the cabinet with the clerk of the privy council took oath of allegiance to King Edward VIII. late this afternoon.

Tuesday, Jan. 28, was set by proclamation as a day of national mourning, when all work is to cease throughout the dominion. A third proclamation continued all public officials in their posts under the new sovereign. Canada's official mourning period will be the same as in England.

Confusion in Courts.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

MONTREAL, Que., Jan. 21.—While Montreal went into mourning today, there was some confusion in legal circles. Issuing of writs for new cases came to a standstill because all writs summoning persons to appear in court are issued at present in the name of King George V. A proclamation by the governor general was necessary to change the inscription.

FRANCE UNITES IN TRIBUTES TO LIFE OF BRITISH KING

[Copyright: 1936: By the New York Times.]

PARIS, Jan. 21.—Moving tributes to the memory of King George were expressed in both houses of the French parliament today, in innumerable telegrams of condolence and in the entire press.

Flags hung at half staf not only on public but on many private buildings. All official receptions and celebrations have been canceled or postponed including the large diplomatic reception which was to have been held at Elysee palace tomorrow evening.

Among the many notable tributes made today were these:

By Pierre Etienne Flandin, minister of state, speaking for the government in the chamber of deputies:

"The British empire has lost a great king and France a great friend."

"He maintained the high traditions of his country and those qualities of loyalty and constancy which are those of his people."

140 Foot Cross in Montreal Blazes with Purple Lights

MONTREAL, Que., Jan. 21.—(AP)—The great cross atop Mount Royal in the heart of Montreal blazed in royal purple tonight, symbolic of the city's grief for the death of King George V. The white bulbs in the 140 foot cross were changed to purple by order of the city council.

ADVERTISE IN THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE

EUROPE BUZZES WITH INTRIGUES AFTER KING DIES

Many Seek to Use Rites to Further Own Ends.

BY EDMOND TAYLOR.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

GENEVA, Jan. 21.—The magical prestige of the British crown throughout the world and its importance as a political asset to the empire was illustrated today when the league of nations council, dropping all other business, devoted its entire session to honor the memory of King George V.

In carefully rehearsed speeches, the delegates of the fourteen countries represented on the council voiced sympathy with the British people in their loss and paid tribute to the character of the dead monarch. Nine speakers represented republics. One spokesman—Maxim Litvinov—is the foreign minister of a government which murdered King George's cousin, the Romanoff Czar Nicholas II. of Russia, and was himself once deported from England as an undesirable alien.

Italy Joins in Eulogies.

Another speaker—Baron Pompeo Aloisi—is the representative of a country which daily denounces Great Britain as Fascist Italy's deadliest enemy.

To mark the unprecedented solemnity of the occasion, the league secretariat before the session opened posted a notice in the press room requiring newspaper correspondents not to smoke during the public meeting. For once this prohibition was respected by the journalists and delegates alike. When Litvinov absentmindedly started to light up, Joseph A. C. Avenol, secretary general, leaned over and reminded him of the rule.

At last, as supreme homage of the league of nations to the dead king, the president of the council, Stanley Bruce of Australia, invited his colleagues to stand up around the horseshoe table and observe a minute of silence.

More impressive, however, than these formal attitudes of mourning was the sincere if unconscious tribute to the greatness of the British throne reflected in the eminent desire of numerous European countries or royal families to utilize the occasion for increasing their own prestige or soliciting the friendship of the British people.

Many Seek to Attend Funeral.

Just as today's council session offered an opportunity to many countries of reminding the British people of their respectful friendship—and the hope they base upon their friendship—so King George's funeral was being looked forward to by European royalty as a vaulable chance to further their cause.

With the eagerness of American debutantes fishing for invitations to the British court, the crowned and uncrowned royalty of Europe are scrambling for the privilege of attending King George's funeral so they can bask in the reflected glory of the British throne—one whose prestige seemingly maintains all the others.

The stampede was started by Nicholas Titulescu, foreign minister of Rumania, who went out of his way to refer to "King Carol II., my august sovereign," who, he reminded his hearers, "is a close kinsman of King George."

Seen as Bid for Invitation.

This was interpreted as a broad hint that Titulescu's boss would like particularly to be invited to the funeral—an unrivaled chance for King Carol to improve his social standing and strike up a nodding acquaintance with the British fleet and treasury.

Carol already has an acquaintance with the British police, having been expelled once from England as morally undesirable. This, together with his notorious liaison with the red headed Jewess, Magda Lupescu, make him persona non grata at the strict British court. That is why he felt it necessary to make this thinly disguised public bid for an invitation to the funeral which he would normally have little chance of getting.

Another royal mourner who may not be invited to the funeral is former King Alfonso XIII. of Spain, whose wife, the former Princess Victoria Eugenie Julia Ena of Battenberg, is a cousin of the late King George. Alfonso's private life is discreet enough for the British court to shut its eyes, but, according to gossip in diplomatic circles, relations are so bad between Alfonso and Ena, as his wife is known, that he cannot go to the funeral if she does. They have not seen one another for over a year—on account of a beautiful Italian princess, it is said.

Another scandal, but a diplomatic instead of sentimental one, invloves the Italian royal family. Despite the tension between Great Britain and Italy, the Italian delegation here said that some member of the house of Savoy—almost certainly Crown Prince Umberto—will attend the funeral. But if Umberto attends, his wife, the Belgian Princess Marie Jose, a member of the Saxe-Coburg and Gotha family, will not accompany him, an Italian spokesman said emphatically. The reason is that she comes from a sanctionist country, but what that has to do with it only the Italians can understand.

Considerable importance was attached in league circles to Crown Prine Umberto's projected trip. Even as a gesture it may have considerable influence upon British opinion, and there is always the possibility of arranging a private talk between Umberto and the new British king.

The greatest excitement and speculation, however, was over a report that former Kaiser Wilhelm II. of Germany will leave his exile at Doorn to pop up at the funeral. Probably he will not be a welcome guest, but since he is the grandson of the late Queen Victoria of England and the late King George's cousin, he cannot very well be turned away. It was recalled that he was not invited to the late Queen Victoria's funeral, but showed up nevertheless, wreaking havoc with the scale of precedence which had been drawn up.

Crown Prince Seeks Bid.

The former crown prince of Germany, Friedrich Wilhelm, would also like to get an invitation, judging by his repeated efforts to get himself invited to England for a visit. It would be less awkward for the British authorities to refuse him entrance than to turn down the former kaiser.

In any event, it was considered here that some member of the Hohenzollern family will make a determined attempt to get to the funeral for political reasons.

Other former crowned heads of the central powers—Empress Zita of Austria and her son, Archduke Otto, and the deposed King Ferdinand of Bulgaria—could attend the funeral with less scandal than the Hohenzollerns, but they have not the same pretext of kinship.

It was recalled that at Queen Victoria's funeral there were fourteen kings and all rode on horseback, dressed in resplendent costumes.

[Copyright: 1936: By the New York Times.]

LONDON, Jan. 21.—King Edward VIII. probably will be much wealthier than his father was, because, in addition to the usual perquisites of the crown, he will continue until he has a son to draw the revenue of the duchy of Cornwall which he has received as heir to the throne. In 1927, the last year for which an accounting was published, the Cornwall revenues amounted to $364,000 a year.

King George received a civil list of the equivalent of $2,355,000 a year, most of which went for household and other expenses of the court. He also received the income from the duchy of Lancaster, amounting in 1934 to $425,000.

The exact extent of his private estate or the disposal he makes of it never will be officially known and will be formally revealed only to members of his family. The king's will will not be probated in any court or examined by any authority nor will his estate pay an inheritance tax. The king is above the law, exempt from all official jurisdiction of the state he rules.

KING'S FAVORITE TERRIER SHARES GRIEF OF NATION

[Copyright: 1936: By the New York Times.]

LONDON, Jan. 21.—Grief over the death of King George is not confined to human beings. His favorite terrier, Bob, who shared his majesty's walks at Sandringham and in the gardens of Buckingham palace, has been disconsolate since Friday because he was kept from his master's room for reasons no faithful dog could understand.

If there is trouble it is the duty of dogs like Bob to be there and share it and to sympathize.

Keeps Robe Worn in 1887 as George V. Got Degree

In her home in Wheaton yesterday Mrs. Ina Maxwell Allum, 83 years old, brought out a heavy black satin robe worn by her husband, the late Dr. Charles E. Allum, choral director, in 1887 when he and King George V., then the duke of York, and the latter's brother, the duke of Clarence, received degrees from Trinity college, Dublin. Dr. Allum was awarded the degree of doctor of music as a student, while honorary degrees were conferred on the two princes.

BALDWIN TELLS EMPIRE OF KING'S FADING HOURS

'How's the Empire?' Last Query to Secretary.

BY DAVID DARRAH.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, Jan. 21.—Prime Minister Stanley Baldwin, in a tribute to King George V. tonight, broadcast to the nation, the empire and the United States, took his listeners behind the scenes of the late monarch's last hours.

Baldwin revealed that among the king's last words was a query to his secretary: "How is the empire?" The secretary replied: "All is well with the empire," and the king smiled and relapsed once more into unconsciousness.

During the final stages of his illness, Baldwin disclosed, the king experienced brief intervals of consciousness and each time he addressed some kind of inquiry or observation to someone, or spoke words of gratitude for kindness shown him.

Gallant in "Raving World."

Of George, the ruler, Baldwin declared:

"There was no respite for him during those 25 years. The whole world has been in a state of commotion, and there never seemed to come to him any period when he could look ahead for two or three years and feel that all would be peace and quiet and nothing in the world to cause him or his people trouble.

"The world has been what a great man of the 16th century called 'a raving world,' and he played his part in it gallantly to the end."

The prime minister tendered the nation's sympathy to Queen Mary, "who is really carrying the cross for the one who has gone before."

Of the new king Baldwin said:

"We can best honor the memory of King George by gathering around and sustaining the young king whom we have known for so long as the prince of Wales. While he is no stranger to public duty, he is now summoned to vast responsibilities more onerous, more exacting, more continuous than any he has been asked to discharge.

"He comes to them in the prime of his power and already known throughout the length and breadth of the empire. His great gifts of mind and heart he is now called upon to consecrate to his people."

Parliament's Tribute.

Tomorrow parliament, through speeches of party leaders, will pay tribute to the late king.

Baldwin, as prime minister, will move a series of resolutions. The first will be addressed to King Edward VIII. The second will be a resolution of condolence to Queen Mary.

Parliament will then adjourn until the funeral services Tuesday.

END OF RELIEF AS STATE JOB APPEARS LIKELY

Legislators Anxious to Return Authority.

BY STANLEY ARMSTRONG.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Springfield, Ill., Jan. 21.—[Special.]—Abolition of the Illinois Emergency Relief commission was foreshadowed tonight in actions of the Illinois general assembly and in comments of legislators sponsoring bills to return relief administration to the various county boards.

In both house and senate there were indications that a considerable sentiment exists among both Republican and Democratic legislators to bring about the demise of the IERC more than a year before it would expire automatically. Whether or not the movement can corral sufficient votes to succeed may be tested today in the lower chamber.

Repealer Introduced.

The test would come, it is believed, on the bill of Representative F. W. Lewis [Dem., Robinson]. This measure would repeal the IERC act and authorized the governor, lieutenant governor and state auditor to apportion relief moneys to the counties. One-half of sales tax receipts, or approximately 3 millions a month, instead of the present one-third, which amounts to 2 millions, would be appropriated for relief purposes.

"I am going to call my bill for passage tomorrow," said Lewis, who has been recognized as a Horner leader on the house floor. "I haven't talked to Gov. Horner about it, but I believe the Democrats will vote for the measure."

"In view of statements by relief officials that 4½ millions is needed monthly until May 1, at least, do you think 3 millions will be sufficient?" Lewis was asked.

All State Can Spare.

"Three millions is the amount that it is estimated that the state can spare," he replied.

Earlier, Lewis and Representative Richard J. Lyons [Rep., Libertyville], co-sponsor with Lottie Holman O'Neill [Rep., Downers Grove] of another bill to abolish the IERC had tangled in a swirl of debate over whose bill should have first chance at a roll call. When it was all over it was conceded that unless the Republicans and Democrats get together the 102 votes needed in the house couldn't be obtained.

The Lyons and O'Neill bill, which differs somewhat from the Lewis bill, was introduced on Jan. 8. Lewis submitted his measure on Jan. 13. Both now are on third reading—the passage stage—and tonight, when Lewis sought to call his for passage, Lyons made an impassioned plea for a vote on his measure as it had led the way.

Lyons Fails; House Adjourns.

Lyons, however, failed to carry his point, and the house adjourned until tomorrow. Lewis then announced that he would insist on his bill being called for passage in the morning.

Recognition was given in the senate to the sentiment against the IERC by Senator Harold G. Ward [Dem., Chicago]. Calling back his bill to appropriate 7½ millions from state funds to supplement sales tax relief funds until May 1, Ward had it amended so that if the IERC is abolished the money can be distributed by whatever agency takes its place.

Observers saw indications in the parts played by Ward and Lewis that neither Mayor Kelly nor Gov. Horner would place any obstacles in the way of terminating the IERC. It also was pointed out one of the arguments used heretofore in opposition to disestablishing the relief commission was that the federal government wanted a single state agency to handle federal relief funds. This argument has been abandoned now, as no more federal relief money is coming into the state.

PLAIDS SHOWN AS NEW STYLE TREND FOR MEN

Color, and still more color, is the fashion decree for the 1936 garments of the American man, judging from exhibits of the National Association of Retail Clothiers and Furnishers now at the Palmer house.

A style show and conference will be held at 10 a. m. today in the grand ballroom of the hotel, but if the show follows the trends of the exhibits, man will be just one big plaid from head to toe this year.

Shirts come in gingham plaids, three inch ones, of black and red, black and green, green and blue, and blue shadowed with black. Suits are made in woolen plaids, with emphasis on black and white or brown and tan. Socks are brilliantly and enormously checked, while even the new summer shoes have interlocking checks of brown and cream.

Fashion's boldness, however, is being limited to the fabrics. The cut itself, both of suits and shirts, is much plainer. In coats, for instance, most of the shirring and pleating in the back had been eliminated, while the coat itself is longer.

Children Shield Father

Mrs. Carmine Granatelli, 32 years old, was found shot to death yesterday in her home at 1216 Lafayette street. Five bullets had struck her. Policemen who sought her estranged husband, Vincent, for questioning were balked by two children of the couple who said they knew where their father, an ex-convict, might be found, but who refused to tell.

Throughout the afternoon and evening Andrea, 11 years old, and Vincent Jr., 7 years old, who were in school when their mother was slain, resisted all entreaties of Capt. Martin McCormick of the Summerdale police to disclose the whereabouts tof their father and their eldest brother, Joseph, 16 years old. Both children, however, told of bitter quarrels between their parents.

Young Vincent said he didn't like his father "because he used to beat mamma and cut her with a knife." The child referred to the arrest of Granatelli in 1932 for stabbing his wife when she refused to live with him. Squads were stationed at several addresses last night in the search for Granatelli. The children were taken to the Juvenile home.

Maurice Mandel, a postoffice clerk, who lives in the building, found Mrs. Granatelli's body. He told police she feared her husband and went armed until a year ago, when she relaxed her vigilance and sold three revolvers to Mandel. Granatelli's cousin, Samuel Ferrera, had an appointment with her yesterday, Mandel said. Ferrera was sought for questioning.

CADET'S SECRET BRIDE, ECLIPSED IN LOVE, WILL SUE

Plans Divorce After Learning of Rival.

Steele City, Neb., Jan. 21.—(AP)—Conflicting love affairs were credited today by his young wife with terminating the army career of a West Point honor student.

Announcing she would seek a divorce, Mrs. Reinhold T. Schrein revealed at the same time that she had informed U. S. Military academy officials of her secret marriage, because her husband had switched his affections to an undisclosed young Harrisburg, Pa., woman.

The Schreins were wed on March 25, 1931, at Clay Center, Kas., Mrs. Schrein said. They agreed to keep their marriage secret and in 1932 Schrein entered the military academy without revealing it to officials.

At first he wrote regularly and in endearing terms, she asserted, but she did not see him again until she went to West Point during the 1935 Christmas vacation.

"After I had waited for him more than four years he had asked me to have our marriage annulled," the young wife said. "I refused and went to see him. At West Point they told me he was visiting a girl in Harrisburg. I waited until he returned.

"He told me he was in love with the girl and I warned him he would have to give up his commission or her. He chose her, so I notified the academy."

The young man, son of the Rev. Adolph Schrein, Lutheran pastor at Crete, Neb., met his wife, formerly Lucille Taylor, while both attended Doane college. His parents were not informed of the wedding.

Schrein, his father said, probably will go into business in the east now that his army prospects are ended.

U. S. to Have New $250,000 Legation in Panama City

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

PANAMA CITY, Jan. 21.—After being housed since Panama's independence [1903] in a dingy frame building off Panama City's main square, the United States is to have a modern legation building in Spanish style costing $250,000, and also a federal office building housing the various agencies of the United States government in this republic. The present legation is the former French canal quarters and the poorest looking legation here.

BUNDESEN GOES TO SPRINGFIELD TO FORGE TIES

Horner Plans Call for an "Honest Poll."

BY PERCY WOOD.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Springfield, Ill., Jan. 21.—[Special.]—Dr. Herman N. Bundesen of Chicago, choice of both the Democratic state and Cook county central committees for governor, made a surprise visit to Springfield tonight to further his primary campaign by meeting and conferring with Democrats in the general assembly.

The organization candidate arrived here while Gov. Horner, confined to the executive mansion with a throat ailment, was debating whether to call a third special session of the assembly for the purpose of considering permanent registration, which he feels would aid his own candidacy.

A second possible subject for that special call would be budgetary control for the Chicago park district, a move the governor thinks would increase his popularity with the taxpayers.

Held Retaliatory Measure.

The governor is inclined to take these retaliatory measures against the Kelly-Nash-Campbell faction, which shelved him ten days ago in favor of Dr. Bundesen. He will decide within a day or two, he said today. His political advisers expect him to call the session.

Dr. Bundesen arrived on a late train from Chicago and went immediately to the St. Nicholas hotel, Democratic headquarters, where he was met by State Chairman Bruce A. Campbell, State Treasurer John Stelle, who is slated for lieutenant governor; Auditor Edward J. Barrett, a candidate for reëlection; Representative James P. Boyle of Chicago, and a dozen other legislators.

"I came here," Dr. Bundesen said, "to meet members of the house and senate and become acquainted with those I don't already know. I expect to return to Chicago late tomorrow." This is the candidate's first visit to the capital since he was slated for the nomination.

Killed by Nash Group.

Permanent registration failed to pass during the regular session of the assembly last spring because of opposition from the Chicago Democratic bloc. If Mayor Kelly opposed its passage then, it was not made known. County Chairman P. A. Nash, to the contrary, was against it, and this attitude was admitted on the house floor by Majority Leader Benjamin S. Adamowski.

For the last few days Gov. Horner, in discussing his fight for renomination, has talked much of the necessity for an "honest count." If the Republican bloc agreed with the Cook county Republican central committee and decided to help the governor the bill might obtain 77 votes, which, however, would not be enough to enact it into law in time for the April 14 primary. It would become effective July 1.

Martin Resignation a Puzzle.

Mr. Horner was mystified today, he told newspaper men visitors, by the action of John C. Martin of Salem, chairman of both the Illinois Emergency Relief commission and the Illinois tax commission and slated to receive united Democratic support for the nomination for state treasurer. He was treasurer from 1932 to 1934.

The governor explained that Martin called upon him in Chicago last Saturday and offered to resign both posts. He is in the peculiar position of being assured support from the Cook county organization as well as from the governor for nomination for treasurer.

Mr. Horner said that he told Martin that his resignations were "not necessary" and thought the incident closed. Returning to Springfield last night, the governor found a letter from Martin, dated Jan. 19 [Sunday], which inclosed his resignation from the tax commission with the attached explanation that he had "forgotten to mention this when I called."

QUIRK IS FINED $300, SENTENCED TO YEAR IN CELL

CRIMINAL COURT.

William Pierce, robbery, sentenced to 1 to 20 years in the penitentiary; Clarence Collins, robbery, sentenced to 20 years in the penitentiary under the habitual criminal act, by Judge Joseph B. David.

Alfred Crosby and Elmer Folks, larceny, sentenced to 1 to 10 years in the penitentiary by Judge Denis J. Normoyle.

Martin Quirk, former south side beer runner, was fined $300 and sentenced to a year in the Bridewell by Judge John C. Lewe in the Criminal court yesterday on a charge of carrying concealed weapons.

Judge Lewe acted on a jury verdict of guilty returned several days ago. He specified that if Quirk does not pay his fine he must serve it out in the Bridewell at the rate of $1.50 a day. Quirk's attorney filed notice of appeal and his client's $5,000 bond was increased to $6,000.

The charge against Quirk grew out of an episode on Nov. 15 in which the hoodlum uttered some cowboy whoops and fired his pistol in the Croydon hotel grill at 616 Rush street.

Earlier yesterday Municipal Judge Edward S. Scheffler dismissed for want of prosecution a charge against Quirk of failure to pay a $1.40 cab bill, brought against him Monday night by Clarence Weadan, 8129 Indiana avenue, a taxi driver.

SYNAGOG OUSTS PRANKSTER WHO JOKES MEMBERS

New York, Jan. 21.—[Special.]—Benjamin Nadel's playful habits, among them his practice of calling his milk wagon horse by the names of members of the First Congregation Spardishe Kloise Teferth Israel of Brooklyn, resulted in his being ousted from the congregation, it developed today.

Supreme Court Justice Peter P. Smith in Brooklyn refused today to grant Nadel a peremptory order of mandamus directing his reinstatement to membership in the synagogue, but granted him an alternative writ which will carry the case to trial by jury. Nadel charges that he was improperly ousted.

Through counsel, Burton B. Turkus, the congregation charged that Nadel on one occasion "put rotten eggs in the pockets of the officiating rabbi." In January, 1931, it further declared, he inserted an advertisment in a newspaper saying that a famous cantor was to appear at the temple, but the cantor did not appear.

BATTLE OF BABY BOOKS PREFACES GOVERNOR RACE

Horner Trails Bundesen Into Publishing Field.

Although "Our Babies" aren't politically minded, their cherubic smiles were making an appeal to the parents' vote in behalf of both Dr. Herman N. Bundesen and Gov. Henry Horner some time before either made any formal announcement of his candidacy for the Democratic gubernatorial nomination.

"Our Babies" is the title of two books on the care of young children. From the cover of each beams the engaging smile of an infant. One is published by Dr. Herman N. Bundesen, president of the Chicago board of health, father of six children. Gov. Horner, a bachelor, sponsors the other.

Bundesen First in Field.

Dr. Bundesen began distributing his book free to Chicago mothers on Aug. 20, 1925. Thousands of mothers have leafed its pages for information on how to rear their children. Distribution of the governor's book began last November.

Both books are mailed to mothers of newly born babies as shown by the birth records, so they will have a chance to note the similarities between Gov. Horner's new book and the one which Dr. Bundesen has been distributing for more than ten years.

An Oval and a Circle.

In an oval on the Bundesen book's cover appears a painting of a baby reproduced in colors. In large type beneath the oval is printed "Our Babies," followed in similar type by "By Dr. Herman N. Bundesen."

The Horner cover has the picture of a baby in a circle. Under the circle are the words "Our Babies" and in smaller type: "How to keep them well and happy." Beneath that is "State of Illinois, Henry Horner, Governor." In the lower left corner the state book cover reads, "Republished by Department of Public Health," and in the lower right corner, "Frank J. Jirka, M. D., Director."

Inside the cover the likeness between the two books continues. The Bundesen book carries a letter from Mayor Kelly "To the Mother." Gov. Horner's message, "To the Mothers of Illinois," appears in the same position in his book. The same general outline of subjects follows, with more text and illustrations in the 96 page Bundesen book than in the 58 page Horner volume.

"Nothing New," Says Jirka.

"A state baby book isn't anything new," said Dr. Jirka yesterday. "One was published in 1916 by Dr. St. Clair Drake, secretary of what was then the Illinois state board of health. The text of the present state book was written by members of the pediatric committee of the Illinois State Medical society."

Dr. Bundesen wrote his book himself. He said yesterday that he had submitted it for approval to 100 outstanding medical men before publishing it.

Nine million copies of the Bundesen book have been distributed, many of them under private financing going to all sections of the country. The state book will go annually to the mothers of the approximately 110,000 babies born in Illinois each year.

BRITISH GROUPS HERE PLAN MEMORIAL FOR KING GEORGE SUNDAY

The United British Societies of Chicago, embracing 20 English, Scotch, Canadian and Welsh organizations, conferred last night at the Brevoort hotel with Lewis Bernays, English consul general, about a joint memorial service for King George V. to be held at 11 a. m. next Sunday in St. James's Episcopal church.

Dr. Duncan H. Browne, rector of the church, will preach the sermon. Color guards from regular army units and from the Canadian Legion post will participate in the ceremonies. A dance to be given at the Drake hotel on Feb. 1 for the benefit of the British consulate general relief fund was postponed until autumn because of the six months full mourning period.

Consuls of various nations called at the British consulate general yesterday to pay the respects of their peoples. All consulate offices lowered their flags to half staf.

LABATT KIDNAP SUSPECT FREED IN ONTARIO COURT

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, Ont., Jan. 21.—Herman Kierdorff, arrested at Ottawa, Ill., with Russell Knowles on charges in connection with the kidnaping of John S. Labatt, wealthy brewer, was dismissed today. C. W. Hawkshaw, Middlesex county magistrate, found insufficient evidence against him.

Joseph Sedgewick, deputy attorney general for Ontario, admitted there was nothing stronger against Kierdorff than proof that he and Knowles registered on the same date at the hotel in Chicago where Labatt's representative was once directed to pay ransom.

PLAN LEGAL TEST OF NEW DEAL BAN ON G.O.P. STAMPS

"Crack Down" Tactics of Farley Bring Reprisal.

New York, Jan. 21.—[Special.]—Aroused by the New Deal "dictatorship's" move to crack down on its campaign activities, the National Republican council decided today to undertake a legal test of Postmaster General James A. Farley's order barring matter bearing its cartoon poster stamps from the mails.

William S. Bennet, the committee's counsel, was directed to prepare and submit an opinion as to the advisability of instituting court proceedings as the preliminary step of a "finish fight" on the issue. The attorney, who for many years was a representative from New York in congress, promised to submit his findings at another special meeting which the committee will hold on the matter next Thursday.

Favor Supreme Court Test.

If necessary to block what they call this "high handed action" of the postmaster general—officiating in this instance, they insist, more in his capacity as chairman of the national Democratic committee than as the head of the post office department—members of the council favor carrying the appeal if necessary to the United States Supreme court.

Meanwhile, William Ingles, director of the council, announced that orders already had been issued for another series of the "poster stamps" which it is believed will be just as much calculated to "get under the skins" of New Dealers, as were those put under ban by Mr. Farley. Mr. Ingles disclosed that it was planned to get out a new batch every month from now on throughout the national campaign.

Fear Censoring of Press.

It is the belief of Mr. Ingles and his co-workers that if the postmaster general's ban on the present issue of stamp cartoons is allowed to stand, that not only will he be able to stop the use of future issues of the series, but that the prohibition might very well be extended to the circulation of newspapers carrying cartoons or editorials reflecting on members of the administration. They look upon the devolpment, as Mr. Ingles told fellow members of the committee, as "a further evidence of the autocratic power which will be employed by the administration to prevent criticism and to perpetuate itself."

At the general postoffice it was announced that the "objectionable" letters held up had been forwarded to their respective destinations after a representative of the committee had appeared and removed the stickers.

Three New York newspapers, The Times, Sun and World Telegram, carried reproductions of the stamps at the time of their original appearance two weeks ago, but so far as could be learned, no effort was made to interfere with their progress through the mails.

Chicago Republicans Blocked in New Attempt at Harmony

BY PARKE BROWN.

The tug of war within the Republican county central committee passed last night through the second of a series of five nightly meetings without a sign of a yielding of ground by anybody. So far as actual progress toward selecting candidates goes the evening session at the Hotel La Salle was another washout.

As the deadlock continued it became more and more apparent that the struggle is not so much a contest between individual candidates as a contest for power. The candidacies of Wayland Brooks and H. Wallace Caldwell for the governorship provide the rallying points for the two sides, but the real fight is between the present organization of the committee and an alliance between several groups in rebellion against that control.

Lundin Group Opposes.

Chairman William H. Weber and Secretary Edward F. Moore have joined George F. Harding and others in supporting Brooks. Opposed to them are a Lundin group, a number of south siders seeking to shake off the Harding domination, the supporters of Caldwell, and, to some extent, the followers of Charles S. Deneen.

The Weber-Moore-Harding combination, openly threatened with attack by the rebels, has adopted a policy of waiting. The hostiles were almost ready to attempt a coup d'état Monday evening. Their plan then was to seize control by resolving the committee into the committee of the whole which would pick a slate. But they lacked votes to put the plan over.

Their next idea, disclosed yesterday afternoon, was to attempt the passage of a resolution for an adjournment of the county committee until after the primaries of April 14. Second thought led them to drop this before last night's session. Now they are considering whether they will try this or some other step at the third meeting of the series tonight.

Way to Test Strength.

One other means of a test of strength would be a motion to indorse Caldwell, but it is believed that the rebels fear that some of those committeemen now lined up with them in the scrap for power might not go so far as to vote with them on such a motion. The Brooks backers are emphatic in their assertions that despite seven months' work by Caldwell he could not possibly attain majority support.

Such a motion also would be in conflict with the recently adopted resolution barring the committee from indorsing any candidate except by an 80 per cent vote.

Under these conditions last night's meeting adjourned after a few minutes for the presentation of the names of additional candidates for state and county offices. Among them were those of John J. Tyrrell, vice chairman of the state central committee, for attorney general; George Oscar Lehr for state auditor, and William F. Waugh for state's attorney.

Charles W. Hadley of Wheaton, an announced candidate for attorney general, addressed the Abraham Lincoln Young Republicans at the Hamilton club last night, comparing the present national situation to the crisis preceding the civil war.

Evans, of Oconomowoc to preside at Clarke's preliminary hearing tomorrow. It was hinted today that he would charge that authorities forced him to confess. The state claims he admitted strychnine was administered to Mrs. Clark to kill her. The state will rely principally on the disputed confession, the testimony of a drug clerk who sold the poison to Clark and Dr. E. L. Tharinger, Milwaukee pathologist. Dr. Tharinger made a postmortem examination.

Meanwhile he held his hand threateningly in a pocket and forced Miss Pfeffer to give him $20 from the cash drawer. Then he fled.

ELEVATOR MEN IN N. Y. ORDERED TO STRIKE TODAY

New York, Jan. 21.—[Special.]—The Building Service Employés union today called a strike of elevator operators and other service workers in 200 buildings to go into effect tomorrow morning.

The walkout, involving 2,500 men and women, will be centered in the area between 14th and 41st streets and 5th and 9th avenue, and is intended to be preliminary to the wider tieup of many hundreds of buildings planned by the union for Feb. 1.

This also is the date set for a strike of more than 100,000 dress workers, 10,000 shipping clerks, and 12,000 fur workers. Negotiations involving the three last named categories have been in progress for some time, but without much prospect of a settlement.

Vandals Smash Windows in Elsie Anderson Tavern

Two men in an automobile drove past the tavern of Mrs. Elsie Anderson, 721 East 75th street, late last night and hurled bricks through the windows. In front of this tavern last summer Attorney David K. Cochrane Jr. was shot and killed when he intervened in a sidewalk scuffle. Jeffrey O'Donohue, a probationary policeman at the time, was indicted for Cochrane's murder.

COURTNEY HEADS SLATE PREDICTED FOR DEMOCRATS

Harmony Is Forecast on County Ticket.

Informal chats among members of the Democratic county slate committee led yesterday to predictions among the well informed that the regular organization ticket will be completed before the end of this week and that throughout it will be a "harmony" ticket.

In other words the authoritative opinion was expressed that every one of the Democratic incumbents whose term expires, a list headed by State's Attorney Thomas J. Courtney, will be slated for renomination.

"The slate committee has not been called into session, but the "harmony" forecast is based on talks of members with County Chairman P. A. Nash and among themselves. It is probable that Chairman Nash will issue the call for a committee meeting today or tomorrow.

No Decision to Drop Courtney.

The informal conferences have disclosed that there never has been any decision to drop State's Attorney Courtney from the slate and that the rumors of his being scratched came from a few ward committeemen who feel they have had rough treatment at his hands. They are said to have inspired newspaper propaganda concerning the prosecutor in the hope of swinging the leaders against him.

The only place on the ticket about which there seems to be any doubt is the county treasurership. Joseph L. Gill, who was elected to that office by the county board following the ouster of Robert M. Sweitzer, intends to run again for his old place as clerk of the Municipal court.

With the treasurership spot thus left open, there is said to be an increasing likelihood that Horace G. Lindheimer, now assistant treasurer, may be named for the post. Following the organization's dropping of Gov. Henry Horner for renomination, there is a desire to name some Jew for an important county office. Until this development State Representative James P. Boyle [4th] was considered assured of this place on the regular ticket.

Tentative Slate Is Given.

The forecasters said that, with the treasurership left open until the committee meeting, the rest of the regular slate will be as follows, all of those except Gill being incumbents:

STATE'S ATTORNEY — Thomas J. Courtney.

RECORDER—Edward J. Kaindl.

CIRCUIT COURT CLERK—John E. Conroy.

SUPERIOR COURT CLERK—Frank V. Zintak.

ROOSEVELT PLANS A DAIRY FARM ON HYDE PARK ESTATE

Hyde Park, N. Y., Jan. 21.[Special.]—A modern dairy farm will be developed on property to be added to President Roosevelt's estate near here, if present plans are carried out.

Peter C. Rohan, part owner of Rohancrest farm, said representatives of the President had been negotiating for the purchase of 450 acres adjoining the present property, and that the President planned to erect buildings and stock the place with blooded dairy cattle.

The property is east of Mrs. James Roosevelt's estate where the President makes his headquarters when he comes to Hyde Park.

It is reported here that Elliott Roosevelt, son of the President, will manage the venture. Another son, James, recently installed a cost-accounting system on the farm and is undertaking the management of general farming and conservation work the President has on the place.

HUNT 'COCKPIT TROUBLE' CLEW IN PLANE CRASH

Arkansas Swamp Tragedy Still a Mystery.

BY WAYNE THOMIS.

Unless investigators can find some evidence of what happened in the cockpit of the American Airlines plane the Southerner during the sixty seconds before this big Douglas DC-2 ship destroyed itself and the seventeen persons aboard by plowing into the scrub oaks of an Arkansas bog on Jan. 14 the cause of the crash is likely to be an unsolved mystery. Inspectors for the federal bureau of air commerce and officials of the airline agree upon this point, it became known yesterday.

The history of the shattered airplane is known. The flying ability, operation practices, and experience of the crew members have been definitly established. The wreckage, tangled and scattered though it was, told a story to the trained men who went over every plate and spar of the plane and over the scrambled motors and propellers. The stories of eyewitnesses who saw the last dive of the plane have been recorded.

No Answer to the "Why?"

The investigators are certain they now know accurately the details of how the accident happened. But to the question "why?" they have no answer.

Theories that a passenger slugged the pilots and plunged the ship into the earth in order to commit suicide in such a way that his insurance could be collected as if his death were accidental are pure conjecture. So also are suggestions that a crazed passenger invaded the cockpit, struggled with the pilots, and jammed the controls.

The following facts have been established:

The Southerner, flying from New York to Los Angeles, arrived at Memphis the night of the crash under command of Pilot Walt Hunter, who reported the engines, instruments, radio and ship functioning perfectly. Hunter left the ship there and Pilot Gerald Marshall and Co-Pilot Glenn Freeland, both of whom lost their lives in the accident, became the crew.

Report 15 Minutes After Takeoff.

They left Memphis at 7:03 p. m. At 7:18 Freeland talked to the Memphis field, reporting the plane proceeding on course at a height of 3,000 feet, with visibility 15 miles, a broken overcast sky at 4,500 feet and strong headwinds. This report was a routine matter.

Twelve minutes later, according to several farmers in the bottom lands who were watching the lights of the plane as it sailed along, the ship suddenly swerved. The nose was pointed downward at a 45 degree angle. The drone of the eingines rose to a scream as the ship picked up speed in the dive.

It was never pulled out of this dive, striking the trees at the 45 degree angle and at terrific speed. Flying men who viewed the wreckage said the plane must have been doing at least 200 miles an hour to tear itself into such bits. The propellers sheared off large trees before they pulled away from the motors.

Farmers Hunt for Wreck.

The farmers who saw the diving ship and heard its crash started a hunt for the wreck, which was found near Goodwin, Ark.

The search for evidences of mechanical failure was futile. The propellers were found and gave evidence that they had been ruined by striking the trees while operating at high speed, and indication that the engines were functioning normally. The path of clipped trees showed that the wings and tail were still on the plane when it struck.

It was found that the ignition switches were on, the wing flaps in up position, the wheels retracted, the landing flares intact, the landing light switched in off position. All these are indications that the pilot made no attempt to land. It also was found the entire ship had been overhauled by the manufacturer only two weeks befor the crash.

Record of the Pilot.

Marshall, the pilot, was known as "very conservative." He had 9,400 flying hours behind him and considerable experience as operating manager of Texas Air Transport and of Southern Air Transport before these companies became part of American Airlines. Pilots who had flown with him reported he never flew lower than 3,000 feet over the Arkansas swamps.

Freeland, the co-pilot, had 600 flying hours, had been in the Fort Worth operations office of the airline for one year and had been flying as co-pilot for six months. Both he and Marshall recently passed good physical examinations. Neither had any domestic or financial worries.

Finding of the body of a man along with the bodies of the pilots and far ahead of the rest of the wreckage might indicate that one of the passengers was in the cockpit at the time of the crash, the investigators said. This is not conclusive evidence, however.

Pistol Found in Cabin.

Among the effects of passengers taken from the cabin wreckage was an automatic pistol. The weapon was not discovered until the baggage and clothing were sorted out by a Memphis undertaker. While the pistol will be sent to the federal department of justice for examination by experts, its presence in the plane was not regarded as significant.

"We have virtually eliminated structural failure from possible causes," said one inspector for the bureau of air commerce. "The stories of eyewitnesses indicate there was some kind of cockpit trouble."

TELLS A TALL TALE OF A DOE PUTTING A BIG BOBCAT UP TREE

Los Angeles, Cal., Jan. 21.—[Special.]—Deputy Game Warden Max Silvernale came down from the mountains today with a tale.

"I saw a doe looking for a shady spot among some trees," Silvernale said. "When she entered the clump of trees she discovered a large bobcat occupying the best location.

"The doe stopped. Both animals eyed each other intensely for about a minute. Then the doe dashed forward with feet flashing.

START ARRESTS FOR OLD AUTO LICENSES TODAY

Police to Impound Cars Stored in Streets.

Chicago police are to be ordered to start arresting motorists today if they have not obtained their 1936 city vehicle and state licenses, according to City Controler Robert B. Upham.

"We have been very lenient, Mr. Upham said yesterday. "We have given car drivers three weeks longer than the law specifies."

Police Commissioner James P. Allman said that he had not as yet made a special assignment of policemen to enforce the license laws, but added that he would carry out the city controler's order.

Few Purchase New Licenses.

Before Jan. 1 both Commissioner Allman and Controler Upham declared that motorists would be given no grace period in the matter of state and city car licenses.

Yesterday only about 4,000 Chicagoans applied for their new vehicle license stickers, bringing the total for the year to 314,277. The daily capacity of the city clerk's office is 10,000 licenses, and last year 484,000 city vehicle licenses were sold.

State license applications at the secretary of state's branch license office at 120 South Ashland avenue are now averaging between 5,000 and 6,000 a day, it was announced, as against the daily capacity of 18,000 to 20,000.

Rules Out Indefinite Parking.

Mr. Upham announced also yesterday that, starting on Feb. 1, the police would start impounding all autombiles parked for long periods in the streets or in vacant lots.

"Many motorists," Upham said, "drain their cars in the fall and leave them out of doors all winter, thus creating eyesores and trafic hazards. I am going to order that all such cars be towed in to garages and stored at the owners' expense."

Father and 3 Children Die in Gas Filled Flat

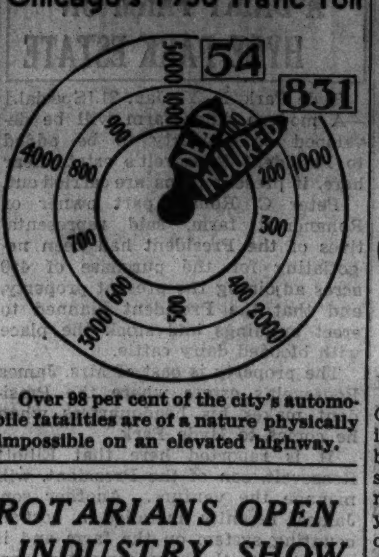
THE MASSACRE

Chicago's 1936 Trafic Toll



Over 98 per cent of the city's automobile fatalities are of a nature physically impossible on an elevated highway.

ROTARIANS OPEN INDUSTRY SHOW AT LOOP HOTEL

A cross section of the products of 135 industries went on display at the Hotel Sherman yesterday when the Rotary Club of Chicago opened its third annual business exposition.

"Safety" is the keynote of many of the exhibits. One, dealing with instruction in fire prevention, shows a graveyard of white tombstones bearing such legends as "I smoked in bed." Another exhibit offers safe driving tests for motorists.

At the entrance to the exhibit is a miniature hospital ward, where four crippled dolls are lying in bed, bolstered up by braces and derricks.

WOMAN INJURED BY DOCTOR'S CAR DIES IN EVANSTON

County's Trafic Fatality Toll Goes to 63.

Miss Ann Mesnar, 25 years old, 115 Grace street, Park Ridge, who walked into the side of an automobile driven by Dr. Keith Duncombe of 935 Curtis street at Touhy and Cumberland avenues, in Park Ridge, on Friday, died yesterday of her injuries in St. Francis hospital in Evanston. Dr. Duncombe was arrested on a warant charging involuntary manslaughter.

Charles Bennett, colored, 40 years old, 440 East 31st street, died in the County hospital yesterday of injuries incurred Sunday when he was struck while walking at 17th street and Western avenue by an automobile driven by Eugene Koff, 35 years old, 7615 Normal avenue.

Injury List Climbs to 831.

Up to 4 p. m. yesterday 63 persons had been killed by automobiles in Cook county since Jan. 1, according to the coroner's office. In the same period, 54 were killed and 831 injured within the Chicago city limits.

Chief Justice John J. Sonsteby of the Municipal court announced yesterday that a system of card index records of trafic violators has been installed in the speeders', boys, and automobile safety courts. The card indexes, retroactive to Jan. 1, are the first step toward a permanent record of violations by every motorist who appears in court.

Will Keep Tab on Repeaters.

The records will aid judges in determining penalties for repeaters.

At a meeting of the North Central Kiwanis club in the Drake hotel during the day, Paul W. Kunning, manager of the domestic commerce department of the Chicago Association of Commerce, pointed out that the motor violation record kept in Evanston is one of the reasons why the suburb has reduced auto accidents more than 80 per cent in the last four years.

Fine Night Club Hostess for Conducting Poker Game

Miss Lou Davis, 42 years old, 4526 Sheridan road, a tavern hostess, who presided over a poker game in room 1421 at the Brevoort hotel Monday night, was fined $100 and costs on a charge of keeping a gaming establishment by Judge George B. Weiss in the Womens' court yesterday. She was also fined $25 and costs for distributing betting information. The police arrested Miss Davis after Byron Cowan, 22 year old, 549 Aldine avenue, reported that he had lost $40 in the game.

MOTOR INDUSTRY OPENS CAMPAIGN ON SAFE DRIVING

New York, Jan. 21.—(AP)—Spokesmen of the automobile industry today launched a national campaign for safe driving.

"We've got to make it smart to drive safely instead of smart to be reckless," said Paul G. Hoffman, president of the Studebaker corporation and chairman of the Automobile Manufacturers' association safety committee.

He said the association was preparing to spend an unfixed sum of money in aid of women's clubs, American Legion posts, Parent-Teacher associations and associations of public officials now engaged in highway safety work.

Alfred P. Sloan Jr., president of General Motors corporation, who joined in the announcement, said that the industry believed that "by continuous education much can be done to reduce the toll the highway now levies upon the community."

Hoffman said that he though "horror" campaigns merely "scare a few safe drivers off the road and leave the reckless driver untouched."

Do This to Ease Sore Throat Instantly

Relieve Soreness in Three Minutes This Easy Way

1. The moment you feel a throat irritation, crush and stir 3 BAYER ASPIRIN Tablets in ⅓ glass of water. Gargle twice. Do not rinse mouth.

2. If you have a cold, take 2 BAYER ASPIRIN Tablets and drink a full glass of water. Repeat, if necessary, according to directions in package.

IF you want the most astonishing and quickest relief from sore throat, you have ever experienced, just do this:

Crush and dissolve three Bayer Aspirin Tablets in ⅓ glass of water for use as a gargle.

Gargle your throat twice with this medicated mixture, holding the head well back to allow its going deep into the throat.

That's all! Relief will come almost instantly. For the Bayer Aspirin will act like a local anesthetic to ease throat pains. And, at the same time, will soothe and quiet irritation.

People by the tens of thousands are combating sore throat this way. Doctors endorse it. And scientists acclaim it as perhaps the most effective gargle yet discovered—for it provides a medication, and it takes medicine to combat a sore throat.

If you have a cold with your sore throat — take two Bayer Aspirin tablets with a full glass of water at the same time you gargle. When you buy, though, be sure to get real BAYER ASPIRIN TABLETS. They dissolve fast and work fast; bringing quick relief.

Why BAYER Aspirin Works So Fast

Drop a Bayer Aspirin tablet into a glass of water. By the time it hits the bottom of the glass it is disintegrating.

IN 2 SECONDS BY STOP WATCH

A Genuine Bayer Aspirin tablet starts to disintegrate and go to work. What happens in these glasses happens in your stomach — Genuine BAYER Aspirin tablets start "taking hold" of pain a few minutes after taking.

ILLINOIS LEGION TO HELP 253,000 VETS GET BONUS

State Posts to Give Out Application Blanks.

Application blanks for the payment of adjusted service certificates will be supplied all war veterans by the American Legion as soon as the new bonus bill becomes a law, it was announced yesterday at the Chicago offices of the Illinois department of the Legion.

According to the plans of C. Elmer Taylor, state organization officer, the 214 Legion posts in Cook county and others throughout Illinois will provide blanks and information to the state's approximately 253,000 veterans. The Legion will forward the applications to the veterans' administration, retaining a record of the transaction for the future convenience of the applicants.

Plan to Have All Register.

Plans also were being made to have all service men register at posts so Legion officials may know how many blanks will be needed. The first floor of the building at 127 North Dearborn street, in which are the Legion's Chicago headquarters, will be used for giving out blanks and information in the loop area.

It was estimated by L. R. Benston, state department service officer of the Legion, that 15,000 to 20,000 ex-service men in the Chicago metropolitan district have lost the pink slips they received from the veterans' administration at the times they borrowed money on their adjusted service certificates.

Benston Advises Procedure.

Benston said it was his opinion that it will be necessary for veterans to have at least the identifying numbers appearing on these certificates before they will be permitted to make application for the balance of the money due.

The veteran who has lost his pink slip, Benston said, should write to the regional office of the veterans' administration which made the last loan to him, giving his army serial number, company, regiment, and the address where he was living at the time he got the loan.

This office, Benston said, will furnish the veteran a duplicate slip or enough information in an official letter to enable him to complete his application for the balance of his adjusted compensation. The regional office of the veterans' administration for the state of Illinois is at Hines.

VOTE TO INDICT PAROLEE IN TAX FIXING FRAUDS

Two true bills charging embezzlement were reported voted yesterday by the grand jury against David Beyers, 37 years old, who is on parole from Joliet penitentiary. Beyers, who owns a tavern at 8212 Niles Center road, Niles Center, is alleged to have accepted $1,663 from Raymond C. Klehm, 7835 Niles Center road, and $829 from John Schoenberger, 8042 Lincoln avenue, Niles Center, on the pretense that he could get their taxes cut.

Beyers was sentenced in 1930 to 1 to 10 years in Joliet on similar charges. At that time he was alleged to have derived between $100,000 and $150,000 from a tax adjustment racket. He was paroled late in 1934.

'WIDOW' SUES FOR SHARE OF FARGO ESTATE

CommonLawMarriage Claim Advanced.

Records of the Probate court disclosed yesterday that the bachelorhood of the late Livingston Wells Fargo, well known Chicagoan, has been challenged by a woman who is seeking legal recognition as his common law widow in order to share in his estate.

The woman is Lucille Camden Fargo, 49 years old. She is described by her attorney, Paul A. Neuffer, as a former Virginia belle who is now an employé of the federal Works Progress administration here.

In behalf of his client Neuffer has filed in the Probate court a petition and an affidavit alleging that she and Mr. Fargo entered into a common law marriage in Philadelphia on May 5, 1906, when she was 19 years old and Mr. Fargo was 46.

Member of Express Family.

Mr. Fargo died on Nov. 14, 1934, in his rooms at the Chicago club where he had resided for more than thirty years. He was 74 years old. He was a former vice president of the old American Express company. This concern succeeded the historic Wells-Fargo company which his family helped to found in the gold rush days of 1849.

His father, Charles Fargo, and two uncles were executives of the American Express company before him.

Twenty years before his death, however, Livingston Fargo retired from the company to manage his mining properties in the Mesabe iron range of northeastern Minnesota. When he died there was no mention of a wife and Mr. Fargo left no will.

Common Law Marriage Issue.

The issue of common law marriage raised by Lucille Fargo presents a legal problem to the Probate court. In 1905 an Illinois statute outlawed common law marriages in this state. Such marriages, however, are recognized in Pennsylvania where the claimant alleges her common law union with Mr. Fargo took place. Her counsel will argue that the alleged marriage, being legal in Pennsylvania, must be recognized here.

Another issue in the case is expected to be the amount of Mr. Fargo's estate. The estate is insolvent because the claims against it far exceed its value, according to Attorney Frank B. Gilmer, who is counsel for Mrs. Edith Andrews Sturgis, 2440 Lake View avenue. Mrs. Sturgis, a niece of Mr. Fargo, is the administratrix of his estate. She is the wife of William Bayard Sturgis.

Mrs. Sturgis has filed bond as administratrix with an estimate of $500 as the probable value of the estate. Attorney Neuffer for Lucille Fargo has indicated that he is not satisfied with this estimate and that if his client's rights as widow are established he will go into the question of the estate's assets.

Among the total of $373,715 in claims filed against the estate is one by Mrs. Sturgis for $345,310. Her claim says that Mr. Fargo "borrowed or appropriated" from her shares of stock having a value of $216,645, on which $126,665 in interest is owing.

Another claim is for $23,250 on a loan made to Mr. Fargo by the Continental Illinois National bank. The loan was made on Nov. 13, 1934, the day before his death.

G. O. P. CONSIDERS PUTTING KEYNOTE ON NIGHT RADIO

Would Be an Answer to Roosevelt Opener.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Jan. 21.—[Special.]—Availing themselves of the first opportunity for a national broadcast to answer President Roosevelt's speech to congress, Republican leaders are planning a night session of the Republican national convention next June for the delivery of the party keynote speech.

Henry P. Fletcher, chairman of the Republican national committee, admitted today that he is considering this departure from the usual program which calls for the delivery of the keynote speech shortly after the convention meets at noon.

Temporary Chairman's Job.

The speech will be made by the temporary chairman of the convention who takes the gavel as soon as the temporary roll of delegates submitted by the national committee is approved.

The speech, like all the subsequent proceedings of the convention, will be broadcast by the principal radio chains. If delivered in the afternoon, however, it would be heard by only a fraction of the number of people who would be listening in at night. It was this consideration that caused President Roosevelt to upset the traditional arrangements for his message to congress on the state of the union Jan. 3 and to select the hour of 10 p. m. for his address.

Call Message a Pretext.

The President was accused of seizing upon the annual message as a pretext for the delivery of a political stump speech which was the first gun in his campaign for reëlection, and of choosing a time that would command the largest possible audience.

The Republican temporary chairman and keynoter will be selected by the national committee. Next to the platform his speech will be the most important pronouncement at the convention. It will indict the New Deal and outline the attitude of the Republican party thereto. There is much speculation on the choice of the keynoter. Among those discussed for the rôle are Attorney General John W. Bricker of Ohio, Congressman Theodore Christianson of Minnesota, and Glenn Frank, president of the University of Wisconsin.

HE VOTES 53 YEARS, AND THEN BECOMES A CITIZEN OF U. S.

Ottumwa, Ia., Jan. 21.—(AP)—Gus Peterson of Lockridge, Ia., who has been voting 53 years, received the legal right to vote today when he renounced allegiance to "foreign princes and potentates" to become a United States citizen.

Peterson, 74, explained to federal court officials that he came to this country with his family when 8 and that since his grandfather became a naturalized citizen "I always figured I was one—until I found out different.

"I guess," he said, "there's nothing to be done about all the illegal votes I cast. But they probably didn't elect any one anyhow."

STATE FINISHES 4TH SCOTTSBORO TRIAL EVIDENCE

Defense Is Denied Motion for Mistrial.

Decatur, Ala., Jan. 21.—(AP)—The state rested tonight in the fourth trial of Heywood Patterson, one of the nine colored defendants in the Scottsboro rape case, after the defense sought vainly for a mistrial.

Attorney Clarence L. Watts entered the motion declaring the court had "shown impatience" with defense counsel, but was overruled by Judge W. W. Callahan.

The state concluded its case quickly, presenting only ten witnesses. One was Opie Golden, guard at the state penitentiary, who testified Patterson told him he raped "them girls" and that his eight co-defendants likewise are guilty.

They are accused of raping Mrs. Victoria Price and Ruby Bates, mill workers, aboard a freight train in 1931.

The confession was made, Golden testified, while Patterson, thrice convicted and sentenced to die, was in the death house pending appeal.

Preceding Golden Mrs. Price testified for the eighth time regarding the asserted attack and identified Patterson as one of the rapists.

U. S. OFFICIAL PROMOTED.

Maj. W. L. Ray, assistant supervisor of the federal alcohol tax unit for the Chicago area, has been promoted to the position of district supervisor at Newark, N. J., according to an announcement yesterday.

COMMERCE GROUP'S MEMBERS ASKED FOR VIEW ON TIME CHANGE

The Chicago Association of Commerce is asking its members to express their views on eastern standard time, which will be adopted officially by the city government on March 1 under the terms of an ordinance recently adopted.

Postal cards containing three questions relating to the change are being sent to members. "We will welcome any further views you have on this subject," the cards state, "for presentation to the interstate commerce commission when formal hearings are assigned with respect to changing railroad schedules."

The questions are: "Will you conduct your business on eastern standard time for Chicago?" "Will you operate your business on the old basis [daylight saving time during the summer months, and central standard time for the remaining period of the year], regardless of city ordinance?" and "Do you wish to appear before the interstate commerce commission and present the views of your company?"

Judge Fisher Dismisses Suit of 279 Policemen

A mandamus suit against the city brought by 279 policemen whose names were on the civil service list March 10, 1931, for promotion to sergeancies and who contended certain promotions from the list were illegal, was dismissed yesterday by Circuit Judge Harry M. Fisher. Judge Fisher said to tamper with the present order of things would "seriously unbalance and disturb our police department." Attorney R. E. Blackwood, who represented most of the plaintifs, indicated he would appeal Judge Fisher's ruling to the Illinois Appellate court.

WHEN YOU APPLY FOR ANOTHER POSITION
Look Your Age Not Ten Years Older
APPEARANCE MEANS SO MUCH

Young, middle aged and even older men are learning to take scalp treatments to save their hair, just as they take dentiatry to save their teeth. That makes sense.

WELLINGTON'S years of research have been followed by personally giving and supervising treatment of thousands of cases.

His examination and conscientious statement concerning your own individual case is alone worth the price of a course of treatment. Doubtful cases are not taken. There is no exaggeration, misrepresentation or high pressure to secure patronage.

In the Chicago Tribune of Jan. 3rd is an article on "The Hair and Scalp" by an eminent medical authority. You should read it. For years Wellington has noted all the factors mentioned and interpreted them to his patrons. They speak of this now with high appreciation. His treatment squares with the finest of medical ethics.

WELLINGTON treatments save and thicken the hair by gently restoring circulation to starved areas. By doing away with disorders caused by micro organisms. By ridding the scalp of dandruff, dryness, itching or over-oiliness, and enabling you to maintain this healthful condition. After a thoroughly scientific examination, for which there is no charge you may, if you wish, have

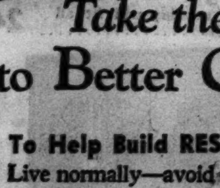
To Help AVOID Many Colds
To Help SHORTEN a Cold..

Take these 3 Simple Steps to Better CONTROL OF COLDS

1. To Help Build RESISTANCE to Cold

Live normally—avoid excesses. Eat simple food and keep elimination regular. Drink plenty of water. Take some exercise daily—outdoors preferably. Get plenty of rest and sleep. (During the colds season, gargle night and morning with Vicks Voratone Antiseptic, especially designed for safe daily use to aid in defense against infection which may enter through the mouth.)

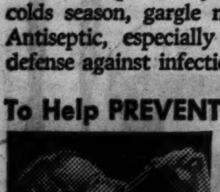
2. To Help PREVENT Many Colds



VICKS VA-TRO-NOL

At the first warning nasal irritation, sniffle or sneeze, use Vicks Va-tro-nol—just a few drops up each nostril. Va-tro-nol is especially designed for the nose and upper throat—where most colds start. Used in time, Va-tro-nol helps to prevent many colds—and to throw off head colds in the early stages.

3. To Help END a Cold Sooner



VICKS VAPORUB

If a cold has developed, or strikes without warning, rub throat and chest at bedtime with Vicks VapoRub. VapoRub acts two ways at once: (1) By stimulation through the skin, like a poultice or plaster. (2) By inhalation of its penetrating medicated vapors, direct to inflamed air-passages. Through the night, this combined vapor-poultice action loosens phlegm, soothes irritation, helps break congestion.

These three steps form the basis of Vicks Plan for Better Control of Colds—a practical home guide to fewer and shorter colds. Developed by Vicks Chemists and Medical Consultants; tested in extensive clinics by practicing physicians; further proved in everyday home use by millions. Full description of the Plan in each Vicks package—or write for details of Plan and trial samples of Vick Colds-Control Aids. Address: Vicks, 113 Milton St., Greensboro, N. C.

FASTEST-STARTING GASOLINE IN STANDARD OIL HISTORY! 35% QUICKER WARM-UP WITH NEW STANDARD RED CROWN

It seems Olivia de Havilland figured that Errol Flynn, her starring partner in Warner Brothers' new picture, "Captain Blood," wouldn't have much luck getting the engine a'going, what with zero temperatures around and about. But Olivia didn't figure on the double-quick starting power of Standard's new winter gasoline—and Errol did!

THE SURPRISE of the lovely lady pictured above isn't so exaggerated as you may think. You'll get a surprise, too—a very pleasant surprise—the first time you try starting a cold engine with that new winter gasoline, Standard Red Crown.

It's just made for cold weather—made to catch at the first flash of the spark—made, also, so that it warms up a zero-cold engine to full, smooth driving-power fully 35% faster, and that saves plenty of gasoline, naturally!

Mid-summer performance in mid-winter—that's the ticket Standard Oil engineers have written for you this winter. Get some of this new Standard Red Crown now—and see what happens next time you step on the starter! Sold by Standard Oil Stations and Dealers everywhere, at the price of "regular" gasoline.

Also—SOLITE with Ethyl, Standard's superlative new high-anti-knock gasoline—slightly higher in price, and worth it! Ask the Serviceman.

"The Newspaper is an institution developed by modern civilization to present the news of the day, to foster commerce and industry, to inform and lead public opinion, and to furnish that check upon government which no constitution has ever been able to provide."—Chicago Tribune.

GEORGE THE FIFTH.

King George in his Christmas radio talk to the people of his empire referred feelingly to the many evidences they had given of loyalty to the throne during trying years and added that he thought some extended even to "the man, God help him," who occupied it. It seemed at the time that the little observation contained in it nearly all of the modern doctrin of British sovereignty and the explanation of the success of George V. His achievement was that of individual character and personal honor carrying the monarchical institution through times which in every other great country saw its destruction.

What the real worth of the British crown may be to the British nation and empire is for the British themselves to determine. In a democracy it is an anachronism, but other European peoples who suddenly and violently disposed of their royal families soon made themselves harder beds. In several cases they made themselves racks. When George V. succeeded to the crown over twenty-five years ago no one would have said that the British were any more confirmed to order and to law than the Germans, and yet we know that the equilibrium of the one people was overthrown and of the other not.

There have been Englishmen of various sorts who believed the continuance of British monarchy was an absurdity in modern times. These Englishmen ranged from intellectuals to radical Laborites. If the crown had been weakened by the character and conduct of the sovereign the British form of government might have been changed almost any time after the war. Although the high caste English have not shown much regard for what are known as the democratic bourgeois moralities, the king and queen of Great Britain have always been exemplars of all the virtues contained within this code at its best.

British historical commentators have said that constitutional monarchy in Great Britain entered a new period when Victoria at 18 ascended the throne. What they mean is that for the first time it was established within the understanding of the sovereign that there would never again be an attempt at an extension of the royal prerogatives contrary to the limitations set upon them. The sovereign would reign, but would not rule. Sovereignty became the figurehead of the nation, with certain executive duties in fact more clerical than regal. It is true that, regardless of political restraints and constitutional limitations, it is never possible to make the supreme head of a social order an entirely negative character. Probably the greatest influence of such a king as George V. will be psychological and imponderable.

The English and British kings who have tried to exercise the prerogatives of sovereignty have been the rulers most costly to the nation. The first Charles lost his head and overthrew the throne in his fall. The second James drove himself into exile and brought the revolution and a foreigner. The third George cost the empire its mightiest domain and was the real father of the American republic. Only such a king as the fifth George could have saved the monarchical institution in Britain when it was being destroyed in Russia, Germany, Austria-Hungary, and Spain, and being sent to the garret in Italy. If it is good for the British people to ride at the anchorage of monarchy while all of Europe is tossed about in a revolutionary tempest, it must be said that no one better than the high principled king now dead could have been found for the purpose. In many lands there has been a widespread regard and respect for him in his character as an honorable gentleman.

The future of Great Britain with Edward VIII. is quite outside the prophetic vision. Nature stamped the new king differently from his father. Again the British people may be entering a new era.

DREAMING HE DWELT.

Mr. Roosevelt, the night of Jan. 8, thought he was Andrew Jackson. That was just one more mistake. If Mr. Roosevelt is to have similar reflections upon other occasions he might, the 17th of this month, have thought he was Benjamin Franklin. Then February, with its two great anniversaries, would be irresistible. No, Mr. Roosevelt will not be George Washington or Abraham Lincoln. "With malice toward none."

Andrew Jackson was a soldier and the faults he brought to the White House were military virtues. In thinking of him this is remembered. Washington could discipline even his virtues. When the soldier should not dominate the statesman the soldier did not. The statesman said:

"The alternate domination of one faction over another, sharpened by the spirit of revenge, natural to party dissension, which in different ages and countries has perpetrated the most horrid enormities, is itself a frightful despotism. But this leads at length to a more formal and permanent despotism. The disorders and miseries which result gradually incline the minds of men to seek security and repose in the absolute power of an individual; and sooner or later the chief of some prevailing faction, more able or more fortunate than his competitors, turns this disposition to the purposes of his own elevation, on the ruins of public liberty."

No, Mr. Roosevelt is not Washington. He might be Kerensky the Menshevist who opened the door to Lenin and could not hold his own ground against him. He could start a revolution but not control it.

NOT MUCH FOR THE MONEY.

The absurdity of the Roosevelt silver fiasco is simply unbelievable. Logic would certainly tell us that such things can't happen. But there is the record. With great quantities of silver available in the world markets for about 41 cents an ounce, the government is paying 77½ cents for all the newly mined American silver offered. Of that folly we have spoken many times. But there is new nonsense. In addition, Mr. Morgenthau is buying other silver at high or low prices as fancy strikes him. The last week, with the final returns of the Literary Digest poll available, the number of years in a presidential term seem to stick in the mind of the secretary of the treasury. The consequence was that he bought a certain quantity of silver for 4 cents above what it was necessary for him to pay. A cat crossed his path as he was bound for the treasury another morning, which reminded him of the number of lives the animal is reputed to have. The day's buying was quickly priced at 7 cents above the market. Another explanation for the day's price was that he was at 6s and 7s with Senator Couzens. Those who sold the government some silver that morning hoped that he had gone skating the night before and cut a figure 8.

The addition of a third price for silver to the two we have recently had may be taken as the occasion for summarizing what the silver schemes have accomplished. For 500 million dollars the country has had established: 1. That the silver interests made fraudulent representations in getting their legislation through congress, and 2. That the administration of the nation's finances is in the hands of economic illiterates who fell for a hoax, apparently because it had the right political sponsorship.

The claims made by the silver advocates, which were so convincing, should be laid alongside the results. First it was represented that raising the price of silver would bring about a great gain in the sale of American goods to China. Instead of which the high price of silver has drained China of so much metal that she has had to turn to a new system of money. Our policy has thrown that country into a depression. In this disorder, which our meddling with silver has caused, we are selling less goods to China than in a long historical record.

Secondly it was said, and congress and the President believed it, that raising the price of silver would lift the general commodity price level. It has been conclusively established now that the price of silver hasn't the slightest effect upon other prices. Silver went from 51 cents to 81 cents as a result of government buying without a perceptible effect upon the quotations of wheat, cotton, or other goods. And similarly the metal has gone from 81 cents back to 41 cents within a few weeks' time without disturbance to the structure of prices.

Any student of elementary economics knew that there was nothing but greed and politics in the silver yarn. Competent financial authorities implored the government not to fall for it, but without effect. Now that the government has spent a half billion dollars to learn that what the experts told them was true, and that silver won't work either as a foreign trade stimulant or as a domestic price raiser, the next step is liquidation. The silver for which the government has not the slightest need should be sold for what it will bring. Some of the so-called profit on gold can be used to pay for the loss on silver. That can be done at once. What remains is to turn out the financial illiterates who fell for the silver nonsense. That, unfortunately, cannot be done until November.

Editorial of the Day

[Arizona Star, Tucson.]

The news from Washington indicates that the soldiers' bonus act will shortly be passed by congress in some form generally satisfactory to the veterans, and that even if it is vetoed by the President, congress will muster enough votes to override the veto. Its passage is a logical consequence, a practical exemplification, of how a certain philosophy, fostered and adopted in one phase of national activity, can be expanded into another. There is painful truth in the claims of the veterans that "the others got theirs, we are going to get ours." Much of the powerful opposition to the veterans' claims comes from the very people who established the precedent.

Every interest in the country that seeks a favor, help or protection from the government to protect it from competition, by imposing a tarif or granting it a subsidy, helped to establish this precedent. The taxes that will have to be imposed to pay the bonus are an insignificant amount as compared with the taxes that are exacted every day from the 120,000,000 consumers of America, on the food they buy and the clothes they wear. These favored interests are only a minority, yet by being organized and carrying a continuous campaign of propaganda they have secured "theirs" from the government. The veterans have only imitated them.

The organization of the RFC is another example. The very interests which are now the most vehement in their opposition to the bonus came to Mr. Hoover in 1931 and 1932 begging for aid. They were granted the aid. In the mechanics of operation they saved themselves at the expense of the people of the country. Instead of manfully taking their losses they secured help from the government and gave no thought to the precedent they established. They never stopped to think that if the government had a right to give them help it had a right to help the small fry also. One form of help and protection has bred countless other forms, as the various alphabetic agencies show and as the passage of the bonus bill demonstrates.

Until those particular interests, which have for years used the government as a means of garnering unearned profits, are willing to stand on their own feet and take losses along with profits, until they are willing to abandon their claims for special privilege, they must expect other organized minorities to do likewise. It is a contagious disease.

THE BOONDOGGLERS are getting out a new book instructing one and all how to boondoggle. Especial stress will be laid on boondoggling in the home; all you need is a pair of scissors, a saw, a hammer, and some nails and even the smallest child can, to say nothing of big sister and mama, take the things they find around the house and make all sorts of new clothes and pieces of furniture. All right, men, you'd better sleep with your trousers on if you don't want to see 'em all sliced up and made into a rag rug for the bathroom. And say good-by to the piano when you leave the house in the morning. After the little boondogglers get through with that piano it will either be a radio or an ice box. As for the books in the library—ha, the boondoggle book will tell the little ones how to take the leaves out of books and make them into pulp which can be molded into false faces and dolls. And as for neckties—well, the next time you see those neckties the home boondogglers will have transformed them into stockings and underwear. Boondogglers were rather amusing when they were dancing in the parks and counting the leaves on the trees, but boondogglers right in a fellow's own home—well, that's going to be something different again.

BECAUSE OF A WOMAN.

I stand like all the female race
And powder and rouge my patient face,
Absorbed in the task of forcing beauty
To do her long neglected duty.

Oiling an eyelash, darkening a brow,
Securer in art than nature now;
Grimly urging here and there
A wave in my astonished hair.

"Why?" you may ask in your alien way.
"Because of a woman," I would say;
"The woman inside me asks her chance:
These eyes reflect her living glance,

"These lips speak only of her heart;
Yet she herself must stay apart,
Forever shut in, forever alone,
Back of my face, and little known."

DO YOU REMEMBER back in the dim long ago when they used to sell baseball players on the hoof from ten thousand berries up to fifty thousand and more? And nowadays the clubs just give 'em away free and throw in a box of cigars and a couple of old uniforms and a pair of shoes with cleats in 'em. And if they can't give a player to any other club they just buy him a hand organ, a monkey, and a tin cup and show him a good corner to stand on. It's a changing world, a changing world!

O lyric Greek poet of Paros,
Thou knewest Aegan stuff well
Pray, one simple fact do disclose me;
One datum antiquish pray tell;
Why didst thou, in common with others,
In writing your pet Greek gazelle,
Your gal, as we nowadays put it,
Address her in words hard to spell?

ONE VERY PLEASANT PHASE in existence has come to pass now that we are getting farther and farther away from the dreadful dry days of prohibition and that is, we are getting so used to liquor that we no longer waste time, money, and gin inventing cocktails. We've slipped back into the old rut, martini, manhattan, or whisky cocktail and let it go at that. And when a man with a glitter in his eye steps up and says in a furtive tone, "I want you to try a new cocktail, something brand new, I invented it myself," we simply murmur "Nertz," and turning to the barkeep we say, "Another martini, Charley."

POETRY.

I am the voice of the tepid ones
Who do not dare
To go forth singing,
Stars in their hair!
The wife at the cradle
With her new born;
The maid at her knitting,
Lonely, forlorn.
I am the voice of the timid ones
Who do not sing,
For fear of the lash,
The wound and the sting.
The poor and the outcast,
With drooping head,
The Daphne, the Dryad,
The dancer in red!
I am the voice of the silent ones—
The deaf and the mute;
The song of the lark,
The moan of the flute.
The voice of the trees,
The trail and the brook;
The anthem of hills,
The song in a book.

For others I live . . .
Of others I sing.
For myself I keep
The remembering!

THE MANAGEMENT OF PEPTIC ULCER.

ULCERS in the stomach and the duodenum were first described accurately about a hundred years ago. Since then the attention of medical science has been directed toward this periodically painful disease.

There are certain peculiarities about peptic ulcer that are difficult to explain. For example, the condition is present in eight times as many men as women and the colored race is practically immune. Furthermore, animals do not develop these ulcers. The suggestion has been offered that the basic cause is some inherent upset of the nervous system—an "out-of-balance" as it were—that characterizes the ulcer patient. The roly-poly physique; the jocular mentality to whom the world is a joke, is rarely a victim. Peptic ulcer appears first of all to be a disease of the entire body, not alone of the mucous lining of the stomach, and it occurs for the most part in those long, lean, lank individuals who represent a highly nervous or worrying type.

The patient will nearly always relate that he has suffered from chronic indigestion for some time, although on close questioning he will admit that there have been periods in which he was symptom free. This cyclic character of the acute symptoms is quite typical. Pain is the most significant sign and, as a rule, will appear with clocklike regularity. If the ulcer is in the stomach many patients can foretell the coming of pain to the minute and there follows a regular sequence: [1] the taking of food, [2] a period of comfort, [3] a period of pain, [4] a period of comfort, [5] the taking of food, etc.

Vomiting may occur when the pain is severe. It is often preceded by nausea and sometimes patients will welcome the relief that follows emptying of the stomach. Slight bleeding, although common, rarely leads to vomiting. In some cases, however, the expulsion of an ounce or two of blood may be the first important symptom observed by the patient indicating the presence of an ulcer. Sometimes dark colored to black stools mean that extensive bleeding is taking place, the blood undergoing partial digestion in the intestine.

Exact recognition of the situation is not difficult, as by means of test meals and X-ray plates not only can the presence of an ulcer be proved but its position located with reasonable accuracy. Great care is necessary not to confuse peptic ulcer symptoms with those which arise as the result of gall bladder disease.

Treatment consists: first in bed rest for a week or two or until all signs of hemorrhage have disappeared; second, neutralizing excess gastric acidity which frequently exists; third, the use of gastric mucin or some type of nonirritating acid absorbent; and, fourth, regulation of the diet.

Most authorities regard the dietary régime of paramount importance. If a soft diet is prescribed, all the milk the patient wishes between meals is allowed. If gastric mucin is used this must be given in proper dosage at least every two hours. Every effort must be made to relieve the patient of mental worries and business cares. It may be necessary to remind him that his chief objective—for the time being at least—is to recover.

Many patients will improve more rapidly and hence greatly reduce the period of invalidism if they can be persuaded that absolute rest is imperative and that an adequate amount of sleep is a necessary part of the treatment. Peptic ulcers tend to become chronic or to recur. This situation may be avoided by a thorough ulcer regimen at the outset, with an examination once every six months thereafter.

Whenever pain in the region of the stomach follows meals—with or without nausea—it should be investigated promptly.

ELECTRIC SHOCK.

H. S. writes: I am glad you sounded a warning about electrical accidents, particularly in the home. Most of us have committed some of these indiscretions with impunity. Nevertheless, your warning is timely. Electric current from a faulty insulation, when passed through the human body, frequently causes death, particularly if the victim is in contact with a water faucet, gas pipe, radiator, or is standing on a wet or damp floor. Good insulators are dry wooden floors, carpets, linoleum, rubber mats, etc. Nails in the heels of shoes are good conductors; also nails in freshly repaired shoes.

Prof. Stefan Jellinek of Vienna believes that one can survive a much greater electric shock if he is expecting it than if it comes without warning. Another interesting point is that victims of electric shock can often be saved by persistent and prolonged artificial respiration. Jellinek cites the case of an engineer who received 25,000 volts. He was revived after three hours of artificial respiration. In this case the life saving squad wanted to give up at the end of two hours because the body was becoming cold.

WATER ON LUNGS.

J. B. writes:

1. My 11 year old brother has water on the lung. Is this serious?
2. Is it curable?
3. Is it true that this disease usually develops into tuberculosis?

REPLY.

1. It is not necessarily so.
2. Yes. It usually disappears after a few weeks of bed rest, although in some cases the fluid will need to be removed by the physician.
3. Tuberculosis is associated with many cases of pleurisy with effusion [water on the lung].

TRAIN YOURSELF.

F. G. writes: Whenever I am introduced to strangers I start to perspire and this lasts for about twenty minutes. What is the cause of this, and is there a cure?

REPLY.

Train yourself to achieve emotional stability. Your physical symptoms denote mental agitation out of all proportion to the occasion. Force yourself to think about the people you are meeting. They, too, may be shy. Try to make THEM feel at ease.

ROOM TEMPERATURE.

S. W. writes: What is the ideal room temperature? How about the humidity?

REPLY.

The temperature should be between 68 and 70 degrees F., and the relative humidity 40 to 50 per cent.

WARSAW, Poland.—Another carefully planned campaign to induce Americans of Polish descent to sign up with the World Alliance of Poles is being organized by the Warsaw government. If the ambitious project succeeds the Polish government will be authorized by the constitution of the alliance to send to America delegates who will control from behind the scenes the activities of the Polish National alliance, the Polish Roman Catholic union, and similar organizations.

Poland's fresh efforts to extend her influence in America, it is said in Warsaw, is chiefly due to the serious economic crisis which threatens to topple Poland from the gold standard and to force her to impose currency restrictions on the lines of those imposed by practically all European countries except France. Poland's chief interest in her nationals abroad is financial. Through the World Alliance of Poles she hopes to persuade Americans of Polish descent to bank their savings in Poland and to force Polish organizations to invest their reserves in Warsaw.

American officials in Warsaw estimate that remittances from America totaled between 10 and 15 million dollars last year. This figure is approximate, because Polish authorities refuse to divulge information concerning this source of income, which in the national budget was estimated at 20 million dollars.

The Polish parliament is now considering the 1936 budget whose estimates are: Revenue, $447,416,000; expenditure, $447,401,000; surplus, $15,000. If special funds formerly handled outside the budget are deducted the saving is approximately $4,747,000 over expenditures in 1935. The feat of balancing the budget has caused widespread suffering and the government's policy has been denounced by the press as "spreading poverty more equally." Government employés, now among the lowest paid in eastern Europe, have had their salaries taxed a total of $30,000,000 in addition to the taxes they already pay. This special tax is planned also for next year. The total additional burdens imposed by the new budget amount to $55,600,000, produced largely from new taxes and decreases in pensions. Relief measures promised by the government are estimated at $81,600,000, and include lowered railroad rates and commodity prices. Although the government claims this theoretical saving to the population amounts to $26,000,000, economists point out that industry is the chief sufferer.

Col. Adam Koc, assistant finance minister, who has vainly attempted to obtain a new $100,000,000 loan in New York, Paris, and London, has reported that chances for Poland obtaining large financial aid from abroad are slim until the government puts its house in order.

Among the important reforms being effected are the cancelation of 93 to 273 cartel agreements which have been milking the Polish public. The government's policy is to liquidate the industrial cartels but to permit those dealing in raw materials to continue operation. This policy has popular approval since the primary purpose of a cartel is to levy a tax on consumers to keep an inefficient enterprise alive. Many cartels were permitted to charge abnormally high prices on the domestic market in order to subsidize their dumping products abroad.

Another reason foreign banking groups are averse to granting Poland further credits or loans is that the state is already owner or partner in more than 1,500 various enterprises ranging from oil refining to the manufacture of typewriters. Many firms were taken over after they had been bankrupted by the confiscatory taxes.

Remittances from Americans of Polish descent and the large resources of their nation-wide organizations have therefore intrigued Polish financiers, and the plan to enlarge and attract these funds to Poland was formulated through organizing the Alliance of Poles Living Abroad. Warsaw hoped through this organization to coalesce its nationals in America into a Polish minority working under their direction to assist the mother country. But the Americans balked at this program and refused to sign on the dotted line.

Warsaw has not surrendered hope and fresh efforts are being made. Leaders of Polish organizations in America have again been invited to visit Warsaw this year, where they will be fêted and honored by the government, which also offers the bait of a decoration if support is pledged.

STATUS OF ESTATE.

Knoxville, Ill., Jan. 7.—[Legal Friend of the People.]—Twelve years ago my father deeded his sons each a division of a farm. He died ten years ago. The eldest son was mentioned in the will to take charge of the renting and render an accounting of the farm. He has had charge for ten years but has repeatedly refused to render me a statement of income and expenses. 1. How can I obtain a copy of the will? Estate was never probated nor was will ever filed in the Probate court. Estate was kept out of court entirely. He never had deeds recorded until four years after father's death. He holds the will. 2. Should I have an administrator appointed, demand a copy of the will and an accounting? M. A. P.

1. Ask the person who has the will in his custody for a copy. If he refuses, you can notify him that you will insist on probate or a penalty.
2. See 1.

READING NOT REQUIRED.

Chicago, Jan. 14.—[Legal Friend of the People.]—1. Could you please tell me if there is a specified date for the reading of a will? 2. Would it have to go through Probate court? Will you also tell me [3] if it is necessary for a house to go through Probate court when a quitclaim deed has been made? O. J.

1. No. The Illinois statutes make no provision for reading of the will.
2. Depends on whether they can be reduced to possession.
3. If you mean that the deceased conveyed the property to a third person before his death, then probate would not be necessary as to such property.

RED POLITICIAN IN THE PULPIT.

Stronghurst, Ill., Jan. 17.—I am writing to heartily commend your editorial in The Tribune of Jan. 17, entitled "Red Politicians in the Pulpit." A special effort is being made to convert preachers to communism and, I am sorry to say, with considerable success. These poor dupes do not seem to realize that the ultimate aim of communism is the destruction of the Christian religion.

Christ said: "My kingdom is not of this world." Our business is to preach the gospel from the pulpit. If we want to teach communism we should get a soap box and a red flag.

A. R. Adams,
Pastor, First Christian Church.

Chicago, Jan. 17.—Thank you for your editorial and articles regarding Red activities among the clergy. The church and state must remain separate and like Queen Esther of old, "Who knoweth whether thou art come to the kingdom for such a time as this?"

Just as Christ's chosen apostles could not understand that "His kingdom was not of this world," so today, after 1900 years, there are some who cannot perceive that Christ ruleth by being supreme in men's hearts. A. C. Crawford,
President, the Chicago Methodist Social Union.

Chicago, Jan. 16.—I wish as a layman of the Methodist Episcopal church, with a membership of many years, to protest vigorously the implication in today's paper that the Methodist Episcopal church is allied with or is in sympathy with the movements of the Federation for Social Service in convention in Evanston.

The rank and file of Methodist laymen absolutely repudiate the actions of the leaders of this socialistic, communistic body, and it is high time that the ecclesiastical heads of the Methodist church took action to purge Methodism of this misnamed organization. This great denomination has produced too many stanch Americans, leaders and pioneers in the building of our republic to see its name thus misused. Bishop Asbury blazed a trail of real religion and true Americanism. Bishop Simpson was a spiritual adviser and friend of Abraham Lincoln. What indeed would the sturdy, two fisted old Peter Cartwright, circuit rider and evangelist, who rode our Illinois prairies on horseback before the luxury of trains and automobiles had even been thought of, say if he could see the name of the church he struggled for allied with pinks and Reds as stated on the front page of The Tribune? And there are a host of others.

Once again permit me to say that Methodist laymen disclaim this group.

W. T.

DR. SMITH LIVES IN PRYOR, OKLA.

Pleasant Plains, Ill., Jan. 18.—Dr. Rembert G. Smith whose article on "Methodist Reds" was published in The Tribune last Sunday is a wise Methodist. He knows his Methodists. What I especially desire is his address or the address of the publisher of his pamphlet because I want to buy copies of the pamphlet for use among my Methodist friends. I am a 50 per cent Methodist. My mother was 100 per cent. She and my father were married by a Methodist circuit rider in 1868, so my attitude toward the Methodist church is entirely friendly so far as the church remains true to her principles and history. The Methodist Reds and near Reds are not a myth.

[Rev.] David A. McClung.

MAYBE THEY WERE HUNGRY, TOO.

Evanston, Ill., Jan. 17.—Hooray for the Supreme court! The ham sandwich I had for lunch today actually had some ham in it. AAAmen. L.

ACCURATE.

Chicago, Ill., Jan. 17.—Carey Orr's cartoon in this morning's Tribune is certainly a perfect snapshot of the PWA workers. I have watched these men at "work" and I wouldn't say it was the least bit exaggerated. E. Morgan.

INACCURATE.

Chicago, Jan. 18.—I wonder if you realized how cruelly your cartoon of Jan. 17 wronged the men and women on relief projects. According to the clear implication, the relief employés are deliberately loafers on the jobs in which they are engaged, a false imputation for all but a very small minority of them, if indeed there is even a minority of whom the implication of deliberate laziness is true. During the world war every man and woman, young and old, even cripples and so-called bums who had not worked for years, were employed and rendered good service to their employers and to society. The unemployed men and women of today are just as eager and ready to work for what they get and for what they should be getting as the men and women who are now employed. It is not possible for them to do real work on the projects about town. In our community, not long since, fifty-five men were trying to work with shovels on a fifty foot lot, leveling it up. Were they to blame for their assignment to that project where their chief task was to avoid interfering with one another and injuring one another?

When organized society will give the unemployed, and the relief-employed men and women, old and young, cripples and bums real jobs at real wages they will prove themselves quite as good citizens and quite as good workmen as the rest of us. It is understood that there was no intention on the part of your cartoonist, Mr. Orr, nor your editors in publishing that cartoon to insult the relief-employed of our city and county, but the insult is there as well as an injury to society which in my judgment deserves an editorial apology. Norman B. Barr.

REAPPORTIONMENT.

Chicago, Jan. 17.—Apropos the attempt of downstate senators and representatives to bog down Chicago with additional taxation, is not now an appropriate time to remind our senators and representatives from Chicagoland districts that unless some action is taken to redistrict the state in order that the largest taxpaying section of the state may have its lawful number of people in the lawmaking bodies at Springfield we will replace them with men who will? Every candidate for election or reëlection in the Chicagoland territory should be required to pledge himself and his influence toward a final solution of this much juggled subject. If a man is to be a member of a lawmaking body, it is not much to ask that his first task be to see that the lawmaking body itself conforms to the law.

C. L. McCormick,
348 South Kilbourn Avenue.

HORSES OF VARYING HUES.

Chicago, Jan. 16.—Can you please explain why when congress passes the NRA and the AAA nobody, not even the Supreme court, should interfere? However, when the same representatives of the people pass the bonus bill it is a horse of another color. It looks as if they are all out of step but Frankie. L. N.

PUN FOR THE DAY.

Chicago, Jan. 17.—Noting that the WPA is sponsoring shows put on by unemployed actors, I come to the conclusion that since the AAA has killed all the pigs the WPA is using all the hams. Paul Feinstein.

ORDERS ANOTHER SANITY TRIAL AS KEOGH PROTESTS

Judge Sets Hearing Feb. 3; Killer Tries to Orate.

Over his own vigorous protests John W. Keogh, who killed Attorney Christopher G. Kinney in Circuit Judge John Prystalski's courtroom on Jan. 13, was ordered to undergo a new sanity trial by Chief Justice Denis J. Normoyle of the Criminal court yesterday. The new hearing was set for Feb. 3, with the defendant shouting objections as court attendants tried to silence him.

Keogh's attacks upon the procedure began early in the day when the assignment hearing of the case was resumed before Chief Justice Normoyle. On Monday, when the case for assignment before the chief justice, Public Defender Benjamin Bachrach, as a friend of the court, moved that the jury verdict of Jan. 18, declaring Keogh sane, be set aside. The court continued the hearing to yesterday to hear arguments and to make the ruling. Yesterday Bachrach urged retrial.

Calls Verdict Ignores Facts.

"The verdict returned by a jury holding this defendant sane was against the weight of the evidence," Bachrach said.

The public defender was interrupted by Attorney Joseph Harrington, with whom Keogh had conferred about the case.

"I haven't yet decided," Harrington said, "whether I shall represent Mr. Keogh, but I want to be present here in case I do. I hold these proceedings to be illegal."

Keogh rose to his feet.

"Mr. Bachrach," he exclaimed, "is not representing me!"

Bailiffs silenced him.

Remarking that the verdict holding Keogh sane was "manifestly against the weight of the evidence," Judge Normoyle granted the new trial motion and reassigned the case to Judge

Defendant Attacks Procedure.

"But there's no motion before this court," Keogh shouted. As he was being forcibly led from the courtroom he turned to Judge Normoyle and said, "All right, but you, who claim to be a judge, are doing this unlawfully."

Later in the day, when the case was called before Judge Burke, Assistant State's Attorney Charles S. Dougherty objected to the intercession of Attorney Harrington on the ground that he had filed no appearance.

"So far as the court is concerned," Judge Burke said, "Albert L. Long is the attorney in this case."

Another Informal Oration.

"I'm the defendant," Keogh said angrily, "and I'm attorney per se. Mr. Harrington is my associate counsel. Mr. Long no longer represents me. I will take Mr. Harrington's advice as to procedure, but as to the law I am my own advocate.

"At the sanity trial the only man who testified was Dr. Harry Hoffman, state alienist. But no one testified as to the sanity of Dr. Hoffman, as should have been done."

Judge Burke set the new sanity trial hearing date and Keogh was led back to jail still muttering.

Keogh, formerly a wealthy real estate owner, has asserted that he killed Attorney Kinney and fired three shots at Judge Prystalski to focus public attention on the need for reapportionment in Illinois. He contends that remapping of congressional, state senatorial and judicial districts is legally obligatory every ten years but that the state has not been reapportioned since 1901. So, he says, the state courts and government legally do not exist, and he made himself a defendant in order to prove his point.

Libertyville Boy Gets 1-10 Term for Setting Two Fires

Robert Kick, 19 years old, of Libertyville, was sentenced to one to ten years in the penitentiary yesterday by Judge Ralph J. Dady of the Lake county Circuit court, Waukegan, for setting two fires in Libertyville on Armistice day. Kick admitted setting the fires, one which caused $1,000 damage in the Milwaukee railroad station, and the other in a barn owned by his grandfather,

GILL TO ASK PUPILS TO HELP COLLECT DELINQUENT TAXES

County Treasurer Joseph L. Gill announced yesterday he would call upon children of public and parochial schools to assist in his campaign to collect delinquent taxes. He said 750,000 pamphlets explaining the savings parents can make if they pay all of their delinquent taxes by Feb. 1 are now being printed for distribution through the schools.

The county treasurer said the school children would further the educational program which he has carried on recently in newspaper advertisments, on billboards, and in radio announcements. He felt that his efforts were getting results Monday when 319 home owners sought to take advantage of the promptness saving.

A law which went into effect July 1 provided that all home owners who wish to pay all their delinquent taxes for 1933 and prior years will have all the penalties for 1932 and prior years canceled if they pay by Feb. 1.

Key Is Clew in Peacock Murder

Closeup of hotel room key, together with memorandum book and prescription blanks of slain Dr. Silber Peacock, which are new clews in hunt for slayer.

[TRIBUNE Photo.]

A new clew—a mysterious key—in the Peacock murder case was being investigated by detectives last night. The key was found on the body of Dr. Silber C. Peacock, who was lured from his home in the Edgewater Beach apartments on the night of Jan. 2, supposedly to attend a sick child. He was found shot to death the following night in front of 6326 North Francisco avenue.

The key, apparently to a hotel room, was attached to a metal tag upon which the number 428 was stamped. At the reopening of the inquest yesterday police stated they had tried the key to doors in all the buildings Dr. Peacock was known to have visited. It fitted none. Police will continue their investigations today, trying the key in the locks on all Chicago hotel rooms that are numbered 428.

The inquest was postponed again after yesterday's brief session because the wife of the slain physician is still at Bowen, Ill., where she took her husband's body for burial. She said by phone that she knew nothing of the mysterious key.

DEMOCRATS WILL PASS BIG COUNTY BUDGET TODAY

Peter Kelly's Idleness Delays Vote.

The Democratic majority on the county board has completed plans for adoption of the $20,663,983 corporate [operating] budget, but because of the illness of Peter M. Kelly, one of the ten Democrats, the actual vote was postponed yesterday to a special meeting today.

There are 15 commissioners, ten Democrats and five Republicans. A two-thirds majority is necessary to pass the budget and since the five Republicans are expected to object, the others deemed it wise to await the recovery of Mr. Kelly, who is expected to be present at the meeting this morning.

Increases in All But Two.

The budget meanwhile was closed after the finance committee approved final changes. Appropriations of the 36 various departments of the county government are actually $2,274,311 above those for 1935, as the appropriation for general fixed charges for corporate purposes are set at $1,826,300, or $934,384 under the 1935 figure. All departments except two, the county treasurer's office and the board of appeals, show increases.

The largest single increase is shown in the appropriations for election commissioners. With a general election to provide for, the appropriation for this department was jumped $1,197,260 over the $184,600 figure last year. Other extraordinary items include $200,000 for the cost of carrying out a bond refunding program and $190,000 to cover the cost of installing a modern accounting system in the county treasurer's office.

The budget provides for restoration of half of the 15 per cent pay cut given employés four years ago. The 7½ per cent increase added about $375,000 to salary appropriations.

No provision for cost of administering the new state old age pensions law is made in the budget. Commissioner Maurice F. Kavanagh, chairman of the finance committee, stated that he expects the state to bear the full cost of administration of the act during at least the first year it is in operation.

The present law provides that counties shall bear one-half of such cost but legislation is now pending to provide for the state paying all of the expense in 1936.

Commissioners are expected to act on the forest preserve district 1936 budget, also. This budget calls for total corporate appropriations of $659,696, or $13,102 above 1935. It provides for restoration of one-half of the 12½ per cent pay cut made in 1931.

DOCTOR LURED BY FAKE TELEPHONE CALL AND ROBBED

Lured from his home at 3723 North Troy street on a fake mission of mercy last night, Dr. Robert L. Abraham, a physician with offices at 1608 Milwaukee avenue, was robbed of $47 by two bandits. The telephone call brought Dr. Abraham to an apartment building at 1537 Dickson street, supposedly to treat a sick woman. At the entrance to the building, a young man met the doctor.

Drawing a revolver, the robber forced Dr. Abraham to walk to the rear of a passageway outside the building. There the bandit was joined by an accomplice. They searched the physician, taking his money and a flashlight. Then they ordered him to drive home with a warning not to notify the police if "you don't want to be shot."

HOUSE TO GET MAKESHIFT AAA MEASURE TODAY

Broadens Conservation to Allow Subsidy.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Jan. 21.—[Special.]—The administration's substitute for the outlawed AAA is to be presented to congress tomorrow with the introduction of a bill amending the broadly worded soil conservation act of 1935 to permit payment of farm subsidies for crop reductions. Representative Marvin Jones [Dem., Tex.], chairman of the house agriculture committee, announced this afternoon that he will introduce the substitute.

The announcement came after a White House conference on the farm program at which the Jones bill was approved by administration leaders. At his press conference following the farm meeting, President Roosevelt refused to discuss the plan, asserting that all details must come from the gentlemen who will introduce the bill.

Holds Court Reverses Self.

The President took a veiled thrust at the Supreme court in revealing that he was studying with administration officials implications of the Supreme court's processing tax decision. Although he cautiously avoided a positive statement, he pointed out that the processing tax decision reversed older rulings of the court and a statute passed in 1867.

Representative Jones said his bill will be identical with one to be introduced in the senate by John H. Bankhead of Alabama. He said his committee will meet in executive session tomorrow morning to go over the bill for last minute changes. One of these will be to put the measure in force for two years rather than one—a change which he said was decided upon at the White House conference.

He indicated that an appropriation of 500 million dollars will be provided without mention as to how it shall be collected. The treasury will be called upon to make the disbursement which is not to be for any stated period but an initial appropriation to launch the plan.

Earlier Ruling Cited.

In the Bailey-George case, decided the same day the Supreme court held the child labor tax unconstitutional, an injunction was sought on the ground the tax was unconstitutional. The court held the tax must be paid and suit for recovery brought later.

The President's sole comment was that the processing tax decision apparently [he stressed the word] reversed the Bailey-George decision.

DIES OF HEART DISEASE.

Lauritz Hansen, 77 years old, 2313 Altgeld street, a wood shaper, died of heart disease at home yesterday.

WPA LEASES THEATER IN LOOP; ITS ACTORS REHERSE THERE TODAY

The No. 1 drama company of the federal Works Progress administration in Chicago will reherse today and hereafter in the Great Northern theater instead of in the Naval Reserve armory on the lake front, according to Russell Spindler, supervisor of drama projects in Chicago.

Spindler said yesterday that WPA had leased the Great Northern under a contract to begin next Monday, but that managers of the property agreed to let the WPA company move in at once. He announced that the opening performance would take place in the week starting Feb. 10.

Fifty actors and actresses and 40 other workers, such as stage hands, ushers, and janitors, have been drawing WPA salaries for more than a month. Washington officials are to decide upon the opening production from among Ibsen's "Enemy of the People," Golden's "Servant of Two Masters," and "Model Tenement," written by Meyer Levin of Chicago and never staged before.

SEALED VERDICT GIVEN IN 'BUCKET' MAIL FRAUD CASE

A jury in the federal court of Judge Walter C. Lindley last night returned a sealed verdict in the case of Leonard Rollnick and two co-defendants charged with using the mails to defraud bucketshop customers out of several hundred thousands of dollars. The verdict was turned over to a deputy United States marshal and will be opened and read when court reconvenes this morning. The jury deliberated two hours. The other defendants are Leonard Rubin and Barney Lavin.

The trial began three weeks ago. Yesterday the defense wound up its case with the testimony of character witnesses. Former Gov. Harry Davis of Ohio and Tris Speaker, baseball player, testified for Rubin. William Duggan, former collector of internal revenue for New York City, testified for Rollnick.

This was the third trial for Rollnick and his associates on the same charges. The juries disagreed in the other trials.

Ex-Milwaukeean Identified; Found Dead in His Room

The body of a man found in a rooming house at 623 Madison street was identified yesterday as that of Robert Mabis, 65 years old, formerly of Milwaukee. A bank book discovered in his clothes showed deposits of $878 in the First Wisconsin National bank of Milwaukee. Stock and bond certificates of a face value of $5,000, but worth much less now, also were found in the clothing. Mabis once lived at 841 North Water street, Milwaukee.

DRAKE WITNESS TELLS OF BELIEF IN FANTOM DEAL

Entire Hope Based Upon British "Powers."

BY VIRGINIA GARDNER.

A defense witness in the Drake estate mail fraud case before Federal Judge Philip L. Sullivan yesterday declared under cross-examination by Assistant United States Attorney Austin Hall that he knew there was no Drake estate, but that he believed in "it," what ever it was.

The witness was testifying in behalf of 20 of the original 41 defendants charged with using the mails to defraud in promotion of the mythical estate deal. Twenty-one defendants were freed by the court after the state rested on Jan. 9.

Familiar as he is now [the trial is in its third month] with various phenomena in the curious faith which lured Iowa, Dakota, Minnesota and other rural persons to invest money in the "Drake Estate," Judge Sullivan showed interest in this witness, a huge man, from Storm Lake, Ia., Arthur Rinderknecht.

"What Is It, Then?"

"If it isn't the Drake estate, then what is it?" demanded Hall, running his fingers through his hair and pacing up and down.

"I can't tell you that."

Q.—Well, didn't you say the Drake estate matter was taken to the highest powers in England? A.—Yes, but the higher authorities didn't agree.

"When you speak of the higher authorities," put in Judge Sullivan later, "do you mean spiritual or material?"

The Financial Powers.

"Neither," said the witness. "I was referring to financial powers."

THE COURT—Did you conclude that England was going to make a gift of some large sum of money to Americans? A.—Yes.

PROSECUTOR HALL—You knew England refused to pay her war debts? A.—Yes.

Q.—Then what made you think England would pay 90 billion dollars, or any such sum, to Americans who put money in whatever it is you've been talking about? A.—I figured that the war debt was a government debt, but that this money they owed us was private wealth.

Q.—But you speak of the crown owing this money left by Sir Francis Drake. The crown is the government in England, isn't it? A.—Yes, I guess it is.

Deny Soliciting Funds.

Questioned by Defense Attorneys George M. Crane and Edward J. Hess, three defendants, F. C. Bankson, Canton, S. D., harness maker; Henry L. Anderson of Rockford, Ill., and Ben Lindberg, Balaton, Minn., driver of a cream truck, denied they ever solicited funds for the Drake estate. They said the donors gave them money, which they sent to Chicago and elsewhere as instructed, receiving receipts which they turned over to the donors. Bankson under cross-examination managed to insert testimony that he still "believed in it." All three had money of their own in "the deal."

The defense expects to rest its case in another week.

AAA'S CHICAGO WORK GOES ON DESPITE COURT

"Business as usual" was still the order to several scores of employés in the Agricultural Adjustment administration office at 506 South Wabash avenue yesterday, although two weeks have elapsed since the Supreme court ruled that the AAA was illegal.

"We haven't had anything except routine of mail from Washington," said S. H. Walker, auditor in charge of the office. "Not a word has reached us about reducing or wiping out the staf. As far as we're concerned, conditions are the same as they were before the court's decision. I imagine if anything was going to happen to our AAA jobs, it would have happened by this time. The employés still have plenty of work to do."

An announcement was made yesterday that the National Recovery administration [NRA] offices here will be closed Jan. 31. The Supreme court decision knocking out NRA codes was handed down last May 27.

Day By Day Story of the Experimental Farm

By Frank Ridgway

Mule Boom

January 21, 1936.

THE Tribune Experimental farm's effort to buy a mule and to find a good name for it seems to have stimulated suddenly a new interest in this lowly hybrid of the animal kingdom. From readers, particularly city readers, come many questions concerning this odd creature that is practically always sterile and therefore not capable of reproducing his kind. Some of the questions will be answered from time to time in this column.

It is common knowledge among farmers that the mule is produced by crossing a jack with a mare of the horse family. Breed authorities say that mare mules have been known to produce colts when bred to either stallions or jacks, but this phenomenon is rare. There never has been an authentic record of a male mule begetting a foal. Sterility among male mules is, therefore, accepted as universal.

Spanish explorers are credited with having brought the first jacks to this country. George Washington is sometimes credited with having been the first farmer to introduce the mule into America, but authorities hold that there were a few jacks in use before the Spanish and French governments gave the general jacks and jennets. Nevertheless, Washington was first in stimulating widespread interest among American farmers in the raising of mules. Accordingly he is ordinarily considered America's first mule breeder.

Animal husbandry experts find that special breeds of jacks once were used in producing mules in the United States. These jack breeds are not so generally known among farmers as are the breeds of horses, cattle, hogs, and sheep. They include Catalonian, Maltese, Andalusian, Italian, and Majorcan. The Catalonian breed of jacks is considered by many authorities in the United States to be the best of the imported breeds. The native jack in common use in the mule states is a mixture of many breeds.

Back in revolutionary days, shortly after the war, Gen. Washington was presented with a jack by the king of Spain. The jack was known as "Royal Gift." Lafayette also sent Washington a jack known as "Knight of Malta" because he came from the Island of Malta. Many splendid mules were produced from this stock. How much of the blood of these aristocratic jacks has been handed down to the native jack found in the corn belt today is not known. Authorities relate that the domestic jacks come originally from the wild ass of northeastern Africa and have been developed to a great extent during the last century.

Raising mules in the United States is more profitable now than it was a few years ago. When the population of the mule fell off fifteen years ago it was natural that the value of the jack declined. Wayne Dinsmore, secretary of the Horse and Mule association of America, says that in 1920 there were 780,697 mule colts under 2 years old in this country. It required more than 9,700 jacks to sire them. Ten years later, 1930, there were only 168,345 mule colts under two years old. It took only 2,100 jacks to sire this number.

As a result, many good jacks were sold for as low as $2.50 a head—many at $5—and they were used for hog feed. Other jacks were led to the boneyard and shot, simply to get them out of the way. Now farmers wish they had them back, because jacks are again in demand and bringing high prices. Good ones are hard to find. The same jacks that were shot or sold for $2.50 per head two or three years ago would bring today $500 a head if they were available.

If you wish to take part in naming the odd mare mule recently bought at the Tribune Experimental farm near Wheaton, send in your best mule name to the Agricultural Editor, CHICAGO TRIBUNE.

FURTHER GRANTS TO KEEP THE WPA GOING TO JUNE 30

But Activity Will Be Diminished.

Further federal grants are expected to enable the Works Progress administration in Illinois to continue its operations until June 30, according to a bulletin received here yesterday from Harry L. Hopkins, Washington administrator of WPA. With the $72,000,000 received thus far, WPA can carry on no longer than May 1, Ralph Burke, deputy WPA administrator for Illinois, said.

Officials were reluctant to make any optimistic interpretation of the bulletin until more definite information has been received. It was learned recently that Washington's silence heretofore on the matter of additional grants had caused a number of projects to be canceled, where there was danger of local government funds being tied up in unfinished projects.

Order Operations Curtailed.

"State administrators will be prepared to continue operations on a diminishing scale until June 30 and will submit such project applications as may be necessary for this purpose," the bulletin stated.

As yet unallocated from the $4,880,000,000 works and relief appropriation of the last congress is slightly more than a billion dollars. Mr. Burke declined to guess whether additional grants would be forthcoming from this amount or from future appropriations by congress.

Concerning Hopkins' request for more projects if these should be necessary, it was pointed out that the 2,128 projects now in operation would require $177,000,000 if all were completed—in contrast with the $72,000,000 made available.

Flexible Program Urged.

The bulletin also stated:

"It is essential to keep constantly in view the necessity for providing a flexible program of projects, so selected as to type, size, and other considerations that a prompt transfer of labor to other federal agencies or to private industry will be possible at all times without leaving projects in an unfinished or useless condition.

"Approved projects now on hand should be reviewed carefully to determine whether they are sufficient to permit the carrying out of these instructions."

Mr. Burke said that all Illinois projects now under way meet the new requirements because they "will be of value to the community even if not 100 per cent complete."

He also revealed that a movement has been started to reassign to suitable projects, so far as possible, white collar workers who were dumped onto "pick and shovel" projects when the program began.

Propose Americanization Project.

Representatives of about 50 civic, business and official groups met at the Union League club yesterday and decided to petition the WPA for funds to Americanize the thousands of adult aliens in the Chicago area who desire to become citizens.

The conferees also adopted a resolution that a conference be called to devise means of preparing adults for citizenship. It was declared that there are 350,000 aliens in Illinois and five million in the country who desire to be naturalized. The meeting yesterday was called by the committee on citizenship and naturalization which was appointed by Gov. Horner in 1933.

Resurfacing of park district boulevards and drives is progressing at an average of three miles a week under a Works Progress administration project, Robert J. Dunham, president of the park district, announced yesterday at a meeting of trustees. Government aid brings the resurfacing cost down from the standard of $1 a square yard to 30 cents a square yard, he said.

KING'S RITES TO DELAY FALL OF FRENCH CABINET

Still Lack Candidate to Replace Laval.

PARIS, Jan. 21.—(AP)—Premier Laval returned from Geneva today to submit the resignation of his crumbling cabinet—with the prospect that he will succeed himself as premier for lack of another acceptable head of government.

The death of King George of Great Britain was expected in political circles to delay the search for a new cabinet—the 100th under the third republic.

Herriot Out Today.

Laval's friends said he would accompany President Albert Lebrun to London for the late monarch's funeral, probably holding his cabinet's resignation in his pocket until he returns.

The belief emerged from a day of political speculation that Laval still was Lebrun's chief hope because of fears that a long cabinet crisis might lead to financial trouble.

The cabinet will meet tomorrow to accept the resignation of Edouard Herriot, minister of state, and to draft the resignation of the entire ministry.

Now Radicals Split.

Confusion among Radical Socialist party members, whose dissidence undermined the present cabinet, was reported in the lobbies of the chamber of deputies. That, and the expected difficulties of filling the foreign office post with some one as cautious as Laval, now are expected to keep him in the premiership.

Some political forecasters said the new cabinet may even be the same as the present one with the exception of Herriot. It was indicated, however, that Laval would refuse the premiership when it is offered him, accepting it only after others actually have tried and failed to form a new ministry.

Customs Agent Retires After 41 Years' Service

Seth Victor Peck, a federal customs agent since 1902, retired from governmental service yesterday at the age of 70. Under Supervising Customs Agent W. H. Tidwell, office associates of Peck surprised him yesterday with a farewell party. Mr. Peck, a native of Iowa, lives with his family at 330 North Humphrey avenue, Oak Park. In all he spent 41 years in the governmental service. He became a clerk in the pension bureau of the war department in 1891. He resigned eight years later to enter private practice of law, and in 1902 was sworn in as a customs service inspector at Newport News, Va. Three years later he was transferred to Chicago.

On the War Front in Ethiopia

ITALIANS ADMIT CRASH OF BOMB PLANE AT FRONT

ROME, Jan. 21.—(AP)—The Italian government war communique reported today the loss of a Fascist bombing plane on the northern Ethiopian front. The communique said:

"Gen. Rodolfo Graziani's troops continue mopping up Ras Desta Demtu's fleeing warriors. On the Eritrean front one of Ras Seyoum's lieutenants submitted his men to our authorities at Agulal. In the Andino region, southweste of Makale, a bombing plane has fallen."

The official Italian news agency, Stefani, reported from Dolo that Ras Desta, Ethiopian leader, had barely escaped capture by the Italians. Desta, it was reported, had fled by muleback and truck, accompanied by followers. His brother was said to have been killed.

Selassie Calls for More Troops.

FIGHT ATTEMPT TO UPSET ROYAL RULE IN BULGARIA

SOFIA, Bulgaria, Jan. 21.—(AP)—The government took measures today to forestall a new crisis and police surrounded the home of former Premier Alexander Zankoff. He was prevented from attending an anti-government demonstration at which demands for a parliamentary régime were to be made.

Other signs of tension were the slaying of former Peasant Party Assemblyman Gasseff and the recent arrest of former Minister of the Interior Krum Koleff.

Bulgaria, without a working constitution, is being governed by royal decree.

STRIKING CREWS IN HAWAII KEEP 4 FREIGHTERS IDLE

HONOLULU, Jan. 21.—(AP)—Striking crews kept four freighters idle at Hawaiian ports today in labor disputes assertedly arising from the use of plantation workers instead of longshoremen to unload the freighter Mala at Honuapo.

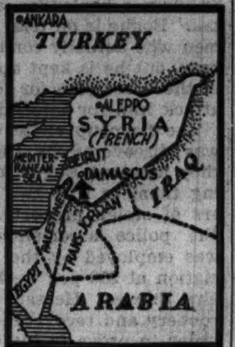
The Maui and Makiki, tied up here, and the Mala are Matson Line freighters. Also strikebound here is the motorship Golden Coast of the Oceanic and Oriental Navigation company.

Matson agents said they planned no immediate action to relieve the situation.

SYRIANS STONE CARS; WOUND 2 FRENCH SOLDIERS

Troops Rushed to Halt Riot at Damascus.

BEIRUT, Syria, Jan. 21.—(AP)—Violent fighting, in which two French soldiers were wounded and street cars were stoned, broke out in Damascus today. The fighting was as a result of a French campaign to suppress the Nationalistic bloc.



Damascus was filled with troops after the French authorities raided the closed offices of the block in Damascus and Aleppo and exiled the Nationalistic leader, Fakray Baroudi.

Trial of 39 Tomorrow.

Feeling has reached an intense pitch throughout Syria. Approximately one thousand women gathered in Damascus to honor the dead Nationalistic leader, Hanano, but police broke up the meeting and arrested 100. Syrian university students went on strike.

The disorders began as the trial of 39 members of the new Syrian National party was nearing. It has been set for Thursday.

Included among those who will go on trial is a naturalized United States citizen of Syrian birth, Fouad Moufarej, formerly of New York.

Probe Foreign Links.

The trial will be based on the single charge that the party was organized as a secret society and was not registered according to French laws.

The authorities, however, are investigating various allegations that the group is supported by Germany, Italy, or Soviet Russia.

The exiled Baroudi was banished to "forced residence" in the upper corner of Djezireh, a region in the northeast extremity of Syria which is farthest from Damascus.

Six More Nations Name Dr. Hudson for World Court

GENEVA, Jan. 21.—(AP)—Six nations—Great Britain, France, Italy, Ireland, Austria, and Belgium today included Dr. Manley O. Hudson of Harvard university in their nominations to fill world court vacancies. France and Belgium also nominated Henry L. Stimson, former United secretary of state.

PARAGUAY, BOLIVIA SIGN PROTOCOL; CHACO SETTLEMENT IN SIGHT

BUENOS AIRES, Jan. 21.—(AP)—Bolivia and Paraguay, ending lengthy negotiations, signed a protocol today for the repatriation of war prisoners, the reëstablishment of diplomatic relations, and reiterating guarantees against a resumption of hostilities. Thereby the truce under which the two nations last June ended their three year old war virtually became a definite peace today.

The protocol must be approved within twenty days by the legislatures of both countries. This is expected to be accomplished without obstacles.

President Augustin P. Justo of Argentina, members of his cabinet, and numerous South American diplomats witnessed the signing of the accord in the same room where the protocol of peace was signed last June ending the war, estimated to have cost 100,000 lives. Neutral nations will begin efforts shortly to prepare the groundwork for a territorial agreement on the Chaco between Paraguay and Bolivia.

CHERRY CANNERS' SPURNING OF AAA THEORY IS TOLD

How cherry canners turned to sales campaigns and origination of a new product, instead of the scarcity economics of the AAA, to solve the problem of overproduction, was described yesterday at the convention of the National Canners association at the Stevens hotel.

Harold Carpenter of Wolcott, N. Y., general chairman of National Cherry week campaign, described that propaganda effort, originated in 1930 as an aid to disposal of the largest pack of cherries in the history of the industry. The campaign, tying cherries up with the George Washington cherry tree legend, is now an annual effort.

W. McK. Martin, of the research department of the American Can company, discussed the problems encountered in processing the new product, canned cherry juice. These problems have been solved, he said, but he warned that the process will not offer a use for cull or second grade fruit unless the canner is content with a second grade product.

N. ZEALAND DOLE GIVES BIRTH TO RULE BY RADICALS

Moderates Are Swept Out Angry Country.

BY QUENTIN POPE.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

WELLINGTON, N. Z., Jan. 21.—New social forces have been loosed in New Zealand by the scheme of unemployment relief which the government approved five years ago. They are forces which hold a lesson for politicians the world over.

The recognition of a moderate government that every man was entitled to the right to work and that he became a charge on the state if there was no work to give him has been the first step in a series of developments which resulted in a radical government capturing power with an enormous majority.

It was, in the final analysis, the unemployment plan which destroyed the men who legislated it into existence. The plan mustered an enormous amount of public opinion against a government which would not face reality.

Changed History of Country.

The plan, conceived by a commission of hard-boiled administrators and put forward as an act of sheer philanthropy, gave unemployment relief another complexion. It also created a setup which demanded more concessions. It did two things which changed the history of the country—it established unemployment relief as a right of any one who could apply for it, and mobilized the idle on a national scale so that they might demand extensions of benefits.

And as the administering of the plan in the early years was harsh and without understanding of the human side of the problem, this new organization of the unemployed was whipped into action.

The government decided to tax women without granting them relief. It ignored the problem of jobless youth [the plan covered only those gainfully employed and over 21 years]. This was followed by a panic-stricken demand for men to leave their wives and families to be hustled into camps in desolate areas on pain of forfeiting all claim for assistance if they refused.

All these things fused the unemployed in one solid organization, gave them grievances which rankle even today, and finally made them a political force that tumbled the government out of office.

Free Speech Suppressed.

The government's answer to rabid demands by the more extreme of the unemployed men, who were urged on by some radicals with long jail records, was suppression of the constitutional rights of free speech and free assembly. Finally a press censorship was imposed as well. Even before that the moderate press, fearing the effects of constant exposure of bungled unemployment plans, of the growth and cost of the unemployment administration, of the strength of the grievances of the unemployed, had been cracking down on any news stories which might cause "unrest."

Denied the outlet they had hoped to find in the newspapers, the unemployed had one remedy. They had to wait until last November for it, but they streamed into the voting booths and voted for the most radical candidates they could find. Consequently these radicals will spill over three-fourths of the new legislature.

Yet it is difficult to blame the government for the course it took. With the plan once launched this became a Frankenstein monster with an endless appetite. This country of statistics and plans found, at once, that it did not know anything of the unemployment situation.

Jobless Figures Suppressed.

With the passage of the unemployment act providing relief, the expected registrations of the idle were exceeded by 400 per cent. Before long the minister of employment suppressed the figures "because no good purpose would be served by publishing them." The government was afraid of the effect of revelations of the size of the task it had undertaken. The tax levy of $7.50 a year, which was expected to bring home to every man and woman the fact that they had a responsibility for the welfare of fellow citizens in the breadline, finally rocketed up to $80 a year for a man earning an annual salary of $1,500. The taxes began to hurt.

So the government leaders, finding that their "made work" plans could not absorb all the men on their lists, began to think of the taxpayers. By easing up on their bolder schemes of development and by ceasing to talk of a setup in which there would be a long-range plan, they were able to cut taxes to two-thirds of the original figure.

But they did this only by increasingly severe administration of the act. Aid was given without demanding work—work which had been held so necessary to prevent deterioration of the morale of the unemployed. But it was handed out in niggardly amounts, under rigid inspection. Action was taken to check up on all unemployed and see that they did not receive aid they could do without. Not as long as a man had some pennies in his bank account and as long as he had not sold his piano or radio, could he enter the relief rolls. Swift prosecution followed detection of offenses. To discover these offenses, government inspectors visited back doors and cross-examined wives about their husbands' financial details.

Idle Become Angry.

It saved money, but it created a cold fury in the hearts of the idle. Even when times became better this anger still smouldered.

Although the economy measures taken proved highly successful and Great Britain's increasing prosperity aided a climb in trade, wages remained low. The injection of profit into industry continued at a fast pace and the last year saw earnings 40 per cent higher than after the collapse in 1931. But when the government faced the country at the general election last November jobless registrations were still higher than they had been in 1931.

This should have proved a warning, but it did not. The country's leaders had their eyes firmly fixed on the hundreds of thousands of taxpayers who were doling out, week by week, five cents out of every dollar they earned. Taxation had to be cut, these leaders said. At the same time they pleaded that more aid could not be given because of a lack of funds.

Fear Wrath of Taxpayers.

The taxpayers represented a great body of opinion of which they were finally afraid. The fear of government officials increased as the public's impression grew that the money was not being spent for relief fast enough, that big sums were being hoarded against increases which would obviously never come, and that too much was going down the gaping maw of the administrative offices.

Finally the government turned to its old way out. It proposed to put thousands of men on short-range works financed by money borrowed abroad. But it was too late. The long pressure of taxation told. The severity of treatment of the unemployed told. At the November election the country went almost completely Red.

PUSH TWO BILLS AIMED TO INSURE FREEDOM OF KENTUCKY PRESS

Frankfort, Ky., Jan. 21.—(AP)—Two bills designed to provide greater "freedom of the press" were introduced today in the Kentucky general assembly.

One of them would exempt employés of newspapers from disclosing in any legal proceeding or trial, before any grand jury or petit jury, or before any judge or the general assembly, the source of information published in a newspaper.

The other bill would permit publication of "a fair and impartial report" of any legal proceeding, or any pleading, indictment, warant, or other document in any civil or criminal action, provided such publication is not made maliciously.

The purpose of the bill exempting newsmen from revealing sources of information, those backing it said, was to prevent a recurrence of the jailing some time ago of Kentucky newspapermen for refusing to disclose the source of news information to courts and a general assembly committee.

VICTIM OF FALL DIES AT 85.

A skull fracture incurred in Jan. 4 when he fell on the pavement at Archer and Sacramento avenues caused the death yesterday in the County hospital of Edward Flynn, 85 years old, 3001 West 41st street, who formerly was employed as a yardmaster for the Alton railroad.

THREE JURORS PICKED TO TRY LIGGETT CASE

27 Veniremen Rejected in Two Day Session.

Minneapolis, Minn., Jan. 21.—[Special.]—Two jurors, both men, were added today to the panel which will try Isadore [Kid Cann] Blumenfeld for the machine gun slaying of Walter W. Liggett, crusading publisher.

Both took their places in the jury box beside Mrs. Harry F. Rydell, who was chosen yesterday. The two are Harry Young, WPA worker, and Edward E. Pettit, electrician. They were the 24th and 28th among 30 veniremen thus far examined.

Pettit was sworn in after answering questions put to him by Thomas McMeekin, defense attorney, and Peter S. Neilson, assistant county attorney.

Battle Livens Session.

Questioning of veniremen today was enlivened by a battle between attorneys over admission of names that echoed prohibition days—those of Barney Berman, Cliff Skelly, Benny Haskell, Isadore Wolk, and Tommy Banks.

The dispute developed when Neilson introduced the names into his questioning at the morning session. McMeekin leaped to his feet with the objection "they have nothing to do with this case."

Neilson replied, "I submit to the court they have." McMeekin's objection was overruled.

Skelly and Berman are serving terms for possession of Urschel kidnap ransom money. Wolk was mentioned in Liggett's newspaper, the Mid-West American, in stories charging widespread corruption in Minneapolis. Banks was prominently mentioned many times during the past six years in stories linking politics with liquor interests. Haskell was the "society bootlegger" of prohibition.

Wife Visits Kid Cann.

Except for this brief flurry the proceedings were without event as the lengthy questioning repeatedly moved on to where the veniremen admitted bias or prejudice and were excused.

During the afternoon recess the defendant was visited by his wife, Mrs. Lillian Blumenfeld. Under close watch by a deputy, the two sat and talked in whispers for five minutes.

As the trial progressed a council committee appointed to clean up the liquor licensing situation here took steps which would permit convicted bootleggers to apply openly for liquor licenses.

Liggett had charged that conniving officials had allowed control of a large share of the city's liquor licenses to get into the hands of hoodlums and persons with prison records. Investigation subsequent to his death proved this true.

The council committee today moved to solve the problem by striking 20 words from the city's liquor control ordinance, eliminating convictions for a felony or two or more crimes other than a felony as obstacles to the granting of licenses to convicted bootleggers.

DIES OF NEW YEAR BURNS.

BOGUE'S EX-AIDS SCORE POINT IN VICTIM'S STORY

Milton Jackson, New York jewelry salesman, unwittingly helped the cause of three of the men on trial with Meyer Bogue, ex-convict and police and government informer, when he testified yesterday before a jury in Judge Cornelius Harrington's court that the three gunmen who robbed him of $35,000 in jewelry on Dec. 8, seemed surprised at his resenting the holdup. Bogue's co-defendants charge that he procured their aid in the robbery by telling them that it was staged only to collect insurance, and that no one need have any fear of prosecution.

Jackson was robbed at 11 a. m. on a Sunday at Wabash avenue and Monroe street by Harry Malin, Patrick Sullivan, a bartender, and James Brezak. Bogue is on trial with the three men who actually committed the robbery, but he is kept apart from them in the courtroom for fear they might attack him for informing on them.

The frameup angle of the robbery was discovered by the police when they arrested Bogue as he was leading them to trap two alleged receivers of stolen property. It was then the police ascertained that Bogue was employed by the Jewelers' association at $50 per week to catch jewelry thieves. He said he framed the robbery and recovered the jewelry in order to prove to his employers that he had contacts with the underworld.

Colombian President to Bury Hatchet with Panama

LAURA A. CURTIS OF WOODSTOCK 100 YEARS OLD

Mrs. Laura A. Curtis, oldest citizen of Woodstock, McHenry county, celebrated her 100th birthday yesterday at a family party in the home of her daughters, Mrs. Frank Tappan and Miss Lorraine Curtis, with whom she resides on Clay street, Woodstock. Born in Perry, O., in 1836, Mrs. Curtis went to Woodstock with her husband, the late Philander Curtis, shortly after their marriage in 1865. For 66 years she has been a member of the Woodstock Methodist Episcopal church. Mrs. Curtis declares that a love of music has given her a zest for living which has prolonged her life. She has nine grandchildren, seven great grandchildren and one great-great grandchild.

Winnetka Magistrate's Son Arrested on Trafic Charge

Ralph Sinsheimer Jr., 19 years old, 935 Spruce street, Winnetka, whose father is police magistrate in the suburb, was arrested by the Evanston police yesterday on a warant charging him with leaving the scene early Monday after his car collided with another in Ridge avenue near Church street in Evanston. He was released in bonds for a hearing today before Judge Harry H. Porter of the Evanston Municipal court. "I drove away because I was panic stricken," young Sinsheimer explained.

Jailed for Selling Boy Gun Used to Wound Two Others

Norfolk, Va., Jan. 21.—[Special.]—Benjamin Block, hardware merchant, today was fined $500 and sentenced to 60 days on the prison farm for selling an air rifle to a 13 year old colored boy. The boy wounded two other boys in their eyes, causing their partial loss of sight. Sale of air rifles to persons under 18 is prohibited here.

Former Bailif Reported Recovering from Wound

Anthony Parisi, 1645 North Park avenue, a former Municipal court bailif, was reported recovering last night at Henrotin hospital from a bullet wound inflicted Monday by Carl Rau, 463 North Halsted street. Rau told the police he mistook Parisi for a burglar when the latter sought to enter his apartment. The police said Parisi went to Rau's apartment with Mrs. Angeline McCammon, 32 years old, 2127 Bissell street, to see James McCammon, 30 years old, her estranged husband, who shares the apartment with Rau.

Red Cross to Set Up 50 Road First Aid Stations

The establishment of fifty Red Cross emergency first aid stations at danger points on the highways of Cook, Du Page, and Lake counties has been indorsed by the medical societies of the three counties and installation will begin immediately, according to James B. Forgan, chairman of the Chicago chapter. They will be established in police stations, fire stations, tourist supply stores or other places that are open twenty-four hours a day and the volunteer workers in these places will be given a fifteen hour first aid training course.

Skinny, Nervous, Worn-Out Folks Need Strength-Building IODINE in Blood & Glands!

Kelpamalt, New Mineral Concentrate from the Sea, Rich in NATURAL PLANT IODINE, Feeds Starved Glands—Must Build Rich, Red Blood, Put on Lbs. of Solid, "Stay-There" Flesh, Give Steady Nerves and Day-Long Energy in First Week or Trial is Free!

If you are Naturally Skinny, overworked, nervous, tire easily and lack ambition because you haven't got the strength and energy to fight for success, don't be discouraged. The chances are your blood is thin, pale and watery and lacks the nourishment necessary to build up your strength, endurance and the solid pounds of new flesh you need to feel right. Science has at last got right down to one of the causes of these conditions and explains a new, quick way to correct them.

Food and medicines can't help you much. The average person usually eats enough of the right kind of food to sustain the body. The real trouble is assimilation, the body's process of converting digested food into firm flesh, pep and energy. Tiny hidden glands control this body building process—glands which require a regular ration of NATURAL IODINE (not the ordinary toxic chemical iodine, but the iodine that is found in tiny quantities in spinach, lettuce, etc.). The simplest and quickest way to get this precious needed substance is Kelpamalt, the astonishing new mineral concentrate from the sea. Kelpamalt is 1300 times richer in iodine than oysters, hitherto considered the best source. With Kelpamalt's iodine, you quickly normalize your weight and strength-building glands, promote assimilation, enrich the blood and build up a source of enduring strength. Kelpamalt, too, contains twelve other precious, vitally needed body minerals without which good digestion is impossible.

Try Kelpamalt for a single week. Notice how much better you feel, how well you sleep, how your appetite improves, color comes back into your cheeks. And if it does not add 5 lbs. of good solid flesh the first week, the trial is free. Kelpamalt costs but little to use.

The stout-hearted taste you'll never mistake

No substitute will ever fool you if you really know the ardent taste of Old Overholt American straight rye whiskey, bottled in bond under U. S. Government supervision, the requirements of which, as to full 100 proof, storage in barrels, and freedom from addition of younger spirits, are more rigid than those of any other country in the world.

There's no other whiskey flavor like it. It's literally different as day and night because it is rich-laden with the pungent zest of real rye.

In stout-staved casks for at least four and a half years, every ruddy drop breeds rich, tasty mellowness. That's whiskey for a hearty appetite.

CALL Superior 0100

TO SELECT THREE NEW MEMBERS OF THE TRIBUNE TELEPHONE AD-TAKING STAF

Tune in W-G-N tonight from 8:30 to 9:30 to hear the finals of the Chicago Tribune Golden Voice Want Ad-Viser Competition, conducted to select three new members of the Tribune telephone ad-taking staf.

At the end of the competition, listeners will be invited to telephone in their votes for the voices they liked best.

STORY OF THE COMPETITION

On January 2, the Tribune invited young women between the ages of 20 and 30 to enter their names in competition for $300.00 in cash prizes and three positions as full-time members of the Tribune telephone ad-taking staf. Each entrant was required to write a letter telling in 100 words or less why she wanted to become a member of the Tribune telephone ad-taking staf.

More than a thousand entries were received. All entries were given careful consideration. From the information contained on the entry blanks and from the letters which accompanied them, the judges selected approximately 110 girls to appear for personal interviews. Of this group, some two score were invited to take preliminary voice tests. As a result of the voice tests, twelve girls were nominated by the judges to appear in the final competition tonight.

Each of the twelve girls who will be heard in tonight's program will receive $25.00 in cash. In addition, the three girls adjudged the winners will be offered full-time positions as members of the Tribune telephone ad-taking staf.

TONIGHT AT 8:30!

Tune in W-G-N tonight at 8:30. Listen carefully to the voices. After all twelve girls have been heard, the judges will reduce the field to six. These six will be heard again. Then the radio audience will be invited to telephone in ballots to help the judges decide which of the six girls are to be declared winners.

Each girl will be identified by a fictitious name so that the balloting may be conducted in fairness to all.

HOW TO VOTE!

Do not phone in your ballot until requested to do so by the radio announcer. Then call SUPerior 0100. When the Tribune switchboard answers, simply say: "I want to vote for ———," giving the name of the girl whose voice appeals most to you. It is NOT necessary to vote for more than one girl. Just give the name of the one girl whose voice you like best.

Out-of-town listeners are invited to vote by postcard. All mail votes must be received in the Tribune office before 2 P. M. on Saturday, January 25, 1936. Address your postcard to "VOICE BALLOTS," Chicago Tribune, Room 1015, Tribune Tower, Chicago, Ill.

So that you will be better equipped to cast a really helpful ballot, read the text under the above picture of the Tribune telephone ad-taking room.

Conditions permitting, the results of the telephone balloting will be announced from time to time after the program. Final results will be announced as soon as possible in the Chicago Tribune.

The three winners of tonight's competition will be offered positions as full-time members of the telephone staf of the Tribune want ad department.

The room in which they will work is located on the tenth floor of Tribune Tower. Air-conditioned and sound-proof, it is famed as a model of its kind. It was especially constructed to provide pleasant, healthful surroundings for the young women who solicit and receive Tribune want ads.

Tonight's winners will receive extensive training under the guidance of skilled supervisors. Upon completion of this course of training each of these new members of the staf will be assigned to a desk in a glass enclosed booth connected by special equipment with a switchboard having 67 trunk lines.

On their new jobs, these girls in an average week will have telephone conversations with from 250 to 300 persons. Because of the variety of goods and services advertised in the want ad section, Tribune want ad-visers must be alert, versatile, courteous and patient. They must get names, addresses, and numbers correctly the first time they hear them.

Through the medium of their voices they must convey to the want advertiser the competence and ability which every Tribune want ad-viser brings to her job.

Winter Sports Are Gaining in Popular Favor

Young People Plan Trip to Eagle River.

BY JUDITH CASS.

"WE'RE going somewhere for she-ing this winter" answer many nowadays when asked about their winter vacation plans, for skiing, pronounced she-ing, is the latest fad to strike the fancy of American sophisticates. Some go as far away as St. Moritz in Switzerland for this sport, others go to Canada where the Château Frontenac at Quebec and the Seigniory club, which is near Montreal, are favorite places with winter sports enthusiasts, and still others patronize American resorts such as Peckett's in the White mountains, some of the new ski lodges in the Rockies or Eagle river in northern Wisconsin. American ski enthusiasts, by the way, predict that the Rockies soon will become the greatest skiing country in the world, rivaling St. Moritz.

One doesn't need to dress for dinner at the American resorts except on gala nights but at the Canadian places formal evening clothes are de riguer as they are at St. Moritz. And, of course, skiing clothes are as picturesque as bright colored woolens can be.

Group of Young People Going to Eagle River.

A large group of young people will go to Eagle River on Friday night's special train. In the group are Miss Frances Jeffery, Miss Nancy Doering, Miss Bette Rich, Miss Pauline Seipp, Mr. and Mrs. William Fellowes, Philip B. Hosmer Jr., Henry Beneke Jr., John K. Havemeyer, Stewart Boal, Owen Fairweather and perhaps Mrs. William E. Smith.

Everett Lee Millard, who is engaged in business in northern Wisconsin, probably will join the group for the week-end instead of coming to Chicago for Saturday and Sunday, as he usually does. Miss Betty Kellogg and John Goodwillie also plan to be at Eagle River this week-end.

Miss Jeffery has become one of the most ardent of Chicago's winter sports enthusiasts, although skiing and skating are fairly new to her, for she and her aunt, Miss Frances Whedon, usually spend the cold weather months in the south. They will have their share of southern warmth later this year, however, for Miss Whedon and her niece are leaving on a cruise to Nassau and Jamaica in March. On their way home they will spend some time in Bermuda where Miss Doering, Miss Jeffery's cousin, and her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Edmund J. Doering, are planning to rent a house for two or three months.

Son to Spend Vacation There.

Young Edmund J. Doering III. will join his parents and sister in Bermuda for his spring holidays from Choate, and it is possible that Mrs. George Peck Earling [Edna Doering] will go down from Milwaukee in March to spend a few weeks with her family.

Miss Doering is leaving for Arizona on the 30th to visit Miss Gwendolyn Bowen and her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph T. Bowen. Mrs. Bowen is in the west now, and Mr. Bowen and his daughter are leaving next week for their ranch at Castle Hot Springs. Miss Doering will spend two weeks with the Bowens who will remain in Arizona until April.

Also Bermuda bound are Mrs. Frank D. Fulton and her daughter, Miss Helen Fulton, who are leaving a week from Friday for the island. Miss Fulton will play in a tennis tournament that begins March 16 and which draws a large number of English players every winter. Mr. Fulton will join his wife and daughter and return home with them by way of White Sulphur Springs, early in April.

Mr. and Mrs. Donald B. Douglas, who last year went to St. Moritz, arrived at home yesterday from a brief stay at Peckett's in Sugar Hill, N. H. Their brother and his wife, Mr. and Mrs. James H. Douglas, plan to go to the same place for skiing very soon, but the date of their departure is indefinite.

THE day after Elizabetta Rosamore, the Italian coloratura, sang "Rigoletto" in Rockford, with the artists, orchestra, chorus, and crew of the Chicago Opera company, she went to call on one of Rockford's social leaders, Mrs. Chandler Starr. Mrs. Starr, who is a patron of music, lives in an impressive white mansion, and when Mme. Rosamore mentioned her home Mrs. Starr answered that she was glad Mme. Rosamore liked it. She had had it built to suit herself, she said, and had instructed the architect to copy it after three buildings that were favorites of hers. They were the New York State building at the fair of 1893, the Petit Trianon of Marie Antoinette, and the Capitol at Washington.

Flade Displays Good Reasons for Greatness

Two Woman Pianists Tied in Concerto Test.

BY EDWARD BARRY.

Chicagoans who follow the dance packed themselves into the Little Concert house on the south side last night to see Tina Flade make her local debut. This much discussed young Dresdener threaded her comely way through the intricacies of several varying types of dance, and demonstrated to the satisfaction of her audience the qualities that have given her a position of genuine eminence in her field.

These qualities, briefly, are beauty, technical sureness, originality, and imagination. Miss Flade has a fragile loveliness without which some of her best work would lose a part of its poignancy.

Technically she seems as much at home in the old rose and silver patterns of the two Corelli sarabandes as she does in the highly modern, almost apocalyptic, choreography of "Sinister Resonance." Henry Cowell, composer of the music for the last named dance, has collaborated with Miss Flade in several things.

Proof of her originality and aggressiveness is her willingness deliberately to forego some of the opportunities for poetry of the conventional kind inherent in her personal grace. She does not hesitate to make free use of an angular and pointed idiom and this freedom has resulted in some effects not often seen in a dance recital. Her impression in "Sinister Resonance," half real, half dream, is an example.

Tina Flade's vigorous imagination is patent enough when you remember that the choreography of the whole program was largely her work; also the designing of the costumes.

The Graff Little Concert house is a good place for a dance recital. It is arty without too much self-consciousness, intimate and yet capable of holding a surprising number of people.

Two Chicago woman pianists, Jane Anderson and Jean Williams, tied for first place yesterday in the contest sponsored by the Chicago Symphony orchestra to find a soloist to play the Strawinsky Concerto at the Jan. 30 and 31 concerts.

Neither the judges, Sir Hamilton Harty and John Alden Carpenter, nor the orchestra's associate conductor, Eric DeLamarter, could decide between the two. As a result both will appear, one before the intermission, the other after.

There were sixteen contestants in the auditions at Orchestra hall. Several more had entered the contest but dropped out because of the difficulty of the work.

Eugene Ormondy and the Minneapolis Symphony orchestra arrive in town this morning for a concert tonight at the Civic Opera house. Ormondy, youngest of the major maestri, takes the directorship of the Philadelphia orchestra next fall. Assisting him this evening will be Rudolph Ganz, pianist, who is scheduled for a Liszt concerto.

Women Are Told Public Opinion Is Real Road to Peace

Washington, D. C., Jan. 21.—[Special.]—Public opinion is the greatest weapon we have in seeking roads to peace, but it must be opinion that comes from clear thinking, Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt told 750 delegates to the eleventh annual convention on Cause and Cure of War. She spoke at the banquet which climaxed the opening of the week's sessions at the Washington hotel here tonight.

She was introduced by Dr. Mary Wooley, president of Mount Holyoke college, who was appointed by President Hoover as the only woman delegate to the conference for reduction of armaments at Geneva.

Joining with Mrs. Roosevelt and Mrs. Carrie Chapman Catt in recognition of the power of public opinion was Miss Kathleen Courtney, honorary secretary of the British Women's Peace Crusade.

Mrs. Catt, who is this year celebrating the fiftieth anniversary of her work for woman suffrage, said she had discovered two facts in this half century which she desires to bequeath to those who are working for peace.

The first is that reforms come slowly and are always long overdue. The second is that however complicated a movement is in the beginning, the dominant idea inevitably emerges, and when it becomes simple it triumphs. Mrs. Catt predicted that eventually "war will end just as surely as the sun sets in the west."

THROUGH THE LOOKING GLASS

To covet may be one of the seven deadly sins, but we defy any woman with a breath of femininity in her soul to view the collection of imported glass cologne bottles, perfume bottles, and powder jars now on display in one of the Chicago shops without coveting in a big way! They range from the most lavishly elaborate to the utterly simple, and the work of out-of-the-way shops in the Czech mountains and the famous workshops of Paris vie for honors.

There is one love of a perfume bottle whose stopper and base are reminiscent of the old fashioned, multicolored glass paperweights you used to play with when you visited in grandmother's parlor. Its peacock design is rich in purples, greens, and blues. One very simple, tall bottle of clear crystal has a panel in color, lovely as that of a cathedral window, wine red merging into deep blue and bronze.

There is a squat little powder jar with its two guarding perfume bottles of clear, thin glass delicately criscrossed with gold bars—completely simple and perfectly charming. And there is a tall cologne bottle of smoky glass with a tracery floral design and a hovering dragon fly in delicate pastel colors, not painted but done in enamel and burned on.

Many bottles are themselves very simple, but with elaborately etched stoppers. One of the loveliest of these has as its motif a graceful nude figure standing beneath the drooping branches of a willow tree.

In the heavier glass, either smoke colored or lavendar or peach, there is a stunning oblong perfume bottle with a figure in bas-relief that is reminiscent of an ancient Grecian plaque, and through the stopper runs a ring of deeper tone.

For those who love delicate gold tracery there is an octagonal jar encased in elaborate filigree motif and set on eight little cut glass feet.

If you want to give some one a really lovely gift here's a thought. And if you love beauty it doesn't cost anything to just look, you know.

Copper Shades in Hosiery Get Style Welcome

BY RHEA SEEGER.

Just because you stay at home while others are shoving off for sunshine is no reason why you can't wear all the newest copper shades in hosiery. This warm, spicy tone is perfect with black and deep midnight blue as well as beige and all the wood violet colors. Bags, belts, and all the wildest shades of copper colored gloves can be used for accessories with the copper toned hosiery.

And the best news of all, the manufacturers finally are using this copper color for lace lisle stockings, for tweeds and wools, and if that isn't something to cheer about you don't know how the shoppers have asked for them. Lace lisle stockings are simply knockouts for walking brogues and tweed sports suits. The price tags are delightfully low and easy on the clothes allowance.

One, two and three thread chiffon hosiery comes in two stunning colors; one called "apricot," a good, lively, glowing and tawny tint, the other big success is "flamingo," a bit darker, but just as gingery copper and as perfect a color for black clothes as anything you ever gloated over. Still another fascinating color is "sunblush" that lives up to the name. For the hosiery shoppers out for a flattering blackish brown ask to see the one thread chiffon labeled "charcoal," the record breaking foot and ankle flatterer to date.

Fashion photograph . . . . flowered printed silk suit that uses resulting dark toned taffeta for the lining of the perky short jacket—a nice new idea for the suit buyers. It is the sort of a two piece suit that can be worn immediately under a fur or winter coat and later out on the boulevard with a trim little sailor of straw. The subtly draped neckline of the dress accents the wide, soft lapels of the fitted jacket. A colorful outfit, available in a Chicago shop.

All-Wool Wedding to Mark Style Show of Sheep Raisers

Salt Lake City, Utah, Jan. 21.—(AP)—They had to go back to the middle ages to get them, but wool manufacturers are presenting all-wool wedding costumes for a bride and her bridesmaids.

The all-wool wedding will be a feature of a style show here this week at the annual convention of the national wool growers.

The wedding dresses, it was explained, are made from a sheer wool cloth called mousseline de laine. They are designed after the costumes of the wives of noblemen of the middle ages.

NEXT SUNDAY IN THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE

I'll Never Tell

By Roy Vickers

SYNOPSIS.

Julius Saranack is murdered in his home, Hillfoot, in Callingham, England. Two days previously, Torrance Esdale, childhood sweetheart of Gerald Saranack, the murdered man's nephew, had appealed to her American employer, Hartlandt Massiter, to give Gerald an engineering job in Mexico. Gerald is to return from Spain in two days. Though they had quarreled before he left, Torrance writes Gerald, in care of his uncle, her plans for their marriage. Then Torrance learns that Gerald has married an English girl in Spain. She secretly gains entrance to Hillfoot and retrieves the letter. Then she hears voices, hides, and watches as a girl secretes some jewels behind a brick in the fireplace. When the girl and her companion leave Torrance calls the police, then leaves, not wishing to explain her presence. When Gerald brings his bride to see her next day she recognizes Annabelle, his wife, as the same girl she had seen in Uncle Julius' house and at the hour it was later discovered he was murdered, though she keeps silent about it. Alone with Torrance Gerald confesses he still loves her. He married Annabelle out of pity and thinks she needs his protection. Massiter unearths a motive for the crime. In his youth Julius Saranack befriended John Ellister, who was accused of theft. Later Prof. Ellister grew enormously wealthy through Mexican mines and made a will leaving everything to Uncle Julius. Through the American consul in Paris Mr. Massiter learns that Prof. Ellister has disappeared. Torrance tells Mr. Massiter about Annabelle. They fly to Paris. There Torrance is followed by a rat faced man with a falsetto voice and huge hands. Prof. Ellister they discover has also been murdered. Torrance rushes back to warn Gerald who is next in line to inherit the fortune.

INSTALMENT XV.

A SETTLEMENT.

Gerald stared at Torrance, then made a business of shutting the door. When this had been done he had recovered from his surprise.

"I'm glad you've come, Torrance. I—I wanted to see you. Annabelle—don't go, dear—you know what I want to say to her."

"And I know what you want to say!" cried Torrance, the words pouring out in spite of her efforts to control them. "You want to say that you've just made your will."

She was giving way to hysteria, weakness, emotional brainstorm—the very things she had spent her life in despising, the very things that would let Gerald like a child on the brink of a precipice totter to his destruction.

She could feel Annabelle's gaze and she moved away until her back was against the wall.

"You're mad, Gerald—mad and blind. You'll have to tear that will up, d'you hear? Tear it up at once or——"

She stopped as Annabelle's arms closed round her.

"Darling, your nerves are on edge and no wonder!" Annabelle was prettily alarmed. Torrance made a snatch at that cool personality of hers that Hartlandt Massiter had found so oppressive, and at once Annabelle released her.

"So are mine—so are everybody's." Gerald glared at Torrance and then: "O, that's a good idea, Annabelle!"

Annabelle was pouring out brandy and soda. She handed one glass to Torrance and another to Gerald. "Annabelle, you're the only person in the world who can pour out a drink without making a fuss and asking unnecessary questions."

Torrance looked at the brandy and then in despair drank it. What would be the use of telling him that this dainty little creature intended to murder him? Like the policeman, he would be very kind and solicitous and would take her home when she felt better.

"I don't know what you mean by all that, Torrance. And, anyway, who said anything about a will!"

"You haven't made one?" faltered Torrance.

"No." Gerald laughed with a boisterously jocular laugh that was not his style at all. "And if you'll let me get a word in edgewise you'll find I have something else to talk about. Vackery told me that Uncle Julius had left everything to me. Which is absurd."

"Why?" repeated Torrance. And as she caught the stricken look in his eyes she added: "I mean, why should Annabelle be shy about it?"

"You know perfectly well that Uncle Julius led us both to suppose that we should go halves over anything that he might leave. Well, I've put it up to Annabelle and she quite agreed! She and I feel we just can't take the lot. So we want you to accept this house and the first two hundred a year the estate yields—we expect it to yield about four."

"But——"

Annabelle was by her side stifling the protest.

"Torrance darling, you aren't going to be stiff and formal and—horrid, are you! Let me tell her everything, Gerald. Mr. Vackery said your uncle Julius meant to make another will leaving you half. And, of course, Gerald simply can't take advantage of the old will!"

"Annabelle——"

"O, do let's be sensible about money! Gerry and I want all we can get. But we simply couldn't bear it if we were to spend what by rights ought to be your money. Do try to see it from our point of view."

"Annabelle, I was going to say that it's wonderfully generous of you—of you both." Hysteria threatened again as she found herself entangled in this preposterous discussion about making her an allowance. "But you aren't really robbing me, because I always took it for granted that Gerald would get everything. Uncle Julius himself told me so. It would be ridiculous to give me half, because I wasn't a blood relation at all." She rose to the height of very nearly imitating Annabelle. "So don't think me a bear, dear—but it's quite impossible for me to accept."

"I didn't think you'd make a fuss," grunted Gerald.

"Gerald, you don't want me to say how grateful I am! When you think it over again you'll see it's obviously impossible. And if you were making arrangements about it with Vackery's man just now I'm afraid you'll have to unmake them." ['I meant to marry you, so in compensation I'll give you two hundred a year and, of course, the house.'] And then, taking refuge in humbug: "If only you had consulted me first I would have made you see that for one thing it's unfair to Annabelle."

"Nothing of the kind!" snapped Gerald. "Annabelle will tell you that she is protected by a marriage settlement."

"What!" gasped Torrance.

"A marriage settlement." Gerald was shaking now. "We did it the day after we were married—at the consulate. Or rather, it's swank to say that I protected Annabelle. She did as much, probably more, for me."

"Don't, Gerry!" pleaded Annabelle.

"As I've admitted, Torrance, I expected half of Uncle Julius' estate. Annabelle also has expectations from a distant relative and a small property of her own. The settlement provides that anything either of us might inherit at any time should go into a common fund, that we share the income during our joint lifetime and that in the event of death the whole capital goes to the survivor. I was countersigning it or something with Vackery's man just now.

Torrance wondered whether she would faint. Why hadn't Mr. Massiter thought of this! A settlement was worse than a will, for a will could always be destroyed. And the settlement left everything which Gerald "might" inherit to Annabelle.

She became aware that Gerald was irritable, baffled. Inevitably, it was Annabelle who poured oil.

"Can't we leave it now, Gerry boy! Torrance doesn't want to talk about it."

There was no hope at all—no means of conveying to him a warning in any terms that he would understand. And even if he did understand, the settlement would not be canceled.

"Lunch is served," announced the parlor maid and Gerald went away to wash.

Torrance made a lightning decision. She slid up to Annabelle. "I'll paw her as she paws me," she thought, and put her arm through Annabelle's. "You think I'm being unfriendly, but I'm not. Just to show—let me accept your invitation and stay here until you're through with all the bother. I could run up after lunch and get my things."

Annabelle turned and kissed her. It was a rough, affectionate girl-kiss. Torrance tried to feel it as the kiss of the betrayer but could not. Something was happening to Torrance—a loss of conviction. A sense of bewildered blundering.

"A tale with romance in it, Miss Esdale." Had Hartlandt Massiter, the romantic American, created the whole dreadful intrigue? Was this energetic, grown-up schoolboy unraveling plots and foiling villains as a holiday amusement? Plots that had never been made and villains that did not exist?

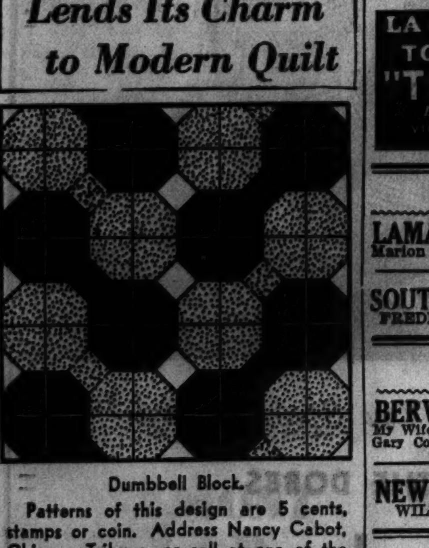
Flippant Title Lends Its Charm to Modern Quilt



Dumbbell Block.

Patterns of this design are 5 cents, stamps or coin. Address Nancy Cabot, Chicago Tribune, or call at one of the Tribune Public Service offices: One South Dearborn street or Tribune Tower.

BY NANCY CABOT.

Beauty Adviser Reports Some Ugly Sights

Day Around Town Reveals Breaches of Taste.

BY ANTOINETTE DONNELLY.

This is believe it or not day, so, believe it or not:

On a hideously sloppy January day, when a drizzling rain turned snow into dirty brown mud pies laid end to end on city streets, a gorgeous blonde, mink coated, street hatted, at 10 a. m. was seen in the company of a gay old cavalier crossing a midtown street. On the g. b.'s feet were seen so help me, Caesar, black sandal slippers with the big toe cut out, and the stockings had the bright red toes that pass for tinted nails.

Item No. 2: The dusky toned washerwoman of a friend appeared the other Monday a. m. with finger nails painted the most scarlet color seen this side of the world. "But Mandy [or whatever the name]," her employer exclaimed, "aren't you getting stylish?"

"No'm," Mandy replied. "I just like to see red coming up out of the soap bubbles!"

In a beauty salon a certain customer appeared whose presence never was greeted with enthusiasm. Her complaints, her demands, her distaste for tipping made her persona non grata. She came this day with intention of bartering and exchanging a Christmas present she had received and didn't want for a wave and manicure. Brandishing the hand painted whiskbroom holder gift, she announced: "It's worth $3, but I won't haggle over the difference!"

A child of five, sitting under a permanent wave machine with an attendant putting color on her toenails. The finger nails already were tinted. Mother, in a nearby booth, telling the entire salon audience that she promised the child the treat for keeping a secret. "Isn't it cute?" mama gurgled!

A young man with cauliflower ears asking for and getting a bright henna rinse and a finger wave, the attendant later commenting on Dillinger's attempt at a surgical disguise as more to her liking in masculine clients.

A white haired elderly woman with hair worn shoulder length, ends curled up like Garbo's, seen smoking an after dinner cigaret from an enormously long holder; skirt drawn up knee high and legs draped like a chorus girl's on steamer trunk setting. Ouch! and the uglies!

Girls Spoiling Boys by Their Invitations

BY DORIS BLAKE.

"I met a young man at a New Year's party and he paid me great attention. He asked for my phone number and said he would call me up soon. He never called me. Then, I was invited to a second party and again the boy stayed close by my side during the entire evening, promising at the close that he would call me up shortly. He didn't call. So I invited him to a big affair. The cost of the tickets to me was $5 a piece. He went with me. But not a word in the interim. I am going to a banquet in two weeks and wonder if I should invite this young man again or ask somebody else. I can't figure out whether he is spoiled or whether I am just an easy mark, or what? What do you think? ELSA."

Let's call it spoiled, for there is ground enough for the suspicion. There is a number of spoiled young men floating around from what we hear. Young men who will accept everything that is offered them and keep on accepting with no intention under heaven of ever making a return and, indeed, not aware that a return of some sort would be a gracious thing to make.

But who is spoiling them? You can hardly blame the young men when young girls pursue them with invitations to affairs costing $5 a ticket, or, indeed, costing anything out of the girl's pocket. They are perfectly aware who is paying the bills. They know one can't go to dances and other affairs without some one paying. So, to begin with, they're not what you'd call our finest young citizens. Fairly crumby, we'd libel them. Nevertheless, it is you young women with your repeated invitations that stand in the way of the reform of this type of man.

Perhaps they have not the money to make return consistent with the entertainment extended them. But it does not cost much to phone and take a girl to a movie. And the better type of young man nowadays is frank about his financial status. If he can't afford a thing, he tells the girl. But he won't go on accepting favors from her eternally, not if he is the sort upon whom future prospects of happiness may be built. Best not to cultivate the "easy way" for these young men, Elsa.

South Side Art Group Pleases in Loop Show

BY ELEANOR JEWETT.

The South Side Art association has opened a thoroughly delightful exhibition in the Davis Store Eighth Floor galleries to continue to February. The artist members of this association hold frequent exhibits on the south side during the season and this year they have advanced as far north as the Auditorium and the Davis store. At the Auditorium Tunis Ponsen was the first member to be given a one-man exhibit in the lounge. The present store exhibition is a much more comprehensive affair and gives one a good idea of the character of the organization.

One finds a number of well known names among the exhibiting artists. Possibly the finest painting in the exhibit is the forceful and unaffected "Wine," by Macena Barton, the figure of a young woman holding a wine glass. The face is strongly modeled and the canvas is carried out with marvelous exactitude and beauty. Texture, quality and color are developed with the skill of a craftsman.

Second in importance come "Wash Day in the Tropics," by Laura Van Pappelendam, and "Cape Newagen, Maine," by Florence White Williams. Here are two loosely woven compositions that hold you fascinated. Stand off from Miss Pappelendam's painting and the feel of Mexico wipes out the presence of Chicago. She transports one bodily to a country of dry air, hot sun, huge green leaves, and rounded hills.

In similar manner the salt winds of Cape Cod blow through the intriguing little canvas by Florence White Williams. Both artists have to a remarkable extent the power of suggesting atmosphere through an impressionistic accounting of related facts.

Registration at U. of C. Shows 7 Per Cent Gain

Winter registration at the University of Chicago showed a 7 per cent increase over last year, according to figures tabulated yesterday by Ernest C. Miller, registrar. The largest gain occurred in the division of social sciences, in which there was an increase of 21 per cent. Slight losses were recorded in the library school, the law school, and the downtown university college.

Sherwood Anderson Will Lecture at Thorne Hall

Sherwood Anderson, author of "Puzzled America," will lecture on the same title in Thorne hall of Northwestern university, McKinlock campus, at 8 o'clock tomorrow evening. The lecture is sponsored by the Friends of American Writers' Foundation for Literature.

MAGICAL 2-MINUTE OATMEAL FACIAL MAKES SHORT WORK OF ROUGH-DRYNESS, BLACKHEADS, CAKED PORES, OVER-OILINESS!

• Lavena is not a cold cream, not a soap. It is made of oatmeal, one of the most popular, effective beautifying ingredients women know. Pulverized and especially blended so as to make your skin shades clearer in only 2 minutes. Grease-free so it cannot make pores cloggy or oily. Deep-cleans. Soothes and softens dry, tender skin.

One 60c package equals 6 full jars of facial cream. Ask for Lavena at leading drug, department or 10c stores. Large size 60c, small size 10c.

LAVENA
The 2-Minute Oatmeal Facial

We guarantee to refund the price of Lavena if it does not perform exactly as we say.

1 BLEND a little Lavena with water.

Winter Sports Are Gaining in Popular Favor

Young People Plan Trip to Eagle River.

o'clock in the presence of relatives and a few friends, and a larger reception will follow at 5 o'clock at the Casino.

The bride's sister, Mrs. Frank S. Sims, will be her only attendant, and Mr. Sims will be an usher. The bridegroom's brother, Norman H. Gerlach, will attend him as best man, and his brother-in-law, Proehl Jaklon, will usher.

Mr. Gerlach and his bride will leave for Phoenix, Ariz., immediately after the reception. They will be at home after Feb. 15 at 2440 Lake View avenue, the same building in which his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Gerlach, have an apartment.

Prenuptial Parties for Other Couples.

Several parties are being given today for brides of the near future. The Stuyvesant Peabodys are entertaining at a dinner-dance at the Racquet club for Miss Deborah Butler, daughter of the Francis Peabody Butlers, and Hugh M. Johnston, who are to be married on Saturday, and Mrs. John Oliver is giving a luncheon and shower for Miss Alice May Dickinson, who is to become the bride of Gilbert H. Robinson two weeks from Saturday.

Out in Evanston Miss Edith Lapham will be hostess at a bridge tea for Miss Harriet Tilden, who will become Mrs. Robert E. English a week from Saturday.

Miss Butler will give a spinster dinner at the Peabody home tomorrow night at the same time Mr. Johnston will be host at a bachelor dinner at the Racquet club. The following evening Mr. and Mrs. Butler will give the bridal dinner for their daughter and Mr. Johnston at the Deerpath inn in Lake Forest.

On Friday night Mr. and Mrs. Winston Rodormer, Newton Tobey, Thomas and Cameron Eddy will give a dinner for Miss Dickinson and Mr. Robinson at the opening of a new floor show at the Drake hotel.

Tomorrow afternoon Miss Ruth Johnson will give a handkerchief shower for Miss Tilden, who is a daughter of the Averill Tildens of Winnetka.

Give Parties Today for Two Conductors.

The English-Speaking Union was in doubt yesterday morning as to whether to cancel the tea it planned for Sir Hamilton Harty, conductor of the London Symphony orchestra, because of the death of King George, but by noon it was decided to go ahead with the plans so this afternoon after 4 o'clock members of the Union will be going to the Cliff Dwellers club to meet the distinguished musician. He is here to be guest conductor of the Chicago Symphony orchestra at tonight's, tomorrow's, and next Tuesday afternoon's concerts.

Mrs. Arthur A. Small and Mrs. John Winslow will preside at the tea table. Among the guests will be Dr. Eugene Ormandy, recently selected to succeed Stokowski as conductor of the Philadelphia Symphony orchestra. Dr. Ormandy is in Chicago to conduct the Minneapolis Symphony orchestra in a concert tonight in the Civic Opera house in which Rudolph Ganz, pianist, will be the soloist.

Tonight after the concert there will be a reception for Dr. and Mrs. Ormandy at the Hungarian club, 100 East Ohio street.

Vocational Society Elects Officers.

At the annual meeting of the Vocational Society for Shut-Ins Mrs. Earle J. Zimmerman was elected president for the third time, much to every one's satisfaction, for she has been a capable and energetic leader.

Other officers elected include Mrs. Albert F. Madlener Jr. as first vice president; Mrs. Alexander Kirk, second vice president; Mrs. Walter Ross, treasurer; Mrs. John R. Hurley, recording secretary, and Miss Gertrude McCarthy, corresponding secretary.

Miss Helen Taylor left Monday for Guatemala, where she will spend the next two or three months visiting cousins and looking over the excavations of an archeological expedition from Columbia university.

North Shore Vassar Club Plans Meeting.

Mrs. Carleton Blunt will open her residence in Winnetka next Tuesday afternoon for a meeting of the North Shore Vassar club. Miss Dorothy Bushnell Blumberg, Vassar '15, who has just returned from visiting in England, France, and Switzerland, will talk on "A Pacifist Goes to Europe in 1935." Mrs. R. Miles Warner will assist Mrs. Blunt as hostess.

Mr. and Mrs. Hal Crompton Bangs are opening their home at 1336 North State street next Tuesday evening for a meeting of the Italy-American society at which William Montgomery McGovern will talk on "The Trail of Marco Polo." Mr. McGovern, professor of political science at Northwestern university, spent much of his youth wandering in Asia and Africa, studying races and languages.

Max Henry Ehlert, Chilean consul to Chicago, and Mrs. Ehlert have cards out for the first of a series of "at homes" at Pebbly Brook farm, their home in Libertyville, on Feb. 2 from 5 to 8 o'clock.

According to CULBERTSON

HAIRLINE DECISIONS.

"A hair perhaps divides the false and true." Omar hardly could have had in mind the decisions that bridge players are called upon to make, but nevertheless, he stated a fact that may well be regarded as a bridge aphorism. Particularly in the selection of an opening lead, the most infinitesimal consideration may tip the scale one way or the other. But it is this consideration of minutiae that distinguishes the great player from the merely good.

North, dealer.
Both sides vulnerable.

The bidding:

North	East	South	West
1 heart	Pass	2 clubs	Pass
2 hearts	Pass	2 no trump	Pass
3 no trump [final bid].

Many players, on lead with West's Yarborough, would figuratively close their eyes and play the card nearest their thumbs. But this West was made of sterner stuff. He thought!

One thing was certain: his partner must have a pretty good hand, otherwise the bidding would have at least approached a slam. In order to establish and be put in the lead for the cashing of either of his five card suits, West would have to find his partner with at least four cards in the one opened. Superficially, a decision to lead spades was persuasive on the theory that if either of the adversaries had four spades, he would have shown the suit at some stage, but this was not nearly so significant as the actual basis for choice. Namely, that East could have bid one spade over one heart, but would have had to bid two diamonds—with the vulnerability, a much more dangerous procedure.

On this reasoning alone, West chose the three of diamonds as his opening lead. It proved the declarer's Waterloo. One of his diamond stoppers was taken out immediately and, in clearing the club suit, the other was removed. Before he could win a single spade trick, the diamond suit was established for three tricks, which, with the spade ace and a club trick, defeated the contract.

TODAY'S QUESTION.

Question: Is it true that one never should signal with an honor?

Answer: It most certainly is not true. As a matter of common sense, honor cards should be conserved and used sparingly as signals, but in many situations urgency demands that "echoes" be started by the play of an honor.

Dried Fruits Are Source of Menu Sunshine

Simple Food Magic Aids to Quick Cookery.

BY MARY MEADE.

A delightful [and dependable] source of menu sunshine, these dried fruits! They ask no adornment for appearance at the breakfast table or as a dessert compote, and they always are ready for salad making, for simple desserts, for fruit candies, or even for use in meat dishes.

The old, lengthy process of soaking dried fruits has been outlawed—another reason for their popularity. Now all that's necessary to do is to put the fruit on to cook and to take it off at the end of a specified time. The fruit is just as flavorsome and just as tender as it used to be after the soaking process. No more puttering around with putting the apricots to soak before you go to bed, so's to have apricot whip next day!

This outline shows the modern method of dried fruit cookery. Unless otherwise specified the sugar is added to the hot fruit at the end of the cooking period.

Apples—Remove particles of core. Wash, cover with water, and simmer for 40 minutes. Without sugar the apples taste more like the fresh fruit, but ¼ cup for each cup of apples may be added if desired. A few grains of salt improve the flavor.

Apricots—Wash, cover with water, and simmer for 40 minutes. Add ¼ cup sugar for each cup of apricots.

Figs—Wash, cover with water, and simmer for 20 to 30 minutes, depending upon the condition of the fruit. During the last 15 minutes of the cooking add one tablespoon of sugar for each cup of figs.

Peaches—Wash, cover with water, and boil for five minutes. Remove the skins. Cover with fresh water and simmer for 45 minutes. Sweeten with ¼ cup sugar to each cup of peaches.

Pears—Wash, remove cores, cover with water, and simmer for 35 minutes. Add ¼ cup sugar for each cup of pears.

Prunes—Wash, cover with water, and simmer for 45 to 60 minutes, depending upon the condition of the fruit. No sugar is needed, but two tablespoons for each cup of prunes may be added if desired.

Raisins—Allow one cup of water for each cup of raisins. Boil for 10 minutes. Add ½ tablespoon sugar for each cup of fruit.

Space is proving all too short today. We've a lot of interesting new dried fruit recipes simply dying to be transplanted from our kitchen to yours, too. So, because we truly think you'll want to have them, we'll continue this dried fruit discussion tomorrow. Right now there's just room for a fritter suggestion. Prunes or apricots may be used for these fritters. They make an attractive and delicious garnish for almost any meat course.

Cali-Fritters.

12 cooked prunes or 12 cooked dried apricot halves [small]
3 ounces American cheese
2 eggs
1 cup fine dry bread crums

If prunes are used, pit them and fill centers with small pieces of cheese. For the apricots put two cooked halves together around a small piece of cheese and secure with two wood pins. Dip the cheese filled fruit in slightly beaten egg, then in fine crums, again in egg, and again in crums. Fry in deep fat, 390 degrees F., until golden brown. Serve hot with hot or cold meat course.

JUNIOR GIRL'S FROCK.

The full social program of the average junior girl makes a large wardrobe a necessity and, incidentally, a problem for the budget. Therefore, it is wise to have at least one frock which is designed for many and varied activities, suiting perfectly occasions such as teas, matinées, bridge functions, and informal "dates," as well as being styled for classroom wear. Such a many-purpose dress is the one illustrated today, with its peplum effect simulating a two piece frock, its novel slashed neckline, so flattering to young faces, and full, roomy sleeves.

Pattern No. 3434 has the added advantage of being adaptable to many types of fabric. For spring there is a wide selection of youthful prints as well as plain crêpe in high shades. For late winter one may create this frock in thin woolen or plain silk. If the wearer is looking ahead to summer she may want to make this frock of cotton with short sleeves.

Style No. 3434 is designed for sizes 11, 13, 15, 17, and 19 years. Size 15 requires 3⅞ yards of 39 inch material.

Officers Re-Elected at Annual Meeting of Visiting Nurses

Members and gray uniformed nurses of the Visiting Nurse association filled the ballroom of the Casino yesterday for the association's 46th annual meeting.

Letters humorous or pathetic read by Miss Edna L. Foley revealed the human side of the extensive work pictured by the various committees in their yearly reports—423,000 visits made to patients' homes, an income of $333,000, largely raised by the directors, an expenditure of $326,000.

Tribute was paid to Harold Beacom, Mrs. Uri B. Grannis, and Mrs. E. C. Dudley, all interested in the association until their deaths recently. Mrs. Ralph T. Winston, first vice president, presided in Mrs. Beacom's absence.

For the election of officers Mrs. Winston turned over the chair to Mrs. William P. Conger, last surviving founder member.

All officers and directors were re-elected. Miss Jean Schweppe was elected a director to complete the term of Mrs. Grannis.

"Showdown" a Poor Weapon in Child Care

BY GLADYS HUNTINGTON BEVANS

The showdown method of child management isn't much good.

Making an issue of things and then forcing obedience or compliance is usually best avoided.

"When it comes to a showdown he knows who's master," isn't such a smart thing to say about your child and yourself.

"It's a question of his will or mine," doesn't betray the most intelligent slant on the handling of young human material.

Showing who's master and whose will is the stronger are not interesting and worth while demonstrations. And often parents who believe in them are more concerned with the exercise of their power than with the welfare of their child. And far too often they make issues of trifles where no principle is involved, or enter into a contest of wills over a nonessential.

Our aim should be rather, to use an old expression, to "make virtue attractive." We want to so manage our children that their habitual frame of mind is one of wanting to do what we want them to—or what we must expect of them.

Funny as it may sound to some people, there's no reason in the world why a child shouldn't enjoy obeying. All that's needed is an understanding of his normal desires, a friendly approach, a dash of tact, learning to give him time to get used to new ideas or a change of occupation—and he'll eat and wash and go to the bathroom willingly, and in general find life pretty agreeable.

As to the actual control of a child's life—of course we must have it. He needs to feel, deep within him, that his life is ordered by some one wiser and stronger than he. His parents must, in the nature of things, rule his universe—but to do so happily and for his best good they don't have to go around snapping the whip and waving their scepter in the air.

ATLANTIC LINES FACE RATE WAR WITH FAST SHIPS

Queen Mary and Normandie Vie for Trade.

BY FREDERIC BABCOCK.

Speed wars and rate wars in the huge trans-Atlantic passenger business were in prospect yesterday as the spring and summer plans of the steamship lines began to take shape. As a result of these wars the traveler may pay less for his trip to Europe—and get there in better time.

Out of service since last fall so that alterations could be made to eliminate vibration, the French line's Normandie will be put back in service March 25. Two months later the Cunard-White Star's Queen Mary will have its première. The 79,280 ton Normandie is by far the largest liner completed to date; the Queen Mary will be even larger. The French ship holds the present record—three days and 23 hours—for crossing the Atlantic; the British ship may do it even faster.

"With the knowledge and the means we now possess, the Normandie's vibration troubles may be regarded as a thing of the past," Henri Cangardel, managing director of the French line, has announced. "We have found the solution, and the trouble will be removed before she resumes service in March."

The changes being made were based on findings of technical experts who rode on the ship last summer to study every phase of her behavior.

Queen Mary to Sail in May.

The Normandie's chief rival in the coming battle for business will be placed in service in time for the peak summer business. The Queen Mary is to sail from Southampton via Cherbourg May 27 on her maiden trip to the United States. She should reach New York June 1 and sail on the return voyage June 5. Thereafter she is to leave from one side or the other every Wednesday, summer and winter.

William Franklin Crum, Chicago manager for the Cunard-White Star lines, said yesterday that applications for space on the maiden voyages, both east and west bound, already had exceeded the Queen Mary's capacity.

Just what the rates on the two ships will be has not yet been announced. Recent dispatches from London and Paris said the Cunard line had applied for cabin class designation for its superliner, and that the French line had entered into an agreement to reduce fares on the Normandie to a parity with those of the Queen Mary. The matter is still before the North Atlantic Steamship conference.

It is anticipated that if the Queen Mary and the Normandie enter the cabin classification other liners will follow suit and the rate war will then be on in earnest.

U. S. Enters the Picture.

The American government is getting ready to enter more actively into the trans-Atlantic picture. Secretary of Commerce Daniel C. Roper last week accepted the contract submitted by the United States lines for for construction of an $11,900,000 sister ship of the Washington and the Manhattan. The government will lend the line 75 per cent of the cost of building.

Remodeled for cruising service in the Caribbean, the Canadian Pacific's Empress of Australia arrived in New York yesterday from Southampton and will leave tomorrow on the first of a series of five trips to the West Indies. Its improvements include a Lido lounge deck, an oudoor swimming pool, and deck tennis courts.

Among the Chicagoans who will take this first cruise are Mr. and Mrs. Frank S. Southworth, Mr. and Mrs. L. O. Gates, Mr. and Mrs. Ivan Syler, Mr. and Mrs. Clay Sparks, Mrs. E. N. Murphy, Mrs. B. L. Parker, Mrs. Helen Gittens, Mr. and Mrs. Elwood Hansmann, Mrs. Henry W. Price, Mr. and Mrs. Rudolph B. Salmon, Mrs. A. Wassersteen, A. W. Walters, Mrs. H. E. Walters, Mr. and Mrs. Benn Kinovsky, Mrs. Robert Hixon, and the Misses Margaret Hixon, Jean Alshuler, and Frances Leberman.

Chester M. Campbell, advertising manager of THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE, is on a trip through the Caribbean and down the west coast of South America. He is traveling aboard the Grace Line's, Santa Elena.

Sail to South Africa.

On the Stella Polaris when it set sail yesterday for the South Sea Islands, the East Indies, India, and South Africa, were these globe trotters from Chicagoland: Mr. and Mrs. Robert L. Burgess, Mrs. Katherine Holtevert, Mrs. E. L. Cleveland, Mr. and Mrs. Frank E. Compton, Mr. and Mrs. R. R. Englehart, Mrs. Clare Lewis Genung, Mr. and Mrs. A. P. Laughlin, Miss Ferne A. Paxson, Mrs. Henry Sheuerman, Mrs. Phyllis Shaw Stewart, Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Wilson, Maj. Max Oser, Mrs. Ernest N. Shallenberger, Theodore Ahrens, Mrs. Elsie Zinsmeister, Mrs. Paul Benz, Miss Vail Benz, Mr. and Mrs. L. A. Headley, Mrs. George Kurtz, and I. S. Randall.

Jean Kramer, until recently French vice consul in Chicago, is en route to Europe on the Lafayette. John A. Thwaites, British vice consul here, will sail with Mrs. Thwiates on the Majestic today for a visit to their homeland. Fellow passengers on the Majestic will be H. A. Hamilton, Mrs. E. C. Olson, Edward Craig, and Frank Bird. Another group, also bound for England, is aboard the Laconia. It consists of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Needler and their son, Martin; Mrs. Doris G. Anderson, and Edwin F. Harvey.

Leaves for Switzerland.

Miss Barbara Ingersoll of Oak Park will leave on the Champlain Saturday for Lausanne, Switzerland, where she will spend the rest of the school year. Mr. and Mrs. William Schuyler, who plan to spend four months in France, will take passage on the same ship. A. L. Robinson, Charles C. Cowell, Mr. and Mrs. George W. Olinger, and Frank Farmer are on the Lafayette.

When the Conte di Savoia leaves for Naples Saturday it will carry Mr. and Mrs. Francis Hughes, on their way to Florence; Miss Patrica McHenry, who will study in Rome, and F. J. Stein and Harry Weintz, who will debark at Gibraltar and from there tour Morocco and Tunis.

Miss Edith Tauli will sail today on the President Roosevelt to return to her duties with the American consular staf in Berlin. Mrs. Amanda Barreau and Arthur Bishop will be on the same liner.

Voyage to Bermuda.

On the Monarch of Bermuda when it left for Bermuda last Saturday were Mrs. B. H. Freeman, Mrs. Clare Baum, Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Lewington, Miss Elaine Lewington, and Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Magie.

Loaded to capacity the Statendam will steam out of New York tomorrow night for the West Indies and South America. Its passenger list will include Mr. and Mrs. Paul L. Morrison, Mr. and Mrs. Karl Minas, M. R. Lewis, William H. Tamares, Mr. and Mrs. Arnold Portis, Alfred Newton, Mr. and Mrs. Leslie H. Klawans, Gustav Thunander, Mr. and Mrs. Louis Lipstone, and the Misses E. Rutkin, Dorothy Shanberg and Sylvia Schwab, all of Chicago; Miss Sarah Corry of Evanston, Miss Cecilia McGuan of Madison, Wis., and Mr. and Mrs. L. M. B. Morrissey of Davenport, Ia.

FINDS TRACES OF FLYER REDFERN IN BRAZIL WILDS

Art Williams to Renew Search Soon.

GEORGETOWN, British Guiana, Jan. 21.—(AP)—Art Williams, former United States army pilot, said today his expedition had found "definite traces" of Paul Redfern, American flyer missing since 1927 on a flight from Brunswick, Ga., to Rio de Janeiro.

"We found definite traces where we were searching that Redfern landed there and was in the vicinity recently," Williams said in his first interview since returning from the jungle hinterland a week ago.

Backed by Edwin Sill, Georgetown merchant who obtained information from an Indian of a mysterious white man living as a "god" with a tribe deep in South America's interior, Williams flew a searching party early in December to a point near where British Guiana, Dutch Guiana and Brazil meet. Other members of his party were Harry Wendt, co-pilot, and an Indian guide.

Halted by Illness.

"We don't want to raise any false hopes, but it was only due to the difficulties of the country, illness and shortage of food that we were forced to give up the search just when it seemed most promising," he continued.

Williams said he would return to the Wanatobo camp of the boundary commission marking out the three South American countries to continue the search as soon as his plane could be overhauled.

The American air-taxi pilot who taught Redfern how to fly, said Sill, Wendt and himself had been "infested" by insects which caused painful jungle sores. "It was tough but worth it," he added.

He arrived in Georgetown last Wednesday after a flight from Wanatobo. On the way to the coast he stopped at Sill's timber grant at Sandhill to pick up his wife and two small children, Jimmy, 5, and Anne, 6.

Other Parties Out.

Neither Wendt nor Sill was with him and Williams did not disclose where he had left them, although it was thought here they remained at Wanatobo.

There was no word from two other parties in the jungle searching for Redfern. J. H. Roch, former American employé of a Brazilian rubber concern who claims he actually saw Redfern in an Indian village three years ago, is leading one party which left Paramaribo at almost the same time Williams set out.

The other group is a Dutch expedition led by H. Van Lenden, Dutch member of the boundary commission. It set out early this month for Paramaribo. Another American search party, composed of members of the American Legion, in the Canal Zone, is to leave Paramaribo soon.

Virginia Pine Drops Suit Against E. J. Lehmann Jr.

Circuit Judge Philip J. Finnegan yesterday dismissed a petition brought by Virginia Pine, movie actress, in which she asked that E. J. Lehmann Jr., 422 Melrose street, pay some specific amount for the support of their child, Joan, 6 years old. Attorney William B. Gemmill, representing Miss Pine, said he had received a telegram from the actress in Hollywood saying a satisfactory settlement had been made and asking him to have the petition dismissed. The couple were divorced in March, 1934.

GOVERNOR MAY SEE HAUPTMANN IN PRISON AGAIN

Trenton, N. J., Jan. 21.—[Special.]—Gov. Harold G. Hoffman may visit Bruno Richard Hauptmann in the death house again.

The governor made it clear today that if he does go to see Hauptmann again it will be to hear the condemned man's "final story." He holds little hope of wringing a "confession" from Hauptmann, it was said.

The threat of impeachment, talked by Gov. Hoffman's political opponents, failed to materialize when the legislature convened last night. The governor appeared at a joint session of the two houses, read a special message on social security and was cordially received. The Hauptmann case was not mentioned either in the senate or the assembly.

Senator Robert C. Hendrickson of Gloucester, introduced the bill.

"By the elimination of certain types of publicity," the bill said, "the litigants, the jurors, the witnesses and the attorneys will be more likely to confine themselves to the issues involved in the case."

LINDBERGH CLEW PRISONER HERE DENIED FREEDOM

Stephen V. Spitz, 51 years old, a Bridewell prisoners who recently announced that he possessed clews in the Lindbergh kidnaping case, was denied his freedom yesterday on a pauper's writ. His attorney, Bernard M. Finnigan, asked the writ of Municipal Judge William Brooks, who a year ago sentenced Spitz to serve one year and pay a fine of $1,000 for passing fraudulent checks. He said his next move would be to request a pardon from Gov. Horner.

STEEL WORKERS READY TO EARN GOLDEN GLOVES

Gary Expects Title for Kennedy.

BY FRENCH LANE.

It may be disturbing to the peace of mind of thousands of Golden Gloves fighters to hear that along with the many workers from the steel mills who annually enter the Golden Gloves tournaments at Gary and Joliet, this year there is to be a solid team of steel workers from the Inland Steel Athletic club. These fellows should be in fine fettle.

This team will be one of ten that will compete in the Gary tournament and it is already creating considerable excitement in the various northern Indiana cities.

Past Golden Gloves tournaments have proved that boxers from the steel mills are no softies in any sense of the word. There's usually a steel worker or two on the final Chicago championship team. Very often, these lads come along unheralded and unsung.

Mr. Werry's Plan Fails.

Norman Werry, who gets together this Gary Tribune team, had planned again to spring his annual surprise in the heavyweight division.

In big Moose Kennedy he was certain he had the prize surprise party of this year's meet. So Moose's real ability was to be kept under cover as much as possible until he reached Chicago for the Tournament of Champions on Feb. 24.

This was not possible. Moose was too good. He went along knocking sparring partners and amateur rivals over in such wholesale manner that he became famous throughout the steel mill cities long before Mr. Werry had intended that he should. So when big Moose finally does crawl through the ropes it won't be as an unknown but as a popular hero among the steel workers.

Five Champs Back.

Others seeking places on the Gary team are five of last year's champions. They are John Grady, flyweight; William Joyce, bantamweight; George Latka, featherweight; Walter Schramm, light heavyweight, and Leo Pilla, welterweight. The Gary team will be picked during four nights of fighting on Feb. 3, 4, 5 and 6.

The Joliet team also will attract its share of steel workers and sons of steel workers. In addition the tournament conducted by the Joliet Spectator has attracted boys from all along the Fox river valley along with a heavy entry from Morris, Kankakee, Ottawa and other cities.

MAREK DEFEATS BOB GODWIN IN 10 ROUND FIGHT

Miami Beach, Fla., Jan. 21.—(AP)—Max Marek, 184½ pound Chicagoan, pounded out a decision over Bob Godwin, 177, Daytona Beach veteran, in a 10 round fight tonight. Marek jabbed Godwin's face repeatedly and buckled his knees several times with hard hooks to the body.

PRO ELEVENS MAY ADOPT ROUND ROBIN NEXT YEAR

Columbus, O., Jan. 21.—(AP)—The National Professional Football league, president Joe F. Carr said today, probably will adopt a 16 game schedule for the 1936 season at its annual meeting in Philadelphia, Feb. 8 and 9. The nine club league has played a 12 game schedule in the past. The projected plan is for each club to play each of the other eight in a home and home series, making 16 contests for each.

GOLDEN GLOVES TICKETS

The mail order sale of tickets for the Golden Gloves Tournament of Champions Feb. 24, 25, and 26, and also for the finals March 6, has opened.

These fights, bringing together the greatest amateur boxers in 13 states, will be held at the Chicago Stadium, and all seats will be reserved.

The thousands of regular Golden Gloves fans who attend these bouts every year know the value of obtaining tickets early. And here's a tip to new Golden Gloves fans who are due for their biggest boxing thrill—Tickets are distributed on a first come, first served basis.

Prices for the Tournament of Champions are 40 cents, 66 cents, and $1.10. For the finals they are $1.10, $1.65, $2.20, and $3.30. Send check or money order to Golden Gloves Ticket Manager, Tribune Tower, Chicago.

New Gridiron Aim: Michigan vs. Notre Dame

Ann Arbor, Mich., Jan. 21.—[Special.]—A suggestion of the Michigan Daily, University of Michigan student newspaper, that steps be taken to bring about resumption of football relations between Michigan and Notre Dame developed tonight into a campaign, with the arrangement of a game between the two schools as soon as possible as the objective.

The Daily's efforts received encouragement tonight when the Rev. John H. O'Donnell, chairman of the faculty board in control of athletics at Notre Dame, said: "I am happy to learn of the movement being sponsored by the Michigan Daily toward resumption of athletic relations between the University of Michigan and the University of Notre Dame, and at the proper time, on recommendation of Elmer Layden, our director of athletics, I shall be glad to present the matter to our faculty board in control of athletics for its official consideration."

Fielding H. Yost, Michigan athletic director, was not available for comment as he is in the south to attend the funeral of Dan McGugin.

Michigan's schedule is complete through 1938.

It is out and out plagiarism. The name Little Giants has been the traditional title of Wabash college teams since 1903, thanks to Walter Eckersall, who in writing about a game in which he played at the University of Chicago against Wabash stated that they [the Wabash team] tackled like Little Giants. . . .

NEYLAND QUITS ARMY TO COACH AT TENNESSEE

Will Sign 5 Year Contract at $12,500 Annually.

[Copyright: 1936: By the New York Times.]

BALBOA, Canal Zone, Jan. 21.—Maj. Robert R. Neyland Jr., football coach at the University of Tennessee for nearly a decade, will return to his old position there, following his retirement from the engineers corps of the United States army, which became effective today.

Maj. Neyland, who attained national prominence as a coach at Tennessee, while instructing the Reserve Officers' Training corps there on regular assignment, recently applied for retirement, and information from Washington today stated the war department had approved his request. The action was made possible through a recent act of congress which makes possible the retirement of officers at a small salary who have seen 15 years' service.

Coached Beattie Feathers.

After his coaching career at Tennessee, during which he produced such outstanding backs as Beattie Feathers, Bobby Dodd, and the famous Hack and Mack combination of Herman Hickman and Gene McEver, Neyland was transferred to the Panama Canal Zone more than a year ago. During his stay here he became seriously ill of fever, and at one time little hope was held for his recovery.

The war department orders issued today stated Neyland was to go to his home in Greenville, Tex., and await formal notification of the retirement. He then said he would accept the coaching position at Tennessee and will sail for New Orleans on Saturday.

23 Years in Army.

It has been known for several weeks that officials of the Tennessee institution have been eager to have Maj. Neyland return to his old post, but they were balked by a recent ruling which bars army officers from coaching at civilian institutions. His retirement automatically clears up this problem. Including his four years at West Point, Neyland has had 23 years of service in the army.

$12,500 A YEAR

Knoxville, Tenn., Jan. 21.—[Special.]—Maj. Robert R. Neyland Jr. will return to Knoxville to resume his duties as head coach of the University of Tennessee football squad at a salary of $12,500 a year. Officials at the university said tonight Neyland had advised them he would arrive in Knoxville not later than March 1.

On his arrival here, Neyland is expected to sign a five year contract. Of his yearly salary, $10,000 will represent his pay as head coach and the remaining amount will be paid him as secretary of the university's athletic council.

Agree by Cable.

Offer of the five year contract was made Neyland by cable early in December and an agreement between the coach and university officials was reached, though signing of the contract was held in abeyance until Neyland had been granted retirement from the army.

Alumni clamored for Neyland's return before last season's disastrous schedule had been half completed.

Britton to Stay.

Maj. Bill Britton, head coach last fall, has been retained as end coach, and Col. Paul Parker, athletic director, has been signed as line coach. A possibility exists, however, that Parker may resign and take a position with the Mississippi State university at Starksville.

Farrell Sings of English King as Baseball Fan Back in 1914

BY EDWARD BURNS.

Joseph Chesterfield Farrell, Chicago publicist who covered the 1914 world tour of the Chicago White Sox and New York Giants for THE TRIBUNE, is one of the principal Chicago mourners for King George V. Mr. Farrell went about the city yesterday sadly shaking hands with friends, explaining that his hand once had shaken the hand of Britain's late king.

Mr. Farrell, who has circled the globe many times and has resided in most every clime, for more than 21 years has stressed his reminiscences about how he sat next to King George at a White Sox-Giants ball game at Chelsea field, London, on Feb. 26, 1914. With the death of the great democratic monarch all these proud recollections flooded Mr. Farrell's mind and flowed from his tongue.

Stays for 11 Inning Game.

King George's father, King Edward VII., was the first British ruler to attend a game of baseball. In 1889 he put in an appearance at a game sponsored by John Montgomery Ward and Cap Anson. But he walked in, made a brief appearance and walked right out again. King George was different. He stayed through an eleven inning battle which the White Sox won, 5 to 4.

Throughout the contest, featured by three home runs, the king demanded from Farrell full information about the game. The Chicagoan points out that his instructions were so thorough that King George became a second guesser by the time the eighth inning had been reached. On a called strike the king said: "I thought that one pretty low."

King Gets the Idea.

During the course of the game Joe Benz hit a batsman and some American partisan in the stands shouted, "That's right; kill him." The king laughed at this outburst of enthusiasm and when the batsman was put on base the king remarked, "He certainly deserved something for being hit in that manner." With the bases full in the late stages of the game Fred Merkle fielded a ground ball and threw to the plate, whereupon the king said: "I see the wisdom of that first baseman throwing to the home base. It stopped a run."

Commentators who read of Mr. Farrell's association with the king were inclined to be facetious. For instance, the late Ring W. Lardner wrote the following at the head of his Wake of the News column on Feb. 28:

I wonder, will Farrell be just as of old
And treat us as equals and chums?
Or will he be distant and offish and cold
And snobbish and mean to us bums?
Will it be presumptious to buy him a drink,
Since Farrell, Joe Farrell, shook hands
with the kink?

He used to be so democratic and nice;
The pal of us poor common folks.
O, will he now freeze us with glances of ice;
Regard us as pests and as jokes?
I never will feel quite at home with the gink
Since Farrell, Joe Farrell, shook hands
with the kink.

Mr. Farrell always resented flippant references to his associations with royalty. For almost 22 years he has insisted that the king was the best sport among the 35,000 who were at Chelsea field that day to see the White Sox beat the Giants.

Karakas .... 9 7 [illegible]—30

Referees—A. G. Smith and Bill Shaver.

New York, Jan. 21.—(AP)—The revived Chicago Blackhawks tonight took second place in the National Hocky league by defeating the New York Rangers, 1 to 0, before a crowd of 13,000 at Madison Square Garden. The victory was the Hawks' third straight, gave them second place by a half game over the Rangers, who had held that position before tonight, and left them only a game back of the league leading Detroit Red Wings.

Paul Thompson, who had been absent from the Chicago playing personnel since Jan. 9 because of injuries, [illegible] the winning goal. After twelve minutes of the first period, Thompson took a lateral pass from Doc Romnes, and although Ching Johnson, Ranger defense star, had him apparently pinned in a corner, Thompson outguessed the veteran and fired a hard angle shot into the net back of Davie Kerr.

Seibert Leads Defense.

The Hawks will meet the Canadiens at Montreal Thursday, and will return to Chicago to meet the Rangers again on Sunday at the Stadium.

The Hawks' defense, reinforced by the return of the injured Art Wiebe, was the high spot of the night, and Goalie Mike Karakas had little trouble until the third period, when the Rangers strove desperately for the tying goal. The much advertised battle between Earl Seibert and Art Coulter, defense men who were traded last Wednesday in a Hawk-Ranger deal was all Seibert. Although Coulter played a fine defensive game, Seibert matched that and also contributed several brilliant offensive rushes.

Karakas, the 24 year old Austrian who is making his debut in the big time net minder this season, maintained his margin over his rivals for the Vezina trophy, annual goalies' prize.

12 Penalties Meted Out.

Thompson made the first dangerous shot shortly after the game began, a hard angle shot following March's passout. The Rangers responded to this with both Keeling and Patrick missing scoring opportunities while they were close in on Karakas. Seibert then drew a large hand from his former public with a rush which only a fine save by Kerr halted.

Ayres drew the first of the twelve penalties. It was for holding Levinsky after the Hawk had crossed the New York blue line, but it was not until he returned that Thompson scored his goal. Paul took a pass from Romnes just as they crossed the blue line. He nursed the puck in toward Kerr, but Johnson checked him into a corner. The Chicago wing then pivoted sharply and fired the puck past Kerr before the Ranger goalie knew what had happened.

The Rangers came back strong and Seibert was forced to trip Patrick to avert a potential goal, but the Hawks' defense held brilliantly until Earl's return. Burke and Connolly were penalized for jostling each other as the period ended.

Seibert Makes Rushes.

Seibert opened the second period with a number of fine rushes, but Kerr halted all of them. Gottselig of the Hawks and Brydson of the Rangers were the only men on the ice to get clean shots, so able was the work of both defenses. The veteran Bill Cook, playing defense with an injured eye, started a promising rush, but young Art Wiebe flattened him and drew a penalty. He was joined by Heller, who jammed Gottselig into the boards.

The Hawks nearly deceived the Rangers at the outset of the last period by pretending to stall and then making two quick breaks which nearly brought goals by Thompson and March. The Rangers pressed for the rest of the game, but smart back checking and the Hawk defense restrained them. Thompson and Seibert led several strong attacks in the final minutes.

PHEASANTS TRY RABBIT TACTICS, BUT STILL LOSE

Hunters Find Wisconsin Birds Burrow in Cattails.

BY BOB BECKER.

The pheasants around Portage, Wis., apparently have learned several tricks from the rabbits that are in the marshes and alder thickets at this time of the year. At least, that is the impression you get after a January hunt on the Beyer shooting preserve, near Portage, now that the snow is pretty deep up there. [The Wisconsin law permits pheasant hunting on preserves until Feb. 1.]

When we were tramping around in the snow last week to see how the Wisconsin pheasants behave at this time of the year, our party located birds that had burrowed into the cattails so deep that we wondered if they hadn't used a shovel to excavate their hiding places.

A Perfect Demonstration.

A corner of a marsh we hiked through gave us a perfect demonstration of the pheasants' tactics.

Suddenly we saw the dog hesitate and then point. We looked in vain for signs of a bird. The dog [Don, an Irish setter] moved up cautiously. Then he pointed again. We walked up next to him and all but strained our eyes to see where a bird could be. Then we decided that it must be a rabbit, snuggled down deep in the cover.

There He Goes!

Two more steps and—br-r-r-r—up shot a cock pheasant. When we took time to investigate the hiding place of the bird we found it in a small clump of cattails. But the bird had not been crouching on a level with the snow. Instead, it had burrowed below the snow line, more like a rabbit than anything else.

While we were exclaiming over the cyclone cellar habit of the ringnecks, we looked up and there stood Don and Tippy [the Irish and Gordon setters] on point about 125 feet away in the marsh. Otto Beyer and Lyman Barr, our shooting partners, hustled over.

The Battle Is On.

Then things happened. Up roared a cock pheasant on Barr's left. He drilled that with a neat right angling shot. Then out came another that veered to Beyer's right. He dropped that one. And then we saw another cock shooting out of the marsh and running into a small clump of timber. Thus we found four cock pheasants imitating rabbits in a piece of marsh not more than 150 feet long and 75 feet wide.

LLOYD WANER, PIRATE STAR, OUT OF DANGER

Oklahoma City, Okla., Jan. 21.—[Special.]—Lloyd Waner, the younger member of the Pittsburgh Pirates' brother-outfielder duo, today passed the crisis in his fight against pneumonia, according to his physician, Dr. L. C. Williams.

Waner developed pneumonia after a cold which his wife said he contracted while watching a hocky game. After the infection had cleared up in the right lung, it settled in the left, and last night his condition was reported as critical. Today Dr. Williams pronounced him out of danger.

Despite the fact that friends and other relatives had urged sending for Lloyd's older brother Paul, now wintering in Sarasota, Fla., when the former's illness became serious, Mrs. Waner asked that this not be done.

Lloyd Waner followed his brother into major league baseball with the Pirates in 1926, after having served a minor league apprenticeship in the Pacific Coast and Sally leagues.

INDIANA PLAYERS END VICTORY TRIP AND FACE EXAMS

Bloomington, Ind., Jan. 21.—[Special.]—Indiana university's basketball squad, returning today from a week-end trip with two more Big Ten victories to its credit, prepared to tackle final examinations which begin tomorrow. Coach Everett Dean announced no practice will be held until early next week. Dean said excellent defensive work was one of the main factors in the Hoosiers' string of five conference triumphs.

Time, 1:26. Two dollar mutuels paid: Finisher, $30.40 straight, $10.00 place, $5.40 show; Wiggle In, $4.00 place, $2.60 show; Peerless Pal, $3.60 show. Winner, b. g., 3, by Jack High-Finita. Owner, George D. Widener. Trainer, F. W. Mulholland. Start good. Won easily; place driving. Weather clear; track fast.

FINISHER, well handled, was kept close to the early pace, came around leader in stretch, took lead, and was going away at end. WIGGLE IN, well up all the way, ran good race and was nicely ridden. PEERLESS PAL finished fast. FANLE had plenty of speed, but weakened badly in last furlong. DOUBLE FINESSE stumbled and interfered with LADY GRANDACE.

SECOND RACE—Three furlongs. Two year olds. Purse $800. Net value to winner, $600; second, $125; third, $50; fourth, $25.

Time, 1:47 4-5. Two dollar mutuels paid: Aura, $12.40 straight, $6.80 place, $4.20 show; Muscle In, $8.80 place, $6.60 show; Sweet Susan, $5.10 show. Winner, br. f., 3, by Big Blaze-Beatitude. Owner, Mrs. Ethel D. Jacobs. Trainer, H. Jacobs. Start good. Won driving; place same.

AURA, showing a decided liking for the grass course, ran into lead entering stretch and stood long drive gamely. MUSCLE IN had early speed, dropped back around turn, and came again at end. SWEET SUSAN broke from the outside and, away running, followed pace and held on gamely. BOMBASTIC came from the rear gamely. KRONA was rushed into lead and stopped badly. INDIANA FLYER suffered interference. EMER J. had a flash of early speed.

SEVENTH RACE—Mile and a quarter. Claiming. Four year olds and up. Purse $1,000. Net value to winner, $700; second, $150; third, $100; fourth, $50.

LAW MAKER, displaying good speed, raced SEAWICK into defeat and held on gamely. SEAWICK, on the inside, saved ground all the way and made a game effort. FUSCO was kept well up and closed fast in stretch. TOP HIGH ran an improved race. HOME WORK could not get up. TRIBUNAL tired.

Western State Teachers to Meet De Paul Friday

Western State Teachers will meet De Paul university's five Friday night at the De Paul gymnasium. Western State has won nine of ten games, losing only to Purdue. Dave Arnold, 6 feet 4 inch center, is the key man in the Western State attack. He has scored 104 points this season, which matches the scoring feat of Capt. Ray Adams of the Demons.

Coaches Rules Body to Meet in Pittsburgh

Pittsburgh, Pa., Jan. 21.—(AP)—The rules committee of the American Football Coaches association decided today to meet in Pittsburgh Feb. 1, with apparently little possibility that important changes will be up for consideration.

Dr. John B. Sutherland of Pittsburgh will be acting chairman in place of Lou Little of Columbia, who is ill in New York.

May Move Goal Posts.

Football officials here were of the opinion the proposals for moving the goal posts back from the end line to the goal line and elimination of the slow whistle will be about all the major questions to receive official attention from the coaches' committee.

Those ideas constituted the main grist from the recent grid gatherings in New York. The committee meeting here will offer any suggestions agreed upon to the national football rules committee.

Chairman Against Changes.

Sutherland is known to favor letting the regulations alone for awhile "and let the coaches get used to them."

It will be the first meeting of the coaches' rules committee in Pittsburgh. Tuss McLaughry of Brown, president of the association, accepted Sutherland's invitation after he learned Chairman Little would be unable to attend even if the session were held in New York.

Poughkeepsie Regatta to Be Held June 22

New York, Jan. 21.—(AP)—The board of stewards of the Intercollegiate Rowing association today fixed Monday, June 22, for the 1936 Poughkeepsie regatta.

The date for the annual four mile pull down the Hudson for college eights strategically was fixed ten days before the American Olympic trials at Princeton on Lake Carnegie, July 2-4.

Sufficient time has been arranged for the varsity crews to rest after the regatta, and then prepare for the shorter 2,000 meter distance over which the Olympic trials and all Olympic events are conducted.

Invite Marietta Winner.

The Poughkeepsie regatta this year will offer an innovation with the board of stewards' decision to invite the winner of the mid-America regatta to be held earlier in June at Marietta, O. Contestants in that event are expected to be Wisconsin, Marietta, Rawlins, Manhattan and Rutgers.

"This was done," Chairman Maxwell Stevenson of Columbia said, "to encourage colleges and universities which have taken up rowing in the last few years.

"Wisconsin, of course, has long been conspicuous at Poughkeepsie, but recent years have been marked by a falling off of rowing interest there. It is our hope the races at Marietta will help revive midwestern interest and that, as a consequence, we will have a more representative fleet."

Expect Eight Entrants.

It is expected the varsity race will bring together eight crews, including the Marietta winner, Washington and California from the Pacific coast, Cornell, Columbia, Navy, Pennsylvania and Syracuse from the east. The latter five compose the association membership.

The varsity race will be preceded by the two-mile freshman and three-mile junior varsity races.

AUTO RACING TO START TONIGHT AT RIDING CLUB

Midget auto racing moves to the north side tonight when 32 drivers compete at the Chicago Riding club, Ontario street and McClurg court. Ronnie Householder, Jimmy Snyder, Chuck Niesel, Wally Zale, Art Foley, and Frank Brisko are among the pilots who will put the newly constructed track to a test.

The main event will be a 40 lap race in which the winners of the twelve lap qualifying trials will take part. Ten races are on the program.

Detroit Club to Honor S. M. U. Football Coach

Dallas, Tex., Jan. 21.—(AP)—Madison Bell, Southern Methodist football coach, and Bobby Wilson, star half back, will leave Dallas Saturday for Detroit, where they will be honored at the Detroit Yacht club's annual all-American athletic banquet. Bell will receive the club's cup in recognition of his work with the Methodist Mustangs last season.

NEW DEAL SPENDS 340 MILLIONS ON SPORTS PROJECTS

Government Funds Build Athletic Plants.

Washington, D. C., Jan. 21.—(AP)—Sport projects allotments have sliced into the government's 4 billion dollar work relief fund for more than $340,000,000 in the last six months.

On the theory that outdoor life builds better bodies, that construction gives employment and that millions of citizens will be benefited, the government has spent, or agreed to spend on sport projects, since last July 1, a total of $340,059,174.

The Works Progress administration said today President Roosevelt had approved outlays for athletic fields, parks, stadiums, swimming pools, golf courses, armories, tennis courts, and game, fish, and bird work.

Nine Per Cent to Sportsmen.

The allotments devote to sportsmen and youngsters approximately 9 per cent of the huge total appropriated by congress last session.

Some of the projects already are finished, construction is under way on others, and has not yet begun on many. The program calls for 8,376 separate projects.

Of the entire allotment, $8,607,730 comes under sport indirectly through expenditures on game, fish, and birds, although all such moneys eventually will aid the rod and gun sportsman.

Build Beaches.

By far the bulk of the money—$306,463,429—has been allotted to parks, which include baseball and football fields, etc., and various equipment for other sports and for the entertainment of boys and girls on playgrounds.

The building of swimming pools throughout the country and the improvement of bathing beaches calls for $11,114,690.

For athletic fields $6,916,485 has been put aside, while another $6,956,840 was allotted to miscellaneous projects under the sports classification.

FLORALS MEET WISCONSIN PRO QUINTET TONIGHT

The undefeated Oshkosh, Wis., Pros will visit St. Rita gym tonight to play the Duffy Florals' professional basketball team. Last year the Badger quintet broke a long winning streak of the Duffys. In its lineup are Ed Mullen, guard last season at Marquette; Bill Mangan, another former Hilltopper; Ray Pflum, captain at Armour Tech last winter, and three ex-Wisconsin stars in Pete Preboski, Ray Hamann, and Johnny Paul.

Two other games are on the card, the first starting at 7:30. The Edward J. Barretts, who won a city championship last year as the Southwest Bakery team, will meet the Fouquette Books.

Oshkosh-Floral lineup:

Examine More Boxers at Trafton's Tomorrow.

BY WILFRID SMITH.

The Duncan Y. M. C. A., 1515 West Monroe street, has entered 12 amateur boxers in the Golden Gloves tournament. The entry was submitted yesterday by C. B. Redman, physical director at the Duncan Y. Notification of time and place for medical examination will be mailed to these boxers within a few days.

Despite last night's storm, 337 boxers reported at Trafton's gymnasium for physical examinations. Twenty-eight were rejected by the staff of physicians consisting of Dr. William Rothman, Dr. Clarence T. Plaut, Dr. Ernest R. Stoehr, Dr. Edward R. Rategan, and Dr. Ernest D. Ponzer. The percentage of Golden Glovers reporting was the highest since the present system was started in 1934.

More Exams Tomorrow.

Registration, information sheets, weights, and tickets were handled last night by the following members of THE TRIBUNE A. A.: Harry Berz, Edward Schwartz, Dave Rutizer, George Schwartz, Harry Cullinan, Joe Beran, John Gunderson, Harry Hahn, Edward Blohm, Bert Cowdrey, Joe Miller, Phil Fox, Paul Staff, Otis Taylor, and Art Dalton.

The second physical examination is scheduled for tomorrow night [6 to 8 p. m.] at Trafton's gymnasium, 180 West Randolph street. Seven hundred boys have been assigned. Another examination at Trafton's gymnasium will be held on Thursday night, Jan. 30. However, there is an examination one week from tonight, but this is restricted to the Catholic Youth organization team entry. Letters for this date at the C. Y. O. center, 31 East Congress street, have been mailed by Jack Elder, athletic director of the C. Y. O.

May Be Reassigned.

All the Duncan Y. M. C. A. boxers have requested permission to enter the west side sectional which opens Feb. 10 at the Madison Athletic club, 4711 West Madison street. In all probability they will be permitted to fight in the west side tournament, but the tournament committee reserves the right to assign any boxer to any section in order to equalize the number of contestants.

The south side tournament, which opens at White City, South Park avenue and 63d street, Feb. 11, will be the largest of the three Chicago sections. It is the center of the largest territory and for this reason the south side will qualify two boys in each weight for the Tournament of Champions and two boys in each weight for the semi-finals of the Chicago Novice tournament which will be held in conjunction with the Tournament of Champions at the Chicago Stadium on Feb. 24.

Sectional Schedule.

NORTH—Loyola university gymnasium, Loyola avenue and Sheridan road, Feb. 18, 19, and 20.

Admission to all sectional tournaments will be 75 cents for adults and 40 cents for boys and girls 15 years of age and under.

Preliminary tournaments are being held at various parks and playgrounds. These give boxers experience. In several cases the park and playground instructors will enter the winners as a team. In this fashion the boys will have better equipment and benefit of expert advice. The losers, however, in these preliminaries are not barred from entering the Golden Gloves sectionals. Any boy 16 years of age, who is registered with the A. A. U., passes a physical examination, and has his parents' consent to compete, is eligible.

Training Future Glovers.

John Dolce, instructor at Pulaski park, has announced a preliminary tournament for his community center at Blackhawk and Noble streets. Entries close at noon Sunday.

"By this tournament," Dolce writes, "I think interest in boxing will be revived in this community and the park will be represented by a strong team in Golden Gloves. The park also is a splendid place for contestants to train. In my tournament I am planning to have bouts in the 75, 85, 95, and 105 pound classes. These youngsters will gain experience for the time when they reach the flyweight class, which is the lowest weight class in A. A. U. boxing."

Lake Forest Academy Five to Play Culver

Lake Forest academy's basketball team, winner of the Midwest High school tournament last year, will meet Culver Military academy at Lake Forest Saturday night.

Bath-Treest Victor to Box New York Foe

The first move in a heavyweight elimination tournament tieup between Jack Dempsey and James C. Mullen and Nate Lewis of Chicago Stadium has been made.

Before Dempsey left last night with his ailing mother, Mrs. Cecelia Dempsey, for her home in Salt Lake City, Utah, it was announced that the former champion had accepted an offer to have Clarence [Red] Burman clash with Hank Bath or Billy Treest at the Stadium next month, probably Feb. 7. Bath and Treest will meet for ten rounds at the west side arena Friday night in the Stadium's heavyweight elimination. Burman is entered in Dempsey's tourney being held in New York.

Six supporting bouts at five rounds each were announced yesterday for the Bath-Treest program. They follow: Harry Thomas, Eagle Bend, Minn., vs. Big Bill Fogarty, Syracuse, N. Y.; Tom Baxter, Buffalo, N. Y., vs. Heinz Kohlhass, New York; Buddy Knox, Dayton, O., vs. Spin Nelson, Red Wing, Minn.; Woody White, Evansville, Ind., vs. Johnny Erjavec, Duluth, Minn.; Al Kubiak, Pulaski, Wis., vs. Lou Goode, Chicago; Joe Daily, Fort Worth, Tex., vs. Russ Schultz, Minneapolis, Minn.

Mr. and Mrs. Joe Louis have gone to Detroit to spend a few days with the 1934 Chicago Golden Gloves champion's mother, Mrs. Lily Brooks, after which the couple will head for Hot Springs, Ark. They plan to remain at Hot Springs for two weeks before continuing their journey to California.

King Levinsky is matched to meet Butch Rogers, Los Angeles heavyweight, at Oakland, Cal., next Monday. . . . Winfrid Mullins, Vincennes, Ind., featherweight, is booked to appear at Los Angeles Feb. 11. . . . Mickey O'Shea floored Bob Crowley of Dubuque, Ia., in the third round and again in the fourth at Freeport, Ill., Monday. . . . Still he lost the decision. . . . Geno Salvatore, La Salle lightweight, and Eddie Zivic, Pittsburgh, yesterday were matched to meet for ten rounds at Marigold Gardens Monday. . . . Barney Ross, welterweight champion, and his managers, Art Winch and Sam Pian, will leave tomorrow for Philadelphia, where the 1929 Chicago Golden Gloves king will fight Lou Halper Monday. . . . Harry Dublinsky continued drills yesterday at Madison Square loop gymnasium in preparation for his twelve round welterweight elimination encounter with Billy Celebron at Cicero stadium one week from tonight. . . . Stephen Press and Alex Maksymiec will appear in two feature bouts on the amateur card tomorrow at C. Y. O. center. . . . Benny Miller and Verne Patterson, rival amateur lightweights, have been paired for a five round scrap at Madison Athletic club Friday. . . . Rudy Hoffman will meet Jack Ross and Bill Goeltz will encounter Buddy Atlas in two of four supporting bouts at Marigold Gardens Friday. . . . Jack Smith and Jack Zeravich will be windup opponents.

Amateur shows tonight will be held at 124th Field Artillery armory, 63d street and Cottage Grove avenue, and Hull house gymnasium, Halsted and Polk streets. F. M.

TILDEN TROUPE DRAWS ONLY 500 IN PHILADELPHIA

Philadelphia, Pa., Jan. 21.—(AP)—Bill Tilden brought his touring professional tennis troupe to his home city tonight, but the box office greeting was anything but cordial. Only about 500 were on hand as the series of matches started, with the two new women members of the group showing their wares in the first clash. Mrs. Ethel Burkhardt Arnold defeated Jane Sharp with ease in this match, 6-1, 6-4.

Tilden registered a 5-7, 6-4, 6-4 victory over Bruce Barnes. Barnes put everything he had into the first set, but could not last afterward against Tilden's all-court play.

I. A. C. Amateur Boxing Tourney to Open Tonight

The fourth annual amateur boxing tournament sponsored by the Illinois Athletic club will start tonight at the I. A. C. gymnasium, 112 South Michigan avenue, with competition in every weight division except the heavyweight.

A field of 126, the second largest entry in the four year history of the meet, will compete in more than 30 bouts. This field will be reduced to 32 boys before the evening's action is concluded. The survivors qualify for additional matches tomorrow, sixteen in the semi-final round and eight in the final round.

Those who win in the final round will be awarded a golden boxing glove. Runnersup will be given a silver glove and semi-finalists a bronze glove. The club scoring the most points will receive a team trophy.

Outstanding contestants include:

Maroons and Marquette to Meet Tonight

Chicago's Maroons will be out for a coveted victory tonight when Marquette comes to the Midway. Marquette has been beating the Maroons regularly in recent years, and last month scored a 28 to 27 victory over the Maroons in a game at Milwaukee.

The Hilltoppers have dropped six of their twelve games to date this season. Last year, when Ray Morstadt was operating at forward for Marquette, the Milwaukee team twice defeated the Maroons by scores of 33 to 23 and 28 to 24.

Lack Scoring Power.

Lack of scoring by the center and the guards has hampered the Maroons considerably thus far. Bill Haarlow may be leading the Big Ten in scoring with 55 points for four games, but Kendall Petersen, regular guard, didn't make a point in those games.

Although Coach Nels Norgren is trying to build up the scoring of his other men he will have to depend heavily on Haarlow and Bill Lang, the two forwards, who between them have done more than two-thirds of Chicago's scoring to date.

Vytiska to Start.

Bill Vytiska, sophomore from Morton High, Cicero, will start at forward for Marquette. Another local product, Charles Eirich, center, a former player for St. George High school, will also start. Two sophomore reserves who may break into the game, Albert Cofone and Raymond Wherry, are also local products, the former from St. George and the latter from Lake View High.

EDELWEISS OUT TO CUT PABST'S BOWLING LEAD

The Edelweiss Beers will see what they can do about cutting down the lead of the Pabst Blue Ribbon Beers in the Classic Bowling league when they meet tonight at Logan Square Recreation, 2548 Milwaukee avenue. The other matches tonight are:

Wright College Five Beats So. Side, 50-34; 4th in Row

The Wright Junior college basketball team scored its fourth consecutive triumph by defeating South Side Junior college, 50 to 34, on the Wright court yesterday. Wally Sommers sank eight baskets and five free throws, and Wally Zurez made six baskets and one free throw.

Waukegan Five, with Ronzani, Plays Goodyears

The Waukegan Eagles basketball team, which has defeated several leading quintets in the middle west, will meet the Milwaukee Goodyears at the Waukegan High school gymnasium on Friday night. Among the members of the Waukegan squad is Gene Ronzani, member of the Chicago Bears football team last fall.

Haarlow Still Leads Big 10 Scoring Race

The University of Chicago basketball team may be bogged down in the cellar of the Western conference at this writing, but its brilliant captain, Bill Haarlow, is in the best seat in the parlor as far as Big Ten individual scoring is concerned.

The slim south sider is leading all conference sharpshooters with 55 points, collected on 22 field goals and 11 free throws, despite the fact that he has played one game less than the runner-up, Warren Whitlinger of Ohio State, who has scored 52 points on 16 baskets and 20 free throws in five games. Haarlow tops all scorers from the field and Whitlinger is the leader from the free throw line.

John Townsend Takes Third.

Both Haarlow and Whitlinger were idle Monday night, allowing a newcomer to crowd into third place. He is John Townsend, Michigan sophomore forward, who now has 43 points, one more than Ken Gunning of the leading Indiana quintet. Rudness, another Wolverine, is in fifth place with 40 points.

Bob Kessler and Jewell Young, stars of the undefeated Purdue team who had pressed Haarlow and Whitlinger through the early stages of the campaign, were idle over the weekend and dropped to a tie for eighth place. Neither of this pair will see conference competition until Feb. 1, when the Boilermakers entertain Chicago at Lafayette. Whitlinger also will be idle as far as conference competition goes until the same date, when the Buckeyes meet Minnesota at Columbus.

Get Chance Saturday.

Haarlow, Townsend, and Rudness in the meantime will have an opportunity to pull away from the pursuers on Saturday night, when the Maroons invade Evanston for a battle with Northwestern and the Wolverines travel to Minneapolis to meet Minnesota.

SAN DIEGO GETS HOLLYWOOD CLUB IN COAST LEAGUE

Los Angeles, Cal., Jan. 21.—[Special.]—During the 1936 season and, presumably, thereafter, the Hollywood Coast league baseball club will represent San Diego, a city of 160,000 population. A tentative agreement was reached by Owner H. W. [Bill] Lane in San Diego today. Lane's chief condition was that San Diego erect a park suitable for class AA baseball. During the last several seasons the Hollywood club has played its home games at Wrigley field, Los Angeles, alternating with the Los Angeles Angels. The coming season will be the first time in many years that Los Angeles has not been represented by two teams in the Coast league, Vernon having been the club that preceded Hollywood as the alternative diamond attraction here.

Crane Defeats Tuley, 23-21; Takes Lead

Crane Tech's junior basketball team took undisputed possession of first place in the west section of the Chicago Public High School league by defeating Tuley, 23 to 21, at the latter's gymnasium yesterday. It was Crane's third consecutive victory and it is now the only unbeaten quintet in the section.

A field goal by Lawson, forward, in the last 25 seconds of play gave Crane Tech victory. Tuley led at the end of the first half, 8 to 5, and held a 17 to 11 advantage at the conclusion of the third quarter. Rottner and Griesman starred for Tuley.

Manley's juniors continued their march toward the central section championship when they defeated Farragut, 41 to 14. Manley has piled up 143 points in three league contests.

Roosevelt, Waller, and Lane remained tied for the north division lead by scoring their third victories. Roosevelt triumphed over Schurz, 41 to 28; Waller defeated Senn, 22 to 19, and Lane won from Lake View, 34 to 19. Scores:

PEDEN AND AUDY LEAD BIKE RACE AT MILWAUKEE

Milwaukee, Wis., Jan. 21.—(AP)—Torchy Peden and Jules Audy were a lap in the lead at 10 o'clock tonight as the fifth Milwaukee international six-day bike race entered the 122d hour. The field was reduced to seven pairs by the illness of Bobby Thomas, Kenosha, Wis., rider, and a referee's ruling. When Thomas dropped out with stomach illness, his partner, Henri Lepage, teamed with Frank Bartell. Bartell's starting partner, Mickey Rodak, withdrew. Reggie Fielding and Ray Keller, American-Canadian team, were ruled from the race for inability to keep up with the field. They were 28 laps behind the leaders.

The standings:

Team.	Miles.	Laps.	Points.
Peden-Audy	1,956	4	2,205
Kilian-Vopel	1,956	3	2,960
Crossley-Walthour	1,956	3	2,895

New King of England Known as Follower of All Sports

New York, Jan. 21.—[Special.]—American athletes have a high regard for Edward VIII., the new king of England, and he for them. As the prince of Wales he was an enthusiastic sportsman with a particular fondness for our competition.

He played golf with Gene Sarazen, Walter Hagen and Leo Diegel during Ryder cup matches abroad. He entertained Gene Tunney when the former heavyweight titleholder visited London. The first woman to beat him on the links was an American—Beatrice Gottlieb, of New York. He was a house guest of Jack Curley. He played polo at Westbury and he bet on the ponies at Belmont Park.

Georges Was His Pal.

Among prize fighters he especially liked Georges Carpentier. He met Carpentier when the latter knocked out Joe Beckett in 1919 in 70 seconds and a strong friendship developed. In return for the royal patronage Carpentier taught the prince dance steps.

Ted Ray, famed British pro, was the new king's instructor when he took up golf. His progress was slow, but today he shoots consistently in the low 80's. He had an 83 when Miss Gottlieb beat him, 5 and 4, at Sunningdale in 1933. She presented him with one of her favorite sticks, which he had admired.

He Knows His Horses.

The king knows a lot about horses. He knew enough to take $840 from the late Johnny Walters, millionaire bookmaker, at Belmont Park the afternoon Epinard raced Wise Counsellor.

Johnny handled the king's money. Wales liked Johnny. Later he sent him a card with the inscription "by appointment to H. R. H., the Prince of Wales." The card, still preserved by Walter's wife, was the most cherished of all his mementos of the turf.

MIKE KARAKAS' BROTHER TO PLAY AGAINST C. Y. O.

Luko Karakas, goalie for the Muskegan Reds, who will play the C. Y. O. Shamrocks hocky team at Chicago stadium Sunday afternoon, is a brother of Mike Karakas, Blackhawk goal tender, whose brilliant performances make him leader in the race for the Vezinia trophy in the National Hocky league.

Both Karakas boys started their career with the Eveleth, Minn., Rangers, midwest amateur title holders. They are of Austrian parentage. Luko is 21 and Mike 23. Their weight and height are nearly the same.

Mel Ott Signs; Becomes Second Satisfied Giant

New York, Jan. 21.—[Special.]—Melvin T. Ott, veteran New York Giant outfielder, today became the second Giant to return a signed contract to Secretary James Tierney.

Although he will not be 27 until March 2, the coming season will mark the 12th year in a New York uniform for Ott, who came up as a pudgy catcher in 1925 and subsequently developed into one of the game's foremost outfielders.

BRUINS DEFEAT MAROONS, 1 TO 0, ON SHORE'S GOAL

14,000 See Teams Battle in Boston Garden.

Boston, Mass., Jan. 21.—(AP)—Eddie Shore's first goal of the season, registered less than three minutes before the final bell, gave the Boston Bruins a 1 to 0 triumph over the Montreal Maroons tonight before a near capacity crowd of 14,000 at the Boston garden.

The victors, playing their third game in four nights, appeared a bit weary at the opening face-off, which was delayed until the huge crowd paid a tribute to the memory of the late King George. As the huge crowd stood uncovered in the darkened arena, four U. S. Marine corps buglers sounded taps.

When the action started, however, the Bruins managed to match the Maroon's fast pace and the keen rivals played wide open hocky from start to finish.

Shore launched his scoring drive from the Boston zone, passed left to Red Beattie as he crossed the Montreal line and then fought his way up to Billy Beveridge's net. Beattie carried in from the right boards and drove a hard backhander at the lunging goalie. Before the latter could straighten up, Shore whacked the rebound through a wide opening.

The victory was the Bruins' third straight over the Maroons and also their third home triumph in a row.

Lineup:

IT COSTS MORE TO PRODUCE BLENDED WHISKEY

ENJOYS GOOD WHISKEY YET SPARES HIS PURSE!

"I used to judge whiskey by the price tag—little thinking that I could get good whiskey at a low price. But a short while ago a neighbor opened my eyes. He offered me a drink of Old Drum. It tasted expensive to me—ripe, smooth and mellow. Jokingly, I asked how he could afford such expensive whiskey. When he told me how little Old Drum really cost I was dumbfounded! Now I buy Old Drum all the time—get the good whiskey I enjoy—at the price I can afford to pay!"

WHISKEY BARGAIN WINS AMERICA!

Thousands switching to money-saving whiskey voted worth 40% more than its actual price

Looking for a "drinkable" low priced whiskey? Here it is! Old Drum—the sensational whiskey America is raving about. Voted in nation-wide poll of palates to be worth at least 40% more than it sells for! Distilled from the same choice grain used for making costliest whiskies!

Maryland Distillery's Creed

"It should be the responsibility of every legitimate distiller to produce whiskies so perfect, at a price so low, that the public can have no reason for patronizing illegal distillers who defraud our National, State and Local Governments of their just revenues."

HEART DISEASE GAINS IN CITY AS CAUSE OF DEATH

We're "Living Too Fast," Doctor Warns.

Fatalities from heart disease increased in Chicago in 1935 although there was a decline in the number of deaths from all causes, according to statistics announced yesterday by the Chicago Heart association. There were 36,282 deaths from all causes in 1934 and 35,425 in 1935. The number of heart disease deaths increased from 9,654 in 1934 to 10,085. Heart disease caused 26.6 per cent of all the deaths in the city in 1934 and 28.5 per cent in 1935.

The figures were interpreted by Dr. N. C. Gilbert, president of the association, as meaning that "too many people are living at too fast a pace."

Fewer Deaths Among Children.

"Heart disease deaths in children are being reduced," said Dr. Gilbert, "so there is an ever greater increase of deaths among adults than is indicated by the statistics. The decrease in deaths among children is due partly to the decrease of infectious diseases and to popular education by the health department and schools and the heart associations.

"The figures show that many more men than women have heart disease and that they are chiefly of the business executive and professional types. The reason is that the men keep themselves under too much of a strain. At night instead of having relaxation and quiet, they keep actively going, either socially at parties or night clubs or by taking their day's business to bed with them."

Urges Lessening of Tension.

The remedy, said Dr. Gilbert, is in easing of tension through proper rest and proper thinking and working habits.

"Don't try to drive to Cleveland by night when you can have an easy train ride," he said. "Don't take a vacation to see how far you can drive. Find a quiet place and stay there. Winter vacations are very helpful. The most important thing is to keep in touch with your family doctor, one person on whom the responsibility is fixed, and do what he says, not what your neighbor says."

HERMANN FELBER DIES; 25 YEARS IN ORCHESTRA HERE

Funeral services for Hermann Felber, 67 years old, a member of the Chicago Symphony orchestra for 25 years until his retirement three years ago, will be held Friday morning at the chapel in Oak Woods cemetery, where he will be buried. Mr. Felber, who died Monday night in his home at 7655 Bosworth avenue of a heart attack, was well known in Chicago music circles.

He was born in Germany and came to the United States as a boy, receiving most of his musical education in this country. He was known as a notable cello and trumpet player and often performed as soloist.

Mr. Felber is survived by his son, Herman Felber Jr., 5460 Hyde Park boulevard, an orchestra leader employed by radio station WLS, and a daughter, Lydia Fasshauer.

Dr. Clarence Hanson Dies; Funeral to Be Held Friday

Dr. Clarence A. Hanson, 39 years old, 6501 South Marshfield avenue, died suddenly yesterday of a heart attack in his home. He is survived by his widow, Charlotte, and a daughter, Jean Marie, 4 years old. Dr. Hanson was a graduate of Loyola university. For the last ten years he maintained offices at 753 East 79th street. Funeral services will be held Friday afternoon at the chapel at 5438 South Halsted street. Burial will be in Holy Sepulchre cemetery.

L. D. Taft, former Chicago Grain Man, Dies in Vermont

Word was received here yesterday of the death Monday of L. D. Taft, a pioneer Chicago grain merchant, at his home in Montpelier, Vt. Mr. Taft, who was 86 years old, was a partner of E. W. Bailey, founder of a grain commission house in Chicago more than fifty years ago. In recent years Mr. Taft and Mr. Bailey's son, George Bailey, have operated seed mills in Vermont. Mr. Taft is survived by his widow and two children.

Lucy A. Hall, Methodist Deaconess 40 Years, Dies

Lucy A. Hall, 76 years old, who was a deaconess in the Methodist church for more than 40 years until her retirement in 1932, died yesterday in the Agard Home for Methodist Deaconesses at Lake Bluff. Funeral services will be held at the Agard home tomorrow. Burial will be in Ringwood, Ill.

New Wills Filed

The following wills were admitted to probate yesterday and filed with Michael C. Robin:

MARY GRACE LANE, died Jan. 18. Estate, $25,000, to son. Chicago Title and Trust company, executor.

AUGUST HENRY KELLER, died May 18. Estate, $6,000, to widow, two daughters and son. Emily Keller, widow, executrix.

A. T. LINDGREN, SURVIVOR OF FIRE OF 1871, DIES AT 84

Funeral services for Alfred T. Lindgren, 84 years old, 142 South Taylor avenue, Oak Park, will be held Sunday afternoon in Knoxville, Ill. Mr. Lindgren, a survivor of the Chicago fire of 1871, died on Monday in his home.

He came to the United States at the age of 14 from Sweden, where he was born. At the time of the fire he was employed in a delicatessen store on Chicago avenue about one mile west of the lake. His daughter, Caroline, who, with his widow, Nellie, survive him, said her father often described scenes of the fire to her and told how he played his cello in the street to quiet the fears of the citizens.

Mr. Lindgren was employed as a chief clerk by the Chicago, Burlington and Quincy railroad in Chicago and Galesburg for 20 years. He left the railroad to become affiliated with the Rockford Building and Loan association, of which he remained secretary for 40 years. He was organist and choir leader of Lutheran churches at Galesburg and Rockford for 46 years. The family moved from Rockford to Oak Park in 1928.

JOHN C. KELLEY DIES; EX-OFFICIAL OF SOAP CONCERN

John Cecil Kelley, 50 years old, a former director of sales in the Chicago office of the Palmolive Soap company, died yesterday in St. Joseph Mercy hospital, Aurora, following a stroke of apoplexy. In recent months he had been living with relatives in Aurora.

Mr. Kelley was a son of John Kelley, a former sherif of Kane county. He severed his connection with the Palmolive company in the early 1920s and went to New York, where he was employed in the advertising department of the New York Times.

Mr. Kelley is survived by a son, John, 551 Downer place, Aurora. He was a brother-in-law of Frank Reid, former congressman from the 11th Illinois district, and of John K. Newhall, Aurora attorney and former Circuit judge of the 16th judicial district. He also is survived by two brothers and three sisters, all of Aurora. Funeral will be held this morning at Mr. Newhall's home, 567 Garfield avenue, Aurora.

Jacob P. Hausam Dies at 81 in Arlington Heights Home

Funeral services for Jacob P. Hausam, 81 years old, a lifetime resident of Wheeling township, will be held tomorrow afternoon at the First Methodist Episcopal church in Arlington Heights. Mr. Hausam died Monday night in his home at 636 North Dunton avenue, Arlington Heights. For many years he was employed in the office of the Cook county jury commissioners, retiring in 1925. He was a member of the Masonic Veterans' association and was active in the Oriental consistory for 21 years. Mr. Hausam is survived by three sons and three daughters.

Edward J. Cryer, Realty Dealer, Dies; Rites Today

Funeral services for Edward J. Cryer, 51 years old, 6441 Wayne avenue, real estate man who died suddenly at home Monday, will be held this afternoon in the chapel at 7066 North Clark street. Burial will be in Calumet, Mich. Mr. Cryer was head of the E. J. Cryer & Co. land development concern, 166 West Jackson boulevard, which he founded in 1921, when he came here from the east. He was born in the Netherlands and came to America as a boy. He is survived by his widow, three sons and a daughter.

Funeral to Be Held Today for Leo A. Ramsperger

Funeral services for Leo A. Ramsperger, 50 years old, who died Sunday in the German Deaconess hospital, will be held this morning from his home at 8159 Justine street to St. Sabina church, 78th and Throop streets. Mr. Ramsperger, who was born in Preston, Ontario, entered partnership in 1910 with Oscar P. Larson in the firm of Ramsperger and Larson, fur makers, 55 East Washington street. He is survived by his widow, the former Florence M. Hanrahan, and a daughter, Marie Therese.

News of the Radio Stations

BY LARRY WOLTERS.

Through the death of King George radio lost an enthusiastic supporter. The late British monarch was a regular listener and he had come to enjoy his own contacts with the microphone. With the possible exception of Pope Pius, he was probably better identified with world-wide reception than any other international figure. He spoke for the last time internationally on Christmas day when he extended greetings during the empire broadcast which had come to be a traditional radio affair. This program was carried by W-G-N-Mutual and other networks in America and was relayed from London to foreign countries other than those of the empire.

The king's radio addresses were popular in America as well as in the empire. His simplicity, sincerity and friendliness were well reflected by the microphone. He had no accent. His English was in fact the king's English. His voice was pleasant.

The king had a wide variety of interest as a listener. Jack Hylton recalled yesterday that he was an ardent devotee of music—particularly of the lighter type. All manner of sports broadcasts and particularly the cup finals of Association football [soccer] intrigued him.

There used to be reports that microphones used by the king were withdrawn from service and retired to a museum thereafter. Hylton said that this was not true—that the king used regular equipment which was brought to Buckingham palace, Sandringham or wherever he chanced to be. The king never made any appearances from British Broadcasting house, the radio headquarters of Britain. The microphone was always brought to him.

Other members of the royal household have made radio appearances, Edward VIII. many of them. The new king, however, has an accent—Oxford, it is said to be. The new monarch is also said to be a radio fan, his tastes running to dance music.

Sir Arthur Fanshawe, 88, British Fleet Admiral, Dead

LONDON, Jan. 21.—(AP)—Admiral of the Fleet Sir Arthur Fanshawe died today at the age of 88. Known as "father of the British fleet," he was a keen advocate of Anglo-United States coöperation.

INLAND STEEL'S BONDS OFFERED IN REFUNDING

Remington-Rand to Refinance Issue.

New York, Jan. 21.—[Special.]—A banking syndicate headed by Kuhn, Loeb & Co. will offer tomorrow a new issue of $35,000,000 Inland Steel company first mortgage 3¾ per cent bonds, series D, due Feb. 1, 1961. The bonds are priced at 101½, to yield approximately 3.66 per cent. The offering is the final steps in the Inland Steel company's refunding plan.

Simultaneously, Remington Rand, Inc., announced a plan to take advantage of low money rates in refunding $17,453,000 of 5½ per cent debentures by issuing 4¼ per cent bonds.

Offering of $50,000,000 Pennsylvania railroad 3¾ per cent bonds, due 1971, was reported unofficially today to be planned for next week. Proceeds would be used to retire the secured 5 per cent bonds of 1964, redeemable currently at 105.

Refund Inland Steel Bonds.

Net proceeds from the Inland Steel bonds, estimated after deducting expenses at $34,460,000, together with the net proceeds from the private sale of $10,000,000 of 3 per cent, series C, bonds, maturing serially from 1937 to 1946, estimated at $9,971,800, will be applied as follows: $14,145,000 to redeem at 102½ on Feb. 1, 1936, the outstanding $13,800,000 of first mortgage 4½ per cent bonds, series B, due Feb. 1, 1981; $26,445,000 to redeem on April 1, 1936, at 102½ the outstanding $25,800,000 of first mortgage 4½ per cent bonds, series A, due April 1, 1978, and the estimated balance of approximately $3,841,000 for general corporate purposes.

The $10,000,000 of 3 per cent, series C, first mortgage bonds were sold privately on Dec. 30, 1935, through Kuhn, Loeb & Co. to insurance companies.

Earnings Rise Sharply.

The Inland Steel company has shown a remarkable improvement in earnings this year, reporting net income, before provision for federal income taxes, for the nine months ended Sept. 30, 1935, of $7,881,762. This compared with net for the full year of 1934 of $4,320,000. Upon completion of the present financing the company's total funded debt outstanding will consist of the $10,000,000 of 3 per cent series C bonds, and $35,000,000 of 3¾ per cent series D bonds.

Underwriting discounts or commissions on the offering of the $35,000,000 bonds, amounted to 2½ per cent, or $875,000. The offering is considered by the bankers as a low record in respect to the cost of the funds for any steel company for a comparable long-term bond issue, the cost to Inland Steel being a little more than 3¾ per cent.

Remington-Rand Offers Exchange.

Directors of Remington-Rand approved a plan for refunding $17,453,000 of 5½ per cent debentures now outstanding by offerin gto holders, for a period of thirty days, opportunity to exchange their bonds, par for par, for a new issue of 4¼ per cent twenty year bonds.

Each $1,000 bond of the proposed new issue will carry warants to subscribe to fifteen shares of common stock at $25 a share for the first two years, thereafter increasing $2.50 a share each year until a maximum price of $40 is reached. The new bonds will be callable at 105 for the first four years. The unexchanged portion of the new issue, if any, will be offered for subscription to common stock holders.

NOTE EXTENSION PUT IN EFFECT BY NICKEL PLATE

Cleveland, O., Jan. 21.—(AP)—The Nickel Plate mailed notices today declaring operative a plan for a three year extension of its six per cent gold notes of Oct. 1, 1935, maturity.

The plan was made operative effective Jan. 15 with $11,847,000 face amount, or 78.98 per cent, of the entire issue deposited. Since then the percentage of outstanding notes committed to the plan has increased to 94.89 per cent, or $14,233,500 of the total issue of $15,000,000, the management announced.

Libbey-Owens-Ford Earns More; Dividend Raised

Toledo, O., Jan. 21.—(AP)—Net earnings of the Libbey-Owens-Ford Glass company for 1935 after taxes and charges were $8,167,419, or $3.26 a share, compared with $3,161,831, or $1.24 a share, in 1934, John D. Biggers, president, announced today. Directors declared a quarterly divided of 50 cents a share, putting the stock on a $2 basis. Last year quarterly dividends of 30 cents a share were paid.

President Will Name Reserve Board in 2 Days

Washington, D. C., Jan. 21.—[Special.]—President Roosevelt plans to send to the senate within two days the nominations of members of the reconstructed federal reserve board who will take office Feb. 1 with the coming into operation of the new federal reserve act.

He announced this intention today at a press conference that followed another call at the White House by Senator Glass, conservative banking expert of the senate, who has talked frequently of late with Roosevelt about the new board.

Suggests Former N. Y. Official.

Senator Glass urged the President to name to the board Joseph A. Broderick, former superintendent of banks for New York state, who served under Roosevelt when he was governor, but the President refused to state whether Broderick would have a place on the board.

Senator Glass had urged, when Roosevelt became President, that Broderick be named controler of the currency.

Despite the President's reticence in speaking for publication, it was believed he had given Senator Glass the list of prospective board members.

"Generally speaking," Glass told newspaper men, "I think the President will appoint a good board," but he then added, "with an exception."

He declined to name either the choices he favored or the "exception," but his remark recalled the fact that the President has announced he will appoint Marriner S. Eccles as chairman of the board.

Eccles Present Head.

Eccles, who now heads the board with the title of governor, frequently has incurred Senator Glass' criticism.

The open market committee of the federal reserve system today held its final meeting and adjourned without taking action. The committee met, as prearranged late last year, for a final session under the present setup of the board.

The committee desired to discuss informally the President's budget message and action on soldiers' bonus with its relationship to federal reserve affairs.

Both the federal reserve board and the treasury department denied that discussions of the committee had to do with future treasury financing. It was said the committee's duties dealt with the government's bond accounts in the federal reserve banks and not with the treasury financing.

HUGE BANK POOL FORMED IN 1931 IS DISSOLVED

New York, Jan. 21.—(AP)—The National Credit corporation, the $500,000,000 bank "pool" organized in 1931 for the purpose of bracing the then shaky bank structure of the nation, today took its formal leave of the financial scene.

The corporation, forerunner of the Reconstruction Finance corporation, was formed at the suggestion of former President Hoover.

Formal winding up of the corporation's affairs was disclosed in an announcement of the state banking department that the corporation has filed a certified copy of a court order declaring its dissolution. The corporation had made more than 1,200 loans in 31 states. The peak of its loans was $188,000,000 reached on Feb. 21, 1932.

WORLD MARKETS HALT TRADE IN FINAL TRIBUTE TO GEORGE V.

Markets in England, Canada and the United States paid final tribute yesterday to the late King George V. of England.

In London the stock exchange and the markets for gold and silver were closed, although banks and the money markets remained open. Dealings in foreign exchanges were suspended after a few hours' business.

Trading on the Chicago Board of Trade stopped at 12:15; the New York Cotton exchange ordered trading stopped at noon; the New Orleans Cotton exchange stopped busines sat 11 o'clock, and the New York Commodity exchange halted trading for 15 minutes at 11 o'clock.

The St. Louis Merchants' exchange closed an hour early, the New York Cocoa exchange finished its business day at 1 o'clock, and the New York Produce exchange suspended trading shortly after that time.

All securities and commodities markets in Montreal were closed all day. In Toronto trading continued as usual, but it was planned to close on the day of the king's funeral.

BALABAN & KATZ PAYS $78,000 TO HEAD OF CONCERN

Washington, D. C., Jan. 21.—[Special.]—Data filed by several companies as confidential which was made public today by the Securities and Exchange commission showed the Balaban & Katz corporation of Chicago, paid $78,000 as renumeration in 1934 to Barney Balaban, its president, and to John Balaban, its secretary and treasurer. Other reports follow:

SPICER MANUFACTURING—C. A. Dana, president and director, $75,120; R. E. Carpenter, vice president and director, $20,080. Dana owned 115,168 common shares, or 38.389 per cent.

NEW AMSTERDAM CASUALTY—J. Arthur Nelson, president, $30,000.

D. E. MILKLEIN COMPANY—D. E. Milklein, president and director, $31,605.

RIKE-KUMLER CORPORATION—Frederick H. Rike, president, $25,000; Charles A. Garties, vice president, secretary and treasurer, $23,000.

LIFE INSURANCE SALES INCREASE 2½ PCT. IN 1935

New York, Jan. 21.—(AP)—New life insurance for 1935 was 2.5 per cent greater than in 1934, said a report made today to the United States department of commerce by the Association of Life Insurance Presidents.

The 1935 new business total was $8,821,844,000, against $8,605,432,000 in 1934.

December volume showed a decline of 6 per cent from the total of December, 1934.

The report includes the new production figures of 42 member companies having 83 per cent of the total life insurance outstanding in all United States legal reserve companies. It excludes revivals, increases and dividend additions.

CLEARING HOUSE HERE RE-ELECTS ALL OFFICERS

Officers of the Chicago Clearing House association were reëlected at the annual meeting yesterday. Howard W. Fenton, president of the Harris Trust and Savings bank, was elected chairman of the clearing house committee.

Solomon A. Smith, president of the Northern Trust company, was named vice chairman of the committee, succeeding Fenton. Edward E. Brown, president of the First National, who was chairman of the committee, was elected a member. Two other members, Walter J. Cummings, chairman of Continental Illinois, and Philip R. Clarke, president of City National, were reëlected.

Officers of the association who were reëlected yesterday are: president, Fred A. Cuscaden, vice president of the Northern Trust company; vice president, William C. Cummings, president of the Drovers National bank, and Howard M. Sims, chief examiner and manager of the clearing house.

12 MILLION PROCESS TAXES RELEASED HERE

Returns Ordered by 3 Federal Courts.

Slightly more than $12,000,000 in cash and bonds covering processing taxes was released yesterday to Chicago packers and other processors by Federal Judges Charles E. Woodward, William H. Holly, and James H. Wilkerson. Judge Philip L. Sullivan took no action on taxes awaiting his disposal. Judge John P. Barnes last week entered orders releasing approximately $7,500,000.

Companies awarded rebates yesterday, either in cash or in bond releases, included:

From Judge Holly: C. A. Burnette & Co., $298,393; Agar Packing and Provision corporation, $307,107; Wilson & Co. of Kansas, $528,959; Stephen Babich & Co., $2,500; Roberts & Oake, $418,324; Armour & Co. of Maine, $283,283, and T. M. Sinclair & Co., a Wilson subsidiary, $1,071,241.

Swift Receives 9 Millions.

From Judge Woodward: Swift & Co., $8,708,399; Armour & Co. of New Jersey, $205,372, and Fred Groya & Co., $241.

From Judge Wilkerson: Wilson & Co. of California, $86,202, and Wilson & Co., $244,853.

There are a number of orders which have not yet been given out by Judge Wilkerson, who early yesterday said he would not issue any until he had received definite information concerning the Supreme court's mandate covering its AAA decision which invalidated the taxes. At that time Attorney Robert Golding, representing Armour & Co., called the attention of Judge Wilkerson to the fact that the Supreme court had issued its mandate.

"Saw Report in Papers."

"I read about that in the newspapers," Judge Wilkerson said, "but I don't get my information that way."

However, late yesterday afternoon two orders signed by Judge Wilkerson releasing processing taxes appeared in the clerk's office.

An interesting feature of the order signed by Judge Holly concerning the Agar company taxes was a release of a lien on the property of the company to insure payment of the taxes.

Thus far there have been released $19,500,000 of processing tax cash and bonds to Chicago processors, indicating that estimates placing the total near to $55,000,000 is excessive. However, some time may elapse before action is taken on some demands for the return of taxes, including that of Washburn-Crosby company, Inc., because of intervention by consumers and others demanding a return of the taxes on the ground that the processors did not pay them.

Judge Sullivan continued the case involving the return of $3,000,000 to Washburn-Crosby until Jan. 24.

Make Rate Boost Permanent, Railroads to Ask I. C. C. Soon

Washington, D. C., Jan. 21.—[Special.]—The American Association of Railroads will apply to the interstate commerce commission within a few days for authority to make permanent present emergency freight surcharges which the commission said in March, 1935, would raise an additional $85,000,000 in carrier revenues. They are due to expire on June 30.

In presenting their case to the commission the railroads are expected to cite substantially increased costs for materials and supplies over those prevailing prior to the last increase in 1933 in basic railroad rates. Added financial burdens occurred by legislation affecting railroad workers also is expected to be cited.

Cost Jump 100 Millions.

It is tentatively estimated by the roads, acting through the association, that essential materials and supplies will cost $100,000,000 more during the coming year than during 1933, based on the assumption that unit prices prevailing during last month continue about the same for the coming year.

In addition the carriers claim that full restoration of basic railway pay has added $160,000,000 annually to their operating costs; that the railroad retirement act, effective March 1, will cost another $58,000,000 a year unless the roads win their pending suit against the law and that the social security act will involve another $16,000,000 outlay during the first year of its operation after April 1.

It is probable, too, that the roads as a whole will show a net deficit for the year 1935 and to argue that, if deprived of the $85,000,000 from emergency surcharges, their revenue plight for 1936, even with reasonable business improvement during the year, might be little better than for 1935.

The present surcharges, imposed on a selected list of commodities, except those moving on a less than carload basis for distances less than 220 miles, were authorized by the interstate commerce commission in a five to four decision that came as a reply to the railroads' request for a 10 per cent gradual increase in freight rates.

Maximum Charge 5 Cents.

The emergency surcharges approved by the commission for carload trafic were to be 7 per cent of the total line-haul rate then in effect but subject to a maximum charge of 5 cents per 100 pounds. For less than carload trafic moving distances more than 220 miles the emergency increases were to range from 1 to 11 cents a hundred pounds.

Even as the railroads were preparing their case for presentation to the commission late this week, organized producers and handlers of anthracite and bituminous coal moving by the lake cargo route asked the commission for an early suspension of the surcharge as it applied to that trafic on the ground that roads participating in the trafic no longer found themselves in an emergency and that its continued collection would drastically curtail production.

U. S. ACQUIRES SILVER SO FAST IT REQUIRES MORE STORAGE SPACE

Treasury officials told a house appropriations subcommittee that more storage room was needed in New York. William H. McReynolds, aid to Secretary Morgenthau, explaining a $37,500 item for rental of vaults, said approximately 637,500,000 ounces are in New York.

"You cannot stack it on the street very well," he said.

OLD FAMILIES STILL CONTROL BIG BANKS HERE

Most Holdings Shift Little Last Year.

BY HERBERT VEDDER.

STANLEY FIELD.

Families which have been identified with the growth and development of Chicago retain their preëminent positions in the stockholder lists of the city's principal banks, although share owners give points of residence in all sections of the United States, and from London to China. Shifts in holdings during the year are of little consequence.

THE TRIBUNE today presents a list of the major stockholders of the six principal loop banks, taken from the records of County Assessor John S. Clark, as of April 1, 1935. Included are all large holdings. Similar tabulations of outlying banks will be printed tomorrow and on succeeding days.

Control Concentrated.

In the Continental Illinois National Bank and Trust company's folio is best illustrated the contradictory facts of far flung ownership—750,000 shares distributed among 7,000 holders—and concentration of control.

The Field interests account for 22,500 shares, a trust of 14,140 shares having been established under the will of Marshall Field. Stanley Field owns 2,441 shares in his own name, in addition to his position as a trustee.

Holdings of from 4,000 to 15,000 shares each are concentrated in the Adams, Armour, Ball, Borland, Buck-

REVIEW YOUR WILL NOW

IF YOUR WILL became effective now, would it truly represent your wishes? Or would it be unfair to some of those for whom you are most anxious to provide?

Changes — swift, varied, far-reaching — have set their mark on the last few years.

When a will made three or more years ago becomes operative, the results may be disappointing. Specific bequests must be paid in full. And those to whom the owner planned to leave the "residue" of his estate may actually receive but a meagre portion of the whole.

With constantly increasing taxes and changes in property and family situations, this old, estate-minded institution urges that you review your will. Its redrafting may have important benefits for your family and friends.

The re-drawing of your will is, of course, a task for your attorney. Our trust officers are ready to advise with you and your attorney at any time, and to place at your service our 46 years' experience as executor-trustee for many hundreds of estates.

In the meantime, you will be interested in our manual, "Practical Suggestions for Making Your Will." It is a compendium of facts you and your attorney will find valuable. You are invited to send for a copy today. There is no charge.

STOCKS REMAIN IN RUT; PRICES SLIGHTLY LOWER

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

New York, Jan. 21.—Lacking anything in the way of a stimulant, the share market was content to jog along today in the same old rut it has been following for the last several sessions. Turnover fell to 1,343,030 shares and price changes were mainly of a fractional nature. The final results were mixed, with minus signs slightly in the balance.

The customary handfull of individual performers paraded at intervals. Cuban American Sugar, after moving up to the best price since 1929, broke sharply on disappointment over failure of the management to announce a plan for payment of dividend arrears. The shares had gained 19 points in a little over a week. The preferred finished its afternoon descent nearly 6 points below yesterday's close and the common wound up a point lower.

Owens-Illinois Glass Rises.

Owens-Illinois Glass not only recovered an early loss of some 2 points but drove ahead to close 1¼ points above its previous mark. A lift in the dividend was announced after the close of trading yesterday. Union Pacific rose $3.50 a share.

Airplane stocks were in a buoyant mood. Douglas crossed 60 for the first time but gave up its newly won ground later, Wright advanced into new high price areas and United Aircraft was active at a slightly better rating.

Silver stocks appeared to have regained their equilibrium for the time being after last week's sinking spell on the white metal price crash. Both United States Smelting and American Smelting finished unchanged.

Rail Group Recovers Loss.

The rails drifted irregularly lower in the early trading but firmed up toward the last. Atchison, Lackawanna, and Delaware and Hudson all managed to finish behind plus signs. Jersey Central dropped 4 points on one sale but recovered one point.

Oils displayed little of their spunk of last week, when gasoline rates were being tilted throughout the east and south. Losses running to a point were recorded in some of the late favorites of the group.

Public speculative interest was at the lowest ebb in some time, the tape barely moving at intervals. Much of the turnover represented evening-up for professional account.

VOLUME OF BANK ACCEPTANCES UP IN DECEMBER

New York, Jan. 21.—(AP)—The volume of bankers' acceptances outstanding in the twelve federal reserve districts of the nation was $396,957,504 on Dec. 31, it was announced today by the American acceptance council. This compares with $387,373,711 Nov. 30 and $543,385,189 Dec. 31, 1934.

Acceptances created for the purpose of financing exports continued to show improvement in December, rising $9,404,967 to $93,501,806. Import acceptances advanced $2,302,474 during the month to the highest level in fifteen months.

ICKES, TUGWELL IDEAS ASSAILED BEFORE GROCERS

Head of Dun-Bradstreet Analyzes Policies.

Activities of Harold L. Ickes, secretary of the interior, and Rexford Guy Tugwell were assailed yesterday by Arthur D. Whiteside, president of Dun & Bradstreet, in a talk before the annual convention of the National-American Wholesale Grocers' association at the Congress hotel. At the same time Dana T. Ackerly, counsel for the association, criticized social security legislation as unsound.

"The fact that Tugwell is less in evidence does not mean that his influence is disappearing," Whiteside said. "His philosophy is that you [the wholesalers] should not make money in handling a vital necessity in the lives of the people. He didn't tell me that, but some of his best friends have told me that until I was blue in the face.

Gives Views on Tugwell.

"Nobody can tell him anything, because he won't listen to a thing. He is egotistical, good looking and clever, and everybody likes him. There is a tie-in between Tugwell and the White House. The President and Mrs. Roosevelt like him and his philosophy permeates Washington."

Concerning Ickes, Whiteside said: "He is a Chicagoan and I think he is a pernnial grouch. You can't do much with some one who won't listen to you."

Secretary of the Treasury Morgenthau came under the speaker's fire when he said: "He [Morgenthau] doesn't answer questions and all his statements are wrong."

Assails Farm Policies.

"The administration and congress are appealing to the farmer and to the consumer," Whiteside continued. "They want the farmer to have the highest prices in history and they want low prices to the consumer. They want you people to carry this out. How can it be done? That's the reason I believe you are going to be the focal point of a lot of legislation and the football of congress."

Ackerly, discussing various New Deal legislative measures, said of social security:

"Millions of us seem to have the delusion that government, through legislation, regulation or some political magic, can provide each of us with an income, can make our business or our vocation profitable, can solve our problems. There is no perfection of government that has ever done or can do these things. They are beyond the sphere of government. There are inexorable natural laws and economic laws that no government and no people can repeal, amend, escape, or long ignore."

ILLINOIS UTILITY ENDS PROTEST ON 3 PCT. SALES TAX

Springfield, Ill., Jan. 21.—(AP)—The Western United Gas and Electric company today withdrew its petition before the Illinois commerce commission for increased rates to cover the 3 per cent utility tax. It was the second large utility company to serve notice it will absorb the tax, the Illinois Power and Light corporation having withdrawn a similar petition a month ago.

About fifteen smaller utilities have abandoned the fight to pass the tax on to their customers.

The commission continued to Feb. 18 the hearing on the citation of the Peoria Water company to show cause why its rates should not be reduced. It took under advisement the Railway Express agency's application to operate motor trucks between Rushville and Beardstown, no opposition having appeared.

NOTICE OF REDEMPTION of SKELLY OIL COMPANY

Twelve-Year Sinking Fund 5½% Gold Debentures, Due March 1, 1939.

NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN, as provided in Article IV of the Indenture dated March 1, 1927, between Skelly Oil Company and Continental and Commercial Trust and Savings Bank (Chicago), as Trustee (Continental Illinois National Bank and Trust Company of Chicago, successor Trustee), that Skelly Oil Company has elected to redeem on March 1, 1936, all of the above-described Debentures then outstanding, at 101% of the principal amount thereof together with accrued interest to said date. On and after said date and upon deposit with the Trustee of moneys sufficient to redeem said Debentures, all interest thereon shall cease to accrue and all coupons appertaining thereto maturing after said date will become and be null and void. On and after March 1 1936, all holders of said Debentures are required to present said Debentures, together with all coupons thereto appertaining maturing on and after said redemption date, at the office of Continental Illinois National Bank and Trust Company of Chicago, No. 231 South La Salle Street, in the City of Chicago, Illinois, or, at the option of the holder or registered owner, at the office of The Chase National Bank of the City of New York, Corporate Trust Department, No. 11 Broad Street, Borough of Manhattan, City and State of New York, for redemption at the aforesaid redemption price. Debentures registered as to principal must be duly assigned in blank or accompanied by proper instruments of assignment and transfer.

CONTINENTAL ILLINOIS NATIONAL BANK AND TRUST COMPANY OF CHICAGO, as Successor Trustee.
By H. P. SMITH,
Assistant Secretary.
Dated, Chicago, Illinois, January 15, 1936.

OLD FAMILIES STILL CONTROL BIG BANKS HERE

Major Holdings Change Little Last Year.

Ingham, Cartlidge, Cowles, Genius, Harris, McCormick, McElwee, Mitchell, Shedd-Schweppe, Spaulding, Sheriff, and Wentworth families. The Ball family of Muncie, Ind., also has large interests in other loop banks.

Head of Bank Has 75 Shares.

Alfred Cowles, Robert F. Carr, Edward A. Cudahy Jr., William F. Hayes, D. R. McLennan, Judson F. Stone, Herman Waldeck, and the late Louis Eckstein were, however, the only directors to have as many as 500 shares last April 1. Chairman Walter J. Cummings owned only 75 shares, 25 more than a year previously. The holdings of President James R. Leavell remained at 320 shares.

Also with big stakes in the Continental are various corporations, while innumerable church, educational, and charitable institutions own from a single share up to the 5,700 of Northwestern university. The Art institute has 1,800. California Institue of Technology is represented. Crerar library holds 3,000 shares.

George A. Kennedy, with 18,540 shares, was listed as the largest stockholder, but he is a nominee for a number of shareholders.

Securities Firms Hold Blocks.

Chicago corporation has 6,200 shares, while other large interests include the Barrington company, De Soto Securities company, Empire Securities company, Illinois Life Insurance company, Patrick J. Lucey, receiver for National Life Insurance company, Stilwell & Co., and the Fir Tree company. The latter, a newcomer in the higher brackets, owns substantial blocks in most of the loop banks.

Occasional new names appear in the list of major shareholders, but theirs is a comparatively minor part in the picture. A number of the officers and directors of various banks have increased holdings over the previous year's tabulation of the assessor, but the changes are not startling.

The First National has 3,000 stockholders, but again the major interests continue—the Allertons, Balls, Forgans, Morrises, Swifts, Geniuses, Norrises, McCormicks, the Olivers of South Bend, Ind.; Frederick H. Rawson, and the Rothschilds. The Travelers' Insurance company and Arras Securities corporation are among the larger corporate interests.

Families Hold Control.

The Harris Trust and Savings bank and the Northern Trust company can tell their stories in two words—"Harris" and "Smith." Strictly family banks, the Harris has more than half of its 60,000 shares consolidated in three holdings—the estate of Norman W. Harris, Chairman Albert W. Harris, and Director Stanley G. Harris. The Smiths control more than two-fifths of the Northern's 30,000 expensive shares.

The City National Bank and Trust company is owned and controled by corporations—Central Illinois Securities corporation, Central Republic company, Dawes Brothers, Inc., General Electric company.

The American National Bank and Trust company has more than half of its stock concentrated in the American Holding corporation. Directors own little stock with the exception of the Strauses, who are the only substantial individual shareholders.

Major Stockholders in Chicago's Loop Banks

Following is a list of principal stockholders of Chicago's six big loop banks. It contains all large holdings, as shown by the county assessor's records for April 1, 1935, and smaller holdings of prominent persons. The complete list, containing thousands of minor shareholders, contains more than 12,000 names. Also shown below is the capital stock of the six banks, excluding preferred stock sold to the Reconstruction Finance corporation by the Continental, First National, and American National banks.

*New 1935-'36 high.

New York, Jan. 21.—[Special.]—Low priced industrial issues and liens of several Cuban sugar companies furnished about the only liveliness in the bond market today. Both groups were strong, whereas the balance of the list was dull and irregular.

Firmer sugar prices and announcement that the Cuban government had approved a decree merging the Sugar Exporting corporation and the Sugar Institute to promote stabilization created fresh interest. East Cuban Sugar 7½s advanced 2⅜, San Francisco Sugar 7½s improved 2, and Vertientes 7s got up an equal amount.

Several Rail Issues Rise.

A half dozen or more issues of Milwaukee Railway bonds advanced ⅜ point to 2⅜ points on news that a federal court judge had ordered the trustees to pay two-thirds interest due on some of the company's obligations. Higher prices also were paid for Nickel Plate 5½s, Erie refunding 5s, and Southern Pacific 4½s.

Remington-Rand 5½s gained 1¾ points following announcement that directors had approved a plan for refunding the issue by exchanging them for new 4¼s which would carry stock purchasing privileges. Warner Bros. 6s and International Telephone 4½s were among other loans moving up in response to favorable earnings prospects.

Several Other Bright Spots.

Other bright spots included Pan American Petroleum 6s, up 3¾ at a new 1935-'36 high of 56½; Richfield Oil 6s, up 2, and American Rolling Mill 4½s, up 1¼.

The trend of government bonds was downward and dealings were more active. Several treasury issues dipped 5-32, while guaranteed obligations lost nearly as much. Sales of $1,600,000 were twice as large as on Monday.

Continued gains in Uruguay 6s and Colombian 6s gave the foreign division a steady appearance.

INVESTORS' GUIDE

If you wish information about investments or insurance write to The Tribune Investors' Guide. Inclose stamped, self-addressed envelope for reply. Answers of public interest are published, but inquirers' names are never revealed. Please do not ask for information on more than one company in each letter. Stephenville N. & S. Tex. Ry.

Investors' Guide: I own a bond of the Stephenville North and South Texas railway, 5 per cent, due 1940, guaranteed by St. Louis Southwestern. What can you tell me about it?—H. C. W.

Answer: Separate earnings statements of Stephenville North and South Texas Railway company are not available. The road's lines are leased to a St. Louis Southwestern Railway company subsidiary. St. Louis Southwestern guarantees the bonds both as to interest and principal.

The Stephenville N. & S. road constitutes the western end of the St. Louis Southwestern [Cotton Belt] system, serving an agricultural area in central Texas. It has abandoned more than two-thirds of its mileage. This is ample evidence that operations in the past have been unsuccessful and that there is not much hope for improvement in the future.

This makes the Stephenville bonds primarily dependent on the guarantee of the Cotton Belt. The latter was unable to meet its Jan. 1, 1936, interest and filed a petition to reorganize under section 77 of the amended bankruptcy act. The bonds are in default. They are a speculation. It appears likely that they will be scaled down in any reorganization, especially in view of the fact that the Cotton Belt has failed to show a profit since 1929.

New York and Harlem R. R.

Investors' Guide: I would gratefully appreciate your opinion of New York and Harlem Railroad common stock.—S. M. A.

Answer: New York and Harlem Railroad company was leased to the New York Central and Hudson River Railroad company for 401 years from April, 1873. The rental for the property is interest on the bonds and $5 a share on the stock. This lease was assumed by the New York Central railroad in December, 1914.

Both the common stock and the preferred stock partake of the nature of a bond. Under the lease they represent obligations of the New York Central. They are sound. The lease by the New York Central is quite valuable in view of the fact that it affords trunk line passenger terminal and freight connections in New York City and, in addition, represents control of a company owning valuable properties, disregarding railroad operations.

GRAINS STEADY; DEATH OF KING LIMITS TRADING

Sessions Are Shortened as Mark of Respect.

Operations in the world's leading grain and commodity markets came to an abrupt halt yesterday as a mark of respect to the late king of England. The Liverpool and Winnipeg markets did not open and leading American commodity exchanges abbreviated their sessions.

Grain prices on the Chicago Board of Trade fluctuated in a desultory manner within extremely narrow limits. Wheat had a range of ⅛ to ⅜ cent and closed at the same figures as on Monday, while corn and other grains showed small fractional changes.

At no time during the day was there the semblance of activity on the local exchange. The volume of business was one of the smallest known under normal conditions.

Demand for Flour Limited.

Despite the Supreme court ruling late Monday directing the immediate return to processors of the AAA taxes impounded in recent months there was no evidence of improvement in the demand for flour. It is understood bakers and others have limited their purchases to a hand to mouth scale, with the result that some mills have been forced to add to their stocks of flour on hand rather than shut down.

During the last three months of last year sales of flour are estimated to have been somewhat less than 51 per cent of mill capacity. Fear that congress will impose retroactive taxes on wheat and the insistence of mills that buyers assume the levy is now said to be the main factor in checking the demand.

World Factors Are Ignored.

World's supply and demand influences for the time being are being ignored by the wheat trade. Speculative interest has fallen to an extreme low ebb, a fact which has had the effect of curtailing operations on the short side due to the trade axiom of "never sell a dull market."

	Yesterday.	Monday.	Wk. ago.
Wheat	$1.00	$1.00	$ .99⅞
Corn	.59⅞	.60⅛	.60
Oats	.28⅛	.28⅛	.27⅞
Rye	.54⅞	.54¾	.53⅞

Corn was slightly easier as the result of scattered commission house selling induced by a small increase in country offerings of cash grain to arrive and an easier undertone in the sample market. Small buying or selling orders readily affected the oats and rye markets.

PRICES OF COTTON FUTURES MOVE 1 TO 7 POINTS HIGHER

While trading in cotton futures was limited yesterday there was no material pressure on the markets. Liverpool cables were somewhat better than expected, being the only English market open. Developments at Washington are regarded as being the dominating influence both here and abroad. Closing trades in Chicago were 1 to 7 points higher and other markets gained 4 to 7 points.

Spot cotton closed unchanged to 5 points higher with New Orleans at 10.80 cents, Houston and Galveston 11.65 cents, and New York 11.90 cents per pound. Prices in cents per pound:

EASTMAN URGES U. S. FORCE RAIL CONSOLIDATIONS

Groundwork for Action Is Laid, Congress Told.

Washington, D. C., Jan. 21.—(AP)—Transportation Coördinator Joseph B. Eastman said today he has laid the foundation for the application of government "pressure" to compel railroad coördination.

Discussing a policy of promoting coöperation, coördination, and gradual unification, Eastman said in his annual report to congress that difficulties in the way of collective action are so great "that outside pressure from governmental authority is a very necessary ingredient."

"The groundwork has been laid by the coördinator and his staf for the application of such pressure from now on in steadily increasing degree," he continued.

Views Conflict with I. C. C.

The report revealed conflict between the views of Eastman and the interstate commerce commission on the coördinator's proposal to reorganize the I. C. C.

Eastman also called for establishment of his office on a permanent basis, extension of I. C. C. authority over water carriers, and the provision of the dismissal compensation for employés displaced by coördination.

Such a program, he said, would necessitate reorganization. He suggested membership be increased from 11 to 16, with one member as a coördinator and five as a central "control board."

In a letter accompanying the report, the I. C. C. said that such a reorganization "would not be in the interest of efficiency or economy and should not be made."

Issue Sidestep.

Sidestepping direct expression on the proposal to make the office permanent, the commission added that with Eastman's past reports before it "congress is well advised as to whether or not the office should be made permanent."

Created in 1933 the office has been continued through one year extensions. Under the present law, the office will terminate in June. A showdown on the future of the program at this session appears certain.

Taking cognizance of hostility to his plans by rail managements, Eastman branded as "not impressive" the record of the Association of American railroads in promoting unification.

REPORT SHAFFER TAX REBATE DUE TO BIG OIL DEAL

The basis for a rebate of $1,025,582 in federal taxes to Charles B. Shaffer, 179 Lake Shore drive, was attributed in La Salle street yesterday to connection with a deal, completed some years ago, wherein Shaffer sold the Shaffer Oil & Refining company to the Deep Rock Oil corporation, which is controled by the Standard Gas & Electric company.

It was said that Shaffer, who came originally from Pittsburgh and made a fortune in the oil fields of the southwest, is about 64 years of age. Since the sale of his property he has been chiefly interested in the management of his investments. At present he is in Florida and no one at his office could state the reason for the tax return.

Officers and Directors of Celotex Co. Re-Elected

All officers and directors of the Celotex corporation were reëlected yesterday at the annual meeting of the corporation. Stockholders voiced their approval of the corporation's plans for 1936. President Bror G. Dahlberg forecast considerable increases in business over 1935, based on the strong upturn in building activity and the large potential demand for homes, plus the expanding use of the corporation's products in the automobile, refrigeration, and other major industries.

Banks Make Few Changes at Their Annual Meetings

Few changes took place yesterday at annual meetings of stockholders and directors of a number of banks in Chicago and suburbs. At the Drexel State bank, Arthur H. Tiedemann, former manager of the savings department, was elected assistant cashier and all other officers were reëlected. Officers and directors of the Mercantile Trust and Savings bank, Beverly State Savings bank, Glenview State bank, and Evanston Trust and Savings bank were reëlected.

American International Shows Gain in Net Assets

New York, Jan. 21.—(AP)—The American International corporation, an investment company, today reported net assets of $25,961,313 as of Dec. 31, 1935, compared with $19,437,122 as of Dec. 31, 1934. This was equal to $12.04 a common share as of Dec. 31, 1935, against $5.57 a share for the preceding year. The coverage of the debentures increased during 1935 from $1,466.34 for each $1,000 of debentures, to $1,878.39.

4,470 HOLC Foreclosures; 21.4% of Payments Overdue

Washington, D. C., Jan. 21.—(AP)—Foreclosures by the Home Owners Loan corporation today were shown to be nearing the 5,000 mark. As of Dec. 31, 1935, the corporation said, 21.4 per cent of payments were 90 days or more overdue and foreclosure proceedings numbered 4,470.

Spahr Assails Brain Trust as Group of Revolutionists

President Roosevelt's administration was denounced last night by Dr. Walter E. Spahr, professor of economics, New York university, in a talk before the Illinois Manufacturers' Costs association at the Hotel La Salle.

Dr. Spahr, who is secretary-treasurer of the economists' national committee on monetary policy, said that advisers of the Roosevelt government are Socialists and revolutionists with little or no successful experience in business or government.

He said the New Dealers misunderstood the causes of the depression and have instituted measures which cannot cure present economic ills.

Places Blame On War.

He attributed the depression to the war and its aftermath of uncertainties and nationalistic efforts among the nations to escape ill effects of the war.

Dr. Spahr attacked the action of the New Dealers in devaluing the dollar as a means of raising prices, declaring that this was not needed. He said there was no scarcity of gold in 1929, nor was there any scarcity of reserves in the federal reserve system. He attributed the rise in prices in 1933 to talk of currency inflation and to the rush of producers to stock up before prices rose.

"There was and is no measurable or predictable connection between the devaluation of the dollar and the subsequent behavior of our prices," he declared. "The assumption that the paper money price of gold would determine the price level was not only absolutely false but revealed an appalling confusion of thought."

Assails Quack Nostrums.

Monetary tinkering and other measures of the administration were designated by Dr. Spahr as quack nostrums taken from inflationists, devaluationists, silverites and other monetary quacks.

"It has been a tragic piece of business," he continued. "No one can yet estimate even approximately what this orgy of currency tinkering may cost the American people before the mess is cleared up. These measures have grown out of an appalling mixture of ignorance and demagoguery."

Violate Principles.

Dr. Spahr charged the present administration with violating every major principle on which it was voted into office.

"The advisers and policy makers of this government have, for the most part, been composed of Socialists and revolutionists with little or no successful experience in business affairs or government. Many of the experienced and highly esteemed advisers or administrators, in whom the people had confidence, have left Washington. Practically every Socialist and revolutionist associated with the administration has been retained."

FIRMS MUST INFORM STOCKHOLDERS HOW PROXIES WILL BE USED

Washington, D. C., Jan. 21.—[Special.] — Comprehensive disclosures must be made to stockholders by corporations soliciting proxies under the rules and regulations of the Securities and Exchange commission, according to an opinion by John J. Burns, general counsel of the commission, made public today.

With annual meetings of stockholders approaching many corporations have applied to the commission for an interpretation of its regulations, a number of them asking if a mere statement that the stockholders would be requested to ratify the minutes of the directors and acts of officers would meet the requirements.

Burns held definitly to the contrary, stating that the "brief description" required by the rules must include a concise description of each of the various matters to be considered at the meeting and also a brief but specific description of any acts of directors or officers which the stockholders were to be asked to ratify.

The rules of the commission were written with the purpose of giving stockholders whose proxies are solicited by the management of a company definite information of the purpose for which their votes were to be used if turned over to the management. The opinion by Burns made it clear that there must be no effort to avoid the attainment of this objective.

BLISS & LAUGHLIN PROFIT HIGHER FOR LAST YEAR

Bliss & Laughlin, Inc., steel manufacturing concern, yesterday reported net profit of $385,514 for the year ended Dec. 31, 1935. This is equivalent to $2.54 a share and compares with $2.03 a share in 1934, both based upon 151,680 shares outstanding.

During the year the company's capital stock was split three for one and the stock was listed on the Chicago Curb exchange. Application has also been made for listing on the Chicago Stock exchange. Dividends amounting to $3.75 a share were paid on the 50,560 shares of old stock during the year.

Westinghouse Buys Two Fort Wayne Radio Stations

New York, Jan. 21.—[Special.]—The Westinghouse Electric and Manufacturing company announced today the tentative purchase of radio broadcasting stations WOWO and WGL at Fort Wayne, Ind., subject to approval of the FCC and to working out of details.

ASSAILS PLAN TO REORGANIZE SURFACE LINES

Alleging that bondholders' interests are not being properly safeguarded, Emil G. Kralovec yesterday filed a petition in the United States District court asking permission to intervene in the case of the Chicago City Railway company, for which a plan of reorganization was recently presented. Kralovec, represented by Attorney James P. Byrnes, says he is the owner of $66,000 of Chicago City and Connecting Railways collateral trust sinking fund 5 per cent gold bonds.

Kralovec's petition stated that bondholders have received no interest on their obligations since 1927, although earnings would have permitted payment. It said the petitioner has informed the committee, now composed of Bernard E. Sunny, Rufus C. Dawes, W. Findlay Downes, and Charles F. Glore that he dissents from the Abbott reorganization plan and has demanded the return of his bonds which he deposited.

Federal Judge James H. Wilkerson set March 2 for a hearing on the petition, and he gave Attorney Bruce Johnstone, representing the bondholders' committee, ten days in which to file an answer or a demurrer.

NORTHWESTERN MUTUAL REPORTS GAIN IN VOLUME

Northwestern Mutual Life Insurance company yesterday reported new paid for business in 1935 amounted to $274,236,857, including annuities of $18,784,438, an increase of 14.78 per cent over 1934 and 43.04 per cent higher than in 1933.

In December the volume of new business reached $27,833,158, including annuities of $1,298,998, which was 10.51 per cent above December, 1934, and 63.46 per cent higher than two years ago.

Paid for business last month was the highest since May, 1931, while issued business of $35,032,585 was the largest since October, 1932.

Grain Men Halt Trading to Fete Oldest Member

William Dunn, the oldest member of the Chicago Board of Trade, celebrated his 89th birthday yesterday. Trading in the grain pits was suspended for a few minutes around 11 o'clock while John A. Bunnell presented Mr. Dunn with a bouquet of 89 roses.

Sears Roebuck Will Spend $9,000,000 in Newspapers

Los Angeles, Jan. 21.—(AP)—Nine million dollars will be spent on newspaper advertising by Sears and Roebuck chain department stores during 1936, D. M. Nelson, vice president of the company, said today.

SURVEY FINDS JOBS, WAGES GAIN SINCE NRA DEATH

Average Working Week Is Nearly 2 Hours Longer.

Since the end of the National Industrial Recovery act last May there has been no widespread tendency to cut wages, increase hours of work, or to lay off employés, the national industrial conference board found in a survey of about 2,000 manufacturing plants in 25 industries, results of which were announced yesterday.

The analysis, involving more than a million workers, shows that hourly earnings and employment in October, 1935, were above those of April, the last month of the NRA, and that the average working week was nearly two hours longer.

Result of Better Business.

Much of the increase in hours reflects better business conditions, although in many industries the work week was still below the maximum set by the codes, the report said.

In 17 of the 25 industries studied, average hourly earnings were higher in October than in April, in seven industries they were less and in one industry unchanged. Among the seven in which hourly earnings declined there was only one in which the drop amounted to more than 1 per cent.

Eighteen of the 25 industries reported increased average hours of work per week from April to October, five reported fewer hours and there was no change in two.

Employment Higher.

A gain of 1.8 per cent was shown in the number of workers employed by these 25 industries in October over April. Employment was higher in 16 of the industries, with the increases ranging from 1.2 to 16.6 per cent. In seven of the industries the increase was more than 5 per cent and in three it was more than 10 per cent.

Of the nine industries in which there was a decline in employment from April to October, in two of them the drop was contrary to the usual seasonal trend, in five others the decline was more than seasonal and in the other two the recession was less than seasonal.

IDLE INSURANCE SEEN AS THREAT TO SECURITIES

Taxation imposed under the social security act may have an adverse effect on the securities business by greatly reducing the net profits of many corporations and making their securities less attractive to the public. Roy G. Harris, president of the Tax Service Association of Illinois, told the annual meeting of the La Salle Street Cashiers last night in the Congress hotel.

Joseph A. Rushton, chairman of the Chicago Association of Stock Exchange Firms, said that intelligent regulation of the securities business for the protection of the public is necessary and desirable.

Frank J. Rinne of Morton D. Cahn & Co. was elected president of the Cashiers. Claude R. Williams of Paul H. Davis & Co. was named vice president, Robert W. Duff of Mathews, Dahlin & Co. is the new treasurer, and Charles F. Duvall of the Chicago Stock exchange was reëlected secretary. Frank Morris of Hulburd, Warren & Chandler and Frank M. McTigue of Kneeland & Co. were elected to the executive committee.

Cherry-Burrell Raises Dividends to $2 Annually

Cherry-Burrell corporation yesterday placed common stock on a regular basis of $2 annually by declaring a quarterly payment of 50 cents a share. In the preceding quarter the company paid 37½ cents quarterly and 12½ cents extra. Chicago Electric Manufacturing company declared a dividend of $1 on account of accumulations in the class A preferred, for the period from Oct. 1, 1929, to March 31, 1930, leaving arrearages of $10 a share.

FRANC SLIDES; AGAIN NEAR GOLD EXPORT FIGURE

King's Death Restricts Trade in Exchange.

New York, Jan. 21.—[Special.]—With London markets closed because of the death of King George and only banks open, foreign exchange markets today marked time. There were no dealings in gold or silver and the business of the foreign exchanges was suspended at the request of the bankers' clearing house committee.

Despite the renewed flight of francs from Paris yesterday, forcing large purchasing by English control banks, the franc remained fairly steady today. In Paris, however, it slipped below the 75 to the pound mark, being quoted at the "official" close at 75.03½ to the pound.

Franc Near Gold Export.

In New York the franc opened and closed at 6.59¼, off ¼ point. As the franc approached within ¼ point of the gold export level, the value of the American dollar against francs rose from $1.0054 yesterday to $1.0058 today.

Other currencies were irregular, guilders rising 2 points but Swiss francs declining 1 point. The German mark also lost 1 point but the belga gained the same amount. The pound sterling was unchanged at $4.95 and the Canadian dollar remained at parity against the American dollar.

Expect Cut in Franc Loan.

Foreign exchange dealers here believe devaluation of the franc will come within a few months, perhaps sooner. The French elections, the date for which will be set by decree shortly, are expected in March or April at the latest. Unless war breaks out it is believed the radical elements will show greater strength at the polls than at the last elections. The radical trend is linked to increasing pressure for devaluation.

Only a sharp rise in prices throughout the world would now save the franc, foreign exchange dealers believe.

COURT PERMITS MILWAUKEE ROAD TO PAY INTEREST

Federal Judge James H. Wilkerson yesterday entered orders authorizing trustees of the Chicago, Milwaukee, St. Paul and Pacific railway to pay holders of the general mortgage bonds $1,984,085 in interest, representing two-thirds of the semi-annual interest due July 1, 1935, on coupon bonds, and quarterly interest, due July 1, 1935 and Oct. 1, 1935, on registered bonds.

The judge also authorized payment of 20 per cent of the principal amount of equipment trust certificates, Series A, C, D, E, F, G, H, J, and K which matured in 1935. The payment would total $682,000.

In another order the judge authorized payment of interest due Jan. 1, 1936, and interest that will be due semi-annually hereafter on the Milwaukee road's $2,291,000 PWA loan. A fourth order authorized trustees to accept interest at the rate of 3 per cent in lieu of 6 per cent for a period of 6 months to Jan. 1, 1936, on $90,000 of bonds of the Priest Rapids Irrigation district.

PRESIDENT SEEKS ACTION ON GRAIN CONTROL BILL

Washington, D. C., Jan. 21.—(AP)—President Roosevelt indicated today he favored congress proceeding with efforts to agree upon legislation to regulate the nation's commodity exchanges.

In response to a question at his press conference the President said he had no intention of seeking reconsideration by the senate agricultural committee of the Jones grain exchange measure passed by the house last session.

Prompting the question was a statement made on the senate floor last week by Chairman Smith [Dem., S. C.] of the senate committee that highest administration sources desired the bill, revised and approved by the committee last session, be recommitted for changes.

Smith later told newspapermen that officials of the commodity exchanges wanted reconsideration of the bill. He has not yet formally moved recommittal.

BUTTER FUTURES DECLINE; EGGS ARE ⅝ CENT LOWER

Profit taking developed in butter futures yesterday and disclosed a lack of aggressive support, the close being ⅜ to ⅝ cent lower on the Chicago Mercantile exchange with the January delivery at 31⅜ cents per pound. Trading started in November contracts at 26½ cents, compared with 30 cents last year.

Scattered liquidation carried January eggs off ⅝ cent with the close at 16⅝ cents per dozen. October gained ⅛ cent. Sales of butter were 99 cars and eggs 30 cars. Prices:

North Western Contracts for 16,000 Tons of Rails

The North Western railway last night announced that it has placed an order for 16,000 tons of 112 pound rail with the Inland Steel company. This is the first purchase on the North Western's 1936 rail program. About $600,000 is involved in the rail order and orders for rail fastenings, which will be placed shortly, will involve another $200,000.

WAY CLEARED TO START RFC BANK LOAN SUIT

Central Republic Trial to Open Tomorrow.

Federal Judge James H. Wilkerson yesterday disposed of all remaining preliminary motions in the $14,000,000 suit of the Reconstruction Finance corporation against 5,000 stockholders of the Central Republic Bank and Trust company. The stockholders are being sued under the stockholders' liability act to make up an expected deficiency in the repayment and liquidation of $90,000,000 loans to the Dawes institution.

The trial will begin tomorrow morning when opening statements will be made before the court by O. J. Rogge, chief counsel for the RFC, and by a representative group of attorneys for the stockholders.

Trial to Consume 8 Weeks.

The trial is expected to last between six and eight weeks. Judge Wilkerson announced he will hold court, as far as this suit is concerned, four days a week: Tuesday, Wednesday, Thursday, and Friday, and that the court hours will be from 10:30 o'clock in the morning to 12:30 o'clock in the afternoon, and from 2 o'clock in the afternoon to 4:15 o'clock.

The final motions, overruled by the court, included requests for a jury trial and motions to quash a number of services on out of town defendants.

Judge Wilkerson indicated he intended to see trial of the case proceed at once.

Attorney Assails Service.

In answer to contentions of Attorney Benton Atwood that there were "innumerable false returns" in serving the defendants, the court said that he felt compelled to rely on the "return of a sworn officer." He turned a deaf ear on argument that it also is in the interest of the plaintif and the court not to have void judgments and advised counsel to take care of his clients' interests.

"I do not propose to determine motions for dismissal on arguments between counsel," he remarked at one time. "If answers of defendants living in other federal court districts have been filed here as well as elsewhere," Judge Wilkerson said, "it was too bad."

He held with Rogge in the position that the case should be tried now on its merits and that individual exceptions be handled later, if necessary.

INCOME OF ERIE FOR DECEMBER BEST SINCE 1929

New York, Jan. 21.—[Special.]—The Erie railroad had a net operating income of $1,102,687 last month, the highest for that month since 1929 and almost $200,000 above the average for the last ten years, the company's report showed today.

The large operating income, which compared with $790,096 in December, 1934, resulted from an increase in gross revenues to $6,206,445 for the month. Gross for the like 1934 period was $5,589,386.

For the full year 1935, based on the individual monthly reports and excluding special year-end adjustments, the road fared just slightly better than in 1934. Gross for the year was $75,126,702, against $75,064,122 in 1934, and net operating income rose to $12,960,726 from $12,699,832.

The New York, Chicago and St. Louis Railroad Company

To the Holders of the Three-Year 6% Gold Notes of The New York, Chicago and St. Louis Railroad Company and the Holders of Deposit Receipts therefor, under the Plan and Deposit Agreement dated September 3, 1935:

There having been deposited under the Plan and Deposit Agreement of September 3, 1935, 78.98% of the above Notes, and this being sufficient in the judgment of the Company to warrant and justify it in declaring the Plan operative, the Company, on January 15, 1936 duly declared the Plan operative.

Holders of 11.17% additional of said Notes have assured the Company that they will exchange their holdings for new Notes as provided in the Plan. Including the last mentioned Notes, 90.15% of the entire issue is committed to the Plan.

No further Deposit Receipts will be issued.

Upon surrender of Deposit Receipts to Guaranty Trust Company of New York, Depositary, 140 Broadway, New York, N. Y., accompanied by a Letter of Transmittal and endorsed in blank with the signature witnessed and guaranteed by a bank (other than a savings bank) or trust company having an office or correspondent in the City of New York, or by a firm of brokers having membership in the New York Stock Exchange or Clearing House of the New York Curb Exchange, each holder will receive in respect to the Notes represented thereby, an equal principal amount of the new Three-Year 6% Notes dated October 1, 1935 and due October 1, 1938.

Upon surrender of undeposited Notes (with interest coupons due October 1, 1935 attached, if coupon Notes) to Guaranty Trust Company of New York, Depositary, 140 Broadway, New York, N. Y., accompanied by a Letter of Transmittal, together with a Federal Income Tax Ownership Certificate properly executed, each holder will receive in respect to his Notes, the following:

(a) An equal principal amount of the new Three-Year 6% Notes, dated October 1, 1935 and due October 1, 1938.

(b) Payment in cash of the interest due October 1, 1935.

Holders of Deposit Receipts or of undeposited Notes are requested immediately to forward such Deposit Receipts or Notes to Guaranty Trust Company of New York, Depositary, 140 Broadway, New York, N. Y.

The method of delivery to the Depositary of Receipts or undeposited Notes is optional but registered mail is suggested.

Forms of Letter of Transmittal to be used in surrendering Deposit Receipts or undeposited Notes may be obtained from the Depositary.

HOGS DECLINE AS RECEIPTS GAIN SLIGHTLY

Average and Top Price Fall 10 Cents.

Hog prices moved lower yesterday as receipts swelled slightly. The increased run was not great but buyers believed the movement may gain as snowstorms subside.

Most hogs weighing 180 to 350 pounds declined 10 cents, both the extreme top and the average indicating a loss of that amount at $10.10 and $9.90, respectively. Underweights and packing sows were exceptionally scarce which resulted in a steady tone in this division.

Receipts Gain Slightly.

Receipts of hogs at Chicago totaled 23,000 head, compared with 14,238 Monday.

Volume of fresh pork coming into the wholesale market has dropped sharply as a result of the decrease in hog receipts the last few days. Prices of fresh pork loins at leading distributing points were steady to 50 cents higher yesterday. Current quotations are $1 to $2 over final quotations last week.

Only 6,000 cattle arrived on the market, compared with 9,104 the previous Tuesday, resulting in a lively trade at steady to strong prices. Some classes recovered a good part of Monday's losses.

Beef Tonnage Light.

The tonnage of steers was lighter than the small receipts indicated because of the shortage of longfed stock in the run. Some instances of 15 to 25 cent advances were reported.

Only occasional lots of cattle sold above the $11 line yesterday. One load of yearling steers averaging 1,041 pounds reached the $14 top.

Offerings of sheep and lambs totaled 14,000, the largest Tuesday run since the middle of September. Prices broke 15 to 25 cents, packers buying the bulk of the best grades of 80 to 97 pound averages at $10 to $10.25. Some 92 pound fed westerns to city butchers reached $10.40.

LARD FUTURES UNCHANGED TO LOWER IN LIGHT TRADE

Trade in lard futures was limited yesterday and confined almost exclusively to the May delivery. Easiness in hogs had some effect, but at the 11 cent level moderate support developed, and the close was unchanged to 2½ cents lower. Clear bellies [salt pork] closed nominally 2½ cents lower.

Cash lard was quoted at $10.90 at the last with loose $10.37, leaf $10.25, and clear bellies at $14.75 per 100 pounds. Prices in dollars per 100 pounds:

CIGARET OUTPUT LAST YEAR SETS NEW HIGH MARK

Cigaret production in the United States last year established a new all time high mark while output for December was the largest for that month on record, the bureau of internal revenue disclosed today.

Production last year amounted to 134,607,741,257 small cigarets, against 125,611,688,759 in 1934, an increase of nearly 9,000,000,000. December output was 9,840,823,290, compared with 9,209,839,473 in the same month a year earlier.

Production of cigars last year amounted to 4,763,883,947, the highest since 1931, compared with 4,597,196,548 in 1933.

BURNHAM'S

Will Enable You to EARN MORE

The easy-to-learn Burnham System quickly enables you to become a skilled beauty operator. Plenty of living models. You learn by doing rather than by studying. Each teacher a specialist. Fewer pupils per teacher.

SEE FOR YOURSELF WHY MORE GIRLS ENROLL IN BURNHAM'S THAN IN ANY OTHER BEAUTY SCHOOL.

BURNHAM'S AWARDS TRIP TO PARIS to STUDENT. Geneve Huffman, winner of semi-annual Burnham scholarship for efficiency while in training, sailed June 19 on S. S. Manhattan with all expenses paid. Burnham's offers opportunities not found elsewhere.

DAY OR EVENING CLASSES.

Pay for MOST of your tuition after graduation. It is to your advantage to register now, even if you cannot start until later. Open every day and on Monday, Wednesday, Friday evenings until 9 p. m.

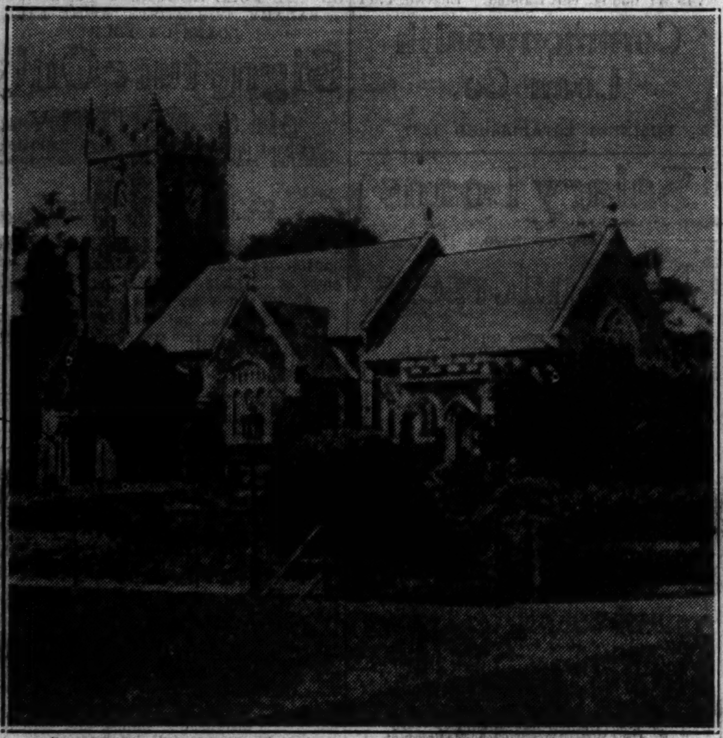
PALACE TO WHICH KING EDWARD VIII. FLEW TO ASSUME DUTIES AS BRITISH MONARCH.—View of historic St. James's palace in London, to which King Edward VIII., the former prince of Wales, flew yesterday to meet with privy council and assume his duties as ruler. The official proclamation naming the new monarch was issued during the day. The king broke precedent by flying to London from Sandringham.



RULER'S BODY TAKEN TO CHURCH—The Church of St. Mary Magdalene in the village of Sandringham, where body of King George V. was taken yesterday so residents of vicinity could pay homage. The home where the monarch died is near by.

WHERE BODY OF LATE KING GEORGE V. WILL LIE TOMORROW—The famous Westminster hall in London as it appeared last spring during ceremony attending the king's jubilee. The body of the late monarch will lie in state here, beginning tomorrow, after it is brought to London from Sandringham, where he died Monday night at age of 70 years after short illness. The funeral will be held Tuesday at Windsor.

WHERE KING GEORGE V. WILL BE BURIED WITH HIS ANCESTORS—Airplane view of Windsor castle, near London, where the British ruler who died on Monday will be buried Tuesday in vault with his father, King Edward VII., and other British monarchs. The castle has been the chief residence of English sovereigns since the days of William the Conqueror. Its chapel was restored several years ago at a cost of $1,000,000.

WINDSOR CASTLE.

Soldiers of the United States, the people of the British Isles welcome you on your way to take your stand beside the Armies of many Nations now fighting in the Old World the great battle for human freedom.
The Allies will gain new heart
& spirit in your company.
I wish that I could shake the hand of each one of you & bid you God speed on your mission.

George R.I.

April 1918.
